Art. 4607.1. Trial; judgment ordering sale

A. If any co-owner objects to the partition to be made at private sale for less than the appraised value of the property, the court shall allow the petitioner to amend its petition to plead for a sale for not less than appraised value. If the petitioning co-owner amends the petition, then the court shall order partition by private sale in accordance with the amended petition. The court shall consider the best interests of non-consenting co-owners. The court may grant any petition for private sale or may order partition by licitation.

C. A judgment ordering partition by private sale shall do all of the following:
