(1) The emergency medical services system (EMS) and hospitals and their emergency departments are critical components of Louisiana's emergency healthcare delivery system.

(2) Ambulances throughout the United States and in many other countries are experiencing significant delays in offloading patients into hospital emergency departments.

(3) The cause of the delay is multifaceted and may include factors such as high demand on emergency departments, hospital staffing challenges, hospital throughput procedures, and hospital administrative policies.

(4) Extended ambulance patient offload times are disruptive to the EMS system by taking the ambulance out of service and decreasing advanced life support services in the community, which increases healthcare costs and can back up the entire continuum of emergency healthcare.

(5) Hospitals and EMS personnel are all acting in the best interest of the patient and agree that providing the best possible patient care is the goal despite offload delay challenges.

(6) It is imperative that ambulance providers and hospitals collaborate to develop statewide, regional, or local plans to address the problem of ambulance patient offload delays.

B. (1) There is hereby created within the Louisiana Department of Health, bureau of emergency medical services, the Ambulance Patient Offload Delay Collaborative which shall analyze and develop solutions to the problem of ambulance patient offload delays.

(2) The bureau of emergency medical services shall facilitate discussions and meetings of a statewide collaborative to include the bureau, the Louisiana Hospital Association, the Louisiana Ambulance Alliance, and other appropriate stakeholders as considered necessary by the collaborative.

(3) The collaborative shall hold its first meeting on or before October 1, 2024, and shall meet as often as is necessary to fulfill the requirement of this Section.

(4) The collaborative shall be responsible for all of the following:

(a) Reviewing the Emergency Medical Treatment and Active Labor Act (EMTALA) to clearly understand the rights and responsibilities of ambulance service providers and hospitals.

(b) Collecting and reviewing currently available data from emergency medical services and hospitals concerning ambulance patient offload times.

(c) Developing a set of data collection guidelines and performance measures, as well as a standardized reporting process, to identify and track hospitals that exceed the established industry standards for patient offload delays. These standards should be based on best practices and prioritize patient welfare and safety.

(d) Exploring enacted legislation and best practices and policies in other states and countries that have been successful and promising in resolving or improving ambulance patient offload delays through processes that may be implemented locally or on a regional or statewide scale.

(e) Exploring and researching options for reducing demand on hospital emergency departments from individuals transported by ambulance services, specifically treatment-in-place ambulance services and ambulance transports to alternative destinations other than hospital emergency departments for low acuity patients utilizing the 911 system. Research shall include payment mechanisms and funding options for services provided to patients which reduce emergency department demands.

Comments - 2024

(a) The amendment to Paragraph B of this Article does not change the rule that the clerk of court has the authority to convert any pleading, document, or exhibit into an electronic record. Nevertheless, unless the court directs otherwise, any original document that has legal efficacy, such as a will, codicil, trust, promissory note, authentic act, affidavit, or exhibit that may necessitate a physical examination by the trier of fact to determine an issue, must be retained by the parties until a final and definitive judgment is rendered. The judgment of a trial court becomes final and definitive when no post-trial motions or appeals are taken from the judgment. The judgment of a court of appeal becomes final and definitive if neither an application to the court of appeal for rehearing nor an application to the supreme court for a writ of certiorari is timely filed. See Article 2166(A). If a writ of certiorari is granted by the supreme court, the judgment of the supreme court becomes final and definitive when the delay for application for rehearing has expired or the application is denied. See Article 2167(B) and (C).

(b) The amendment to Paragraph C of this Article clarifies that the clerk of court may convert into an electronic record any pleading, document, or exhibit that is filed in paper form. Even though the original document is converted into an electronic record, the original document may still be needed for examination at a hearing or trial.

(c) The amendment to Paragraph E of this Article is new and requires that the original of all documents and exhibits introduced or proffered into evidence, submitted with a petition for executory process, or filed in a summary judgment proceeding be retained by the clerk of court until the order or judgment becomes final and definitive, unless the court otherwise directs. This does not change the law pertaining to the destruction of documents after filing. See, e.g., R.S. 13:917, 1221, 1904, and 2562.26 relative to the destruction of useless records.
