AMENDMENT NO. 8

On page 4, between lines 3 and 4, insert the following:

"(2)(a) As soon as practical after the filing of the petition, the court shall review the petition and supporting documents and determine whether there exists probable cause to believe that the student is a danger to himself or others.

(b) If the court determines that probable cause exists:

(i) The court shall assign a time and place not later than seven calendar days thereafter for a hearing upon the petition and shall cause reasonable notice thereof to be given to the student, his attorney, and the petitioner. The notice shall inform the student that he has the right to be present at the hearing; the right to counsel; if indigent or otherwise qualified, the right to have counsel appointed to represent him; and the right to cross examine witnesses testifying at any hearing on such application.

(ii) The court may appoint the student's treating physician if available or, if not, then another physician, preferably a psychiatrist, to examine the student and make a written report to the court and the student's attorney.

(3) An examination order by the court pursuant to this Subsection shall be conducted as soon as practical, and the examining medical professional shall report to the court any conclusions reached as a result of the examination. The physician shall consider whether:

(a) The student is suffering from serious mental illness which causes him to be a danger to himself or others.

(b) The student's condition is likely to deteriorate unless he is provided appropriate medical treatment.

(c) The student's condition is likely to improve if he is provided appropriate medical treatment.

(4) The student or his attorney shall have the right to seek an additional independent medical opinion.

(5)(a) If the student refuses to be examined by the court-appointed physician or if the judge, after reviewing the petition and affidavit and the report of the treating physician or the court-appointed physician, finds that the student is a danger to himself or others, that he is mentally ill or suffering from substance abuse and in need of immediate hospitalization to protect himself or others from physical harm, or that his condition may be markedly worsened by delay, the court may issue a court order for custody of the student, and a peace officer shall deliver him to a treatment facility designated by the court.

(b) If the judge, after reviewing the petition and affidavit or the report of the treating physician or the court-appointed physician, finds that the student is not a danger to himself or others and is not in need of immediate hospitalization to protect himself or others from physical harm, the court may require that the student continue outpatient mental health treatment as a condition of the order. Such condition of outpatient mental health treatment shall be for a finite time that shall not exceed six months."
