

This map of Louisiana displays 30 numbered regions, each defined by a thick black outline. The regions are distributed across the state, with a high concentration in the western and central areas. The regions are numbered as follows: 1 (northwest), 2 (central-west), 3 (central-west), 4 (central-west), 5 (central-west), 6 (central-west), 7 (central-west), 8 (central-west), 9 (central-west), 10 (central-west), 11 (central-west), 12 (central-west), 13 (central-west), 14 (northeast), 15 (central-east), 16 (central-east), 17 (central-east), 18 (central-east), 19 (central-east), 20 (central-east), 21 (central-east), 22 (central-east), 23 (central-east), 24 (central-east), 25 (central-east), 26 (central-east), 27 (central-east), 28 (central-east), 29 (central-east), and 30 (central-east). The map also shows the boundaries of Louisiana's 64 parishes, with major parishes labeled: Caddo, Bossier, Webster, Claiborne, Union, Lincoln, Bienville, Red River, De Soto, Winn, Jackson, Madison, Franklin, Richland, Caldwel, Tensas, Natchitoches, Sabine, Grant, La Salle, Catahoula, Concordia, and Vernon. The map is a black and white line drawing with no shading or color.