

Representative Paula P. Davis

District 69 2019 Session Recap

The 2019 Regular Session is over. During the past four-year term, we completed 12 legislative sessions from the 2016 Organizational Session through the 2019 Regular Session. For perspective, we gained the invaluable equivalent experience of 12 years in office. Along the way, we worked to elect an independent Speaker of the House, resolve fiscal cliffs, and address infrastructure, criminal justice reform, medical coverages, higher education funding, personal and corporate income tax reform, and many other state and local issues of concern. For my part during the past four years, I have been the primary author on 37 bills (I've co-authored many more bills) and 23 of my bills have become law (and, by design, most of my bills have bipartisan co-authors).

At the insistence of some of my colleagues, we also spent time deciding whether the roadside sale of domestic rabbits should be prohibited, whether Louisiana should establish a "Go Fund Me" account to help raise money to pay for state services, whether to rename a portion of I-10 the "Who Dat Nation Highway" and whether citizens are intelligent enough to know the difference between milk and almond milk (or rice and cauliflower rice). Every day was without question a unique and tremendous experience serving District 69.

A significant number of the over 5,000 bills filed during the previous sessions were assigned by the Speaker of the House to my three committees: Insurance; Municipal, Parochial and Cultural Affairs; and Ways and Means. Each state representative has one legislative staff person who helps with both local office and legislative aide responsibilities. My wonderful Legislative Aide is Bonnie Kolb. Bonnie is a Certified Public Accountant, and an amazing mom and wife.

With thousands of bills filed and numerous other issues that come our way in the committees and on Joint Legislative Committee on Capital Outlay, Capital Region Legislative Delegation (Vice Chair), Louisiana Legislative Women's Caucus, Louisiana Republican Legislative Delegation, and Louisiana Sales Tax Streamlining and Modernization Commission, it would be a Herculean effort for just the two of us to conduct research, draft bills, and analyze the information flowing through our office. Thank goodness for House Legislative Services (HLS). HLS is comprised of professional and technical staff dedicated to providing the members of the Louisiana House of Representatives with the highest quality research, policy and budget analysis, bill drafting, and support services in a nonpartisan manner to assist the legislature in functioning as a coequal branch of government. The nonpartisan information provided by HLS helps us properly digest and balance the information provided by constituents, advocacy groups and lobbyists.

One of the convenient services provided by HLS is the "Session Wrap" at the end of each Session. A copy of the "Session Wrap 2019 Regular Session" prepared by HLS is attached, which outlines many of the bills that completed the recent legislative process. To read more about HLS and obtain their legislative publications, please visit http://house.louisiana.gov/H_Staff/HLS.aspx.

Another solid source of information is the Public Affairs Research Council of Louisiana (PAR), a non-partisan, non-profit organization founded in 1950. PAR prepares reports on a variety of issues and one of their most recent is the "2019 Legislative Wrap-Up." http://parlouisiana.org/

PARs "Wrap-Up" is a fair and constructive evaluation of the most recent session. It is accurate to report that through a lot of hard work, negotiations and collaboration during the 2018 Third Extraordinary Session, we were able to establish a more stable budget outlook and prevent mid-year budget cuts. We stopped the practice enjoyed by previous governors and legislatures of raiding the state's rainy-day fund and using short-term gimmicks to balance the budget. We put an end to those bad practices and are working with real budget numbers now.

The budget is about 1.6% larger than last year's budget, despite what has been described as likely the most conservative House Appropriations committee in the history of the legislature. Further, a fiscally prudent House effort to appropriate only 98% of the forecasted/estimated budget funds was rejected by the Senate. Some notable appropriations for education include $23 million more in state funding for higher education; a $1,000 pay raise for classroom teachers and a $500 pay raise for educational support personnel; $20 million for early childhood care and education; and TOPS was fully funded.

We have more work to do on budgeting, corporate and individual income tax reform, and streamlining of the state's sales and use tax structure. The House worked very hard to pass several reform bills but the Senate killed virtually every tax and budget reform effort over the past four years.

The independent House has also attempted to address the upcoming budget challenge created by the Governor's Medicaid expansion, but the House's efforts have been rejected by the Senate. Healthcare is very important but we must develop a better, more cost-effective approach other than the current path that has the potential to bankrupt the state. Starting in 2020, Louisiana must increase its federal match for the Medicaid expansion from 7% to 10%. This means the state must either come up with more money to fund the Medicaid expansion, cut the budget in other areas or come up with an appropriate alternative plan to sustain the insatiable growth of this public healthcare program.

In other events, talk about an interesting scheduling conflict. I was excited to receive an invitation to attend a Tuesday, May 14 luncheon with First Lady Melania Trump in Washington, D.C. About a week before the luncheon, I was honored to receive a call from the White House inviting me to greet Air Force One and President Donald Trump at Louis Armstrong New Orleans International Airport ... on Tuesday, May 14. With gracious understanding, the First Lady deferred to the "Leader of the Free World." When Air Force One was landing, I let out an audible "wow." The official White House staff standing with me smiled and said, "it never gets old." Official White House Photo by Shealah Craighead.

During the session, my seatmate, Rep. Stephanie Hilferty (R – New Orleans), and I visited with U.S. Congressman Steve Scalise at the Capitol, where he served as a state representative from 1996-2008. As he did in the state legislature and now as House Republican Whip (the second highest position in House Republican leadership), I appreciate how Congressman Scalise is effective at working with Republican and Democrat colleagues in Washington, D.C., to pass legislation and move policy discussions forward on issues important to Louisiana.

Finally, I have always been curious about attempting skydiving, but the moment had never really presented itself until I was moved by a recent story about a 97-year-old Army who marked veteran the anniversary of the June 6 D-Day military operations in Normandy by jumping out of a perfectly good airplane. Tom Rice of San Diego was a 22-year-old member of the U.S. Army's 101st Airborne Division's 501st Parachute Infantry Regiment when he was dropped into enemy territory 75 years ago on a mission to capture strategic infrastructure to safeguard the D-Day beach invasion. My brother Frank and his girlfriend Jourdan avid skydivers - coordinated a Father's Day trip to Skydive Spaceland outside of Houston that we will never forget.

Thank you for allowing me to serve you at the Capitol during the past four years. Your feedback and support have been invaluable and appreciated.

Have a wonderful and safe Summer, enjoy the company of others, and please stay in touch with us and keep sending us your thoughts and suggestions.
