"§738.1. Emergency powers may not be extended to violate religious liberty

A.(1) The legislature finds and declares that the emergency powers in this Chapter and the emergency powers in Chapter 9 of this Title were not intended to violate the religious liberty guaranteed in Article I, Section 8 of the Constitution of Louisiana and the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America.

(2) The legislature further finds and declares that in 1993, when the emergency powers were first enacted pursuant to this Chapter, the legislature stated with specificity in R.S. 29:736(D) that the emergency powers were never contemplated as powers which would be interpreted to diminish the rights guaranteed to all persons under the Declaration of Rights of the Louisiana Constitution or the Bill of Rights of the United States Constitution. Those same constitutional limitations were again reiterated by the legislature in R.S. 29:772 when it enacted the public health emergency powers in 2003. Article I, Section 8 of the Constitution of Louisiana is part of the Declaration of Rights and provides that no law shall be enacted respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.

(3) The legislature further finds that in addition to providing for the spiritual needs of individuals, churches and other religious organizations:

(a) Provide food, clothing, and household items to the poor and those in need due to hurricanes and other emergency disaster events.

(b) Conduct or facilitate addiction recovery meetings which decrease the number of suicides and drug overdoses in the community.

B. Nothing in this Chapter or in Chapter 9 of this Title shall authorize any government official, government agency, or other entity to utilize any emergency power to impose a criminal penalty including confining a person to the parish jail or other correctional facility, imposing a fine, or imposing any other monetary penalty under any of the following circumstances:

(1) Attending or conducting a church service or similar religious assembly.

(2) Providing or distributing food, clothing, or household items at a church or other religious facility to the poor or hungry or delivering those items to the needy.

(3) Conducting or attending an addiction recovery meeting at a church or other religious facility.

C. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, no natural or juridical person shall be liable for any criminal penalty, fine, or other monetary penalty and shall not be confined to the parish jail or other correctional facility for conducting any activity as provided in Subsection B of this Section during a declared state of emergency pursuant to this Chapter or Chapter 9 of this Title.

Section 2. The provisions of this Act are intended to clarify the provisions of the emergency powers provided by the Louisiana Homeland Security and Emergency Assistance and Disaster Act and the emergency powers provided by the Louisiana Health Emergency Powers Act. The provisions of this Act are interpretive as provided by Civil Code Article 6 and are therefore remedial in nature and shall apply to all actions, charges, or claims pending on or filed after the effective date of this Act."
