bourne, Landry, Martin, Ourso, Sandoz, Tate and Vesich (A Substitute for Committee Proposal No. 6) A PROPOSAL

Making provisions for the judiciary branch of government and necessary provisions with respect thereto. Be it adopted by the Constitutional Convention of Louisiana of 1973:

ARTICLE V. JUDICIAL BRANCH

Section 1. Judicial Power

Section 1. The judicial power shall be vested in a supreme court, courts of appeal, district courts, and other courts authorized by this constitution.

Section 2. Habeas Corpus, Needful Writs, Orders and Pro-

Section 2. A judge may issue writs of habeas corpus and all other needful writs, orders and process in aid of the jurisdiction of his court. Exercise of this authority by a judge of the supreme court or court of appeal is subject to review by the whole court. The power to punish for contempt of court shall be limited by law.

Section 3. Supreme Court; Composition; Judgments; Terms Section 3. The supreme court shall be composed of a chief justice and six associate justices, four of whom must concur to render judgment. The term of a judge of the supreme court shall be ten years.

Section 4. Supreme Court; Districts

Section 4. The state shall be divided into at least six supreme court districts, with at least one judge elected from each. The present districts and the number of judges assigned to each are retained, subject to change by a two-thirds vote of the elected members of each house of the legislature.

Section 5. Supreme Court; Supervisory, Original, and Appellate Jurisdiction; Rule-Making Power; Assignment of Section 5. (A) The supreme court has general supervisory jurisdiction over all other courts. It may establish procedural and administrative rules not in conflict with law. It may assign a sitting or retired judge to any court.

(B) The supreme court has exclusive original jurisdiction of disciplinary proceedings against members of the bar.

(C) Except as otherwise provided in this constitution, the supreme court's jurisdiction in civil cases extends to both the law and the facts. In criminal matters, its appellate jurisdiction extends only to questions of law.

(D) In addition to appeals provided for elsewhere in this constitution, the following cases shall be appealable to the supreme court:

(1) A case in which a law or ordinance has been declared unconstitutional;

(2) Cases in which the defendant has been convicted of a felony or in which a fine exceeding five hundred dollars or imprisonment exceeding six months has been actually

(E) Subject to the provisions of Paragraph (C), the supreme court has appellate jurisdiction over all issues involved in any civil action properly before it.

(F) In all criminal cases not provided for in subsection (D) (2) of this Section an accused shall have a right of appeal or review, as provided by law.
Section 6. Supreme Court; the Chief Justice

Section 6. (A) When a vacancy in the office of chief justice occurs, the judge oldest in point of service on the court, shall succeed to the office.

(B) The chief justice is the chief administrative officer of the judicial system of the state, subject to rules adopted by the court.

Section 7. Supreme Court; Judicial Administrator, Clerks and Staff

Section 7. The supreme court has authority to select a judicial administrator, its clerks, and other personnel, and prescribe their duties.

Section 8. Courts of Appeal; Panels; Number Necessary to Decision; Terms Section 8. The state shall be divided into at least four circuits, with one court of appeal in each circuit. Each court shall sit in panels of at least three judges selected according to rules adopted by the court. A majority of the judges sitting in a case must concur to render judgment. However, when the judgment of the district court is to be modified or reversed, and one judge dissents, the case shall be reargued, before a panel of at least five judges, prior to rendition of judgment, and a majority must concur to render judgment.

38th Days Proceedings—August 29, 1973

Section 9. Courts of Appeal; Circuits and Districts Section 9. Each circuit shall be divided into at least three districts, with at least one judge elected from each. After January 1, 1975, no judge shall be elected at large from within the circuit. The present circuits and districts and the number of judges as elected in each circuit are retained, subject to change by two-thirds vote of the elected members in each house of the legislature.

Section 10. Courts of Appeal; Appellate and Supervisory

Jurisdiction

Section 10. (A) Except in those cases appealable to the supreme court and as otherwise provided in this constitution, a court of appeal has appellate jurisdiction of all civil cases decided within its circuit. It has appellate jurisdiction of all matters appealed from the family and juvenile courts, except criminal prosecutions of persons other than juveniles. It has supervisory jurisdiction over all cases in which an appeal would lie to that court.

(B) Except as limited to questions of law by this constitution or as provided by law in the case of review of administrative agency determinations, its appellate jurisdiction extends to law and facts.

Section 11. Courts of Appeal; Certification to Supreme Court; Determination

Section 11. A court of appeal may certify any question of law before it to the supreme court, whereupon the supreme court may give its binding instruction, or consider and decide the case upon the whole record.

Section 12. Courts of Appeal; Chief Judge; Duties Section 12. There shall be a chief judge of each court of appeal who shall be the judge oldest in point of service on the court and who shall administer the court subject to rules adopted by the court.

Section 13. Courts of Appeal; Clerks and Staff Section 13. Each court of appeal has authority to select its clerk and other personnel and prescribe their duties.

Section 14. District Courts; Judicial Districts Section 14. The state shall be divided into judicial districts; each composed of one or more parishes and served by one or more district judges.

Section 15, Courts; Continued; Jurisdiction; Judicial Districts Changes; Terms

Section 15. (A) The district, parish, magistrate, city, family, and juvenile courts existing at the time of the adoption of this constitution are retained. The legislature may abolish or merge trial courts of limited or specialized jurisdiction subject to the limitations in Sections 16 and 21 of this Article. The legislature may establish trial courts of limited jurisdiction which shall have parish wide territorial jurisdiction and subject matter jurisdiction which shall be uniform throughout the state. The office of city marshal is continued until such time as the city court he serves is abolished by the legislature.

(B) The judicial districts existing at the time of the adoption of this constitution are retained. The legislature, by a majority vote of the elected members of each house, with approval in a referendum in each district and parish affected, may establish, divide, or merge judicial districts, subject to the limitations of Section 21 of this Article.

(C) The term of a district and parish judges shall be six

(D) The legislature may increase or decrease the number of judges in any judicial district by a two-thirds vote of the elected membership of each house.

Section 15.1. City Court Judges; Terms

Section 15.1. A judge of a city court shall be elected for the same term as a district court judge.

Section 16. District Courts; Original Jurisdiction

Section 16. (A) Unless otherwise authorized by this constitution, a district court shall have original jurisdiction in all civil and criminal matters. It shall have exclusive original jurisdiction: of felony cases and of cases involving: the title to immovable property; the right to office or other public position; civil or political rights; probate and succession matters; the state, a political corporation, or a succession, as a party defendant, regardless of the amount in dispute; and the appointment of receivers or liquidators to corporations or partnerships.

(B) A district court shall have appellate jurisdiction as provided by law.

Section 17. District Courts; Chief Judge

Section 17. Each district court shall elect from its members a chief judge who shall exercise, for the term designated by the court, the administrative functions as prescribed by rule of court.

Section 18. Juvenile Courts: Jurisdiction

Section 18. Notwithstanding any provision of this Article to the contrary, the juvenile and family courts shall have such jurisdiction as the legislature shall provide by law.

Section 19. Mayors' Courts; Justices of the Peace; Continued

Section 19. Mayors' courts and justice of the peace courts existing at the time of the adoption of this constitution are continued subject to change by the legislature.

Section 21. Judges; Term of Office or Compensation May

Not Be Decreased

Section 21. No judge's term of office or compensation shall be decreased during the term for which he is elected. Section 22. Judges; Election; Vacancy in Office

Section 22. (A) Except as otherwise provided in this Section all judges shall be elected. Election of judges shall be at the regular congressional election.

(B) A newly-created judgeship or a vacancy in the office of any judge shall be filled by a special election which shall be called by the governor, and held within six months of the day on which the vacancy occurs or the judgeship is established, except when the vacancy occurs in the last six months of an existing term. Until the vacancy is filled, the supreme court shall appoint a person meeting the qualifications other than domicile for the office, to serve at its pleasure, who shall be ineligible as a candidate for election to the judgeship at the election to fill the vacancy or the newly created judicial office. For service as an appointed judge, the person appointed to fill the vacancy, other than a retired judge, shall not be eligible for retirement benefits provided for the elected judiciary.

(C) A judge serving on the date of adoption of this constitution shall continue in office for the term to which elected and shall serve through December thirty-first of the last year of his term or, if the last year of his term is not in the even-numbered year of a regular congressional election, then through December thirty-first of the following year. The election for the next term in the office will be held in the year in which the term expires as provided above.

Section 23. Retirement of Judges

Section 23. (A) Within two years after the effective date of this constitution, the legislature shall provide for a retirement system for judges which shall apply to a judge taking office after the effective date of the statute enacting the system and to which a judge in office at the time of its adoption may elect to join with credit for all prior years of judicial service without contribution therefor; provided, however, a judge in office or retired at the time of adoption of this constitution, shall not have diminished any retirement benefits or judicial service rights, nor shall the benefits to which his surviving spouse is entitled, be reduced.

(B) A judge shall not remain in office beyond his seventieth birthday, except as otherwise provided in this Section.

Section 24. Judges; Qualifications; Practice of Law Prohibited

Section 24. A judge of the supreme court, court of appeal, district court, family court, parish court, or court having solely juvenile jurisdiction shall have been admitted to the practice of law in this state for at least five years prior to his election, shall have been domiciled in the respective district, circuit, or parish for at least two years immediately preceding election, and shall not practice law.

Section 25. Judiciary Commission; Composition; Terms;

Vacancy; Grounds for Removal; Powers

Section 25. (A) The Judiciary Commission shall consist of one court of appeal judge and two district court judges selected by the supreme court; two attorneys admitted to the practice of law for at least ten years and one attorney admitted to the practice of law for at least three years but not more than ten years who are not judges, active or retired, nor public officials other than notaries public, selected by the Louisiana Conference of Court of Appeal Judges' Association or its successor; and three citizens, not lawyers, judges active or retired, nor public officials, ap38th Days Proceedings—August 29, 1973 pointed by the Lcuisiana District Judges' Association or its

(B) A member of the commission shall serve a four-year term and shall not be eligible to succeed himself.

(C) A member's term shall terminate when he loses the status causing his appointment or when any event occurs which would have made him ineligible for appointment.

(D) When a vacnacy occurs, a successor shall be appointed for a four-year term by the authority which appointed his predecessor.

(E) On recommendation of the Judiciary Commission, the supreme court may censure, suspend with or without salary, remove from office, or retire involuntarily a judge for willful misconduct relating to his official duty, willful and persistent failure to perform his duty, persistent and public conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice that brings the judicial office into disrepute, conduct while in office which would constitute a felony, or conviction of a felony. On recommendation of the Judiciary Commission, the supreme court may disqualify a judge from exercising any judicial function, without loss of salary, during the pendency of the proceedings in the supreme court. On recommendation of the Judiciary Commission, the supreme court may retire involuntarily a judge for disability that seriously interferes with the performance of his duties and that is, or is likely to become, of a permanent character. The supreme court shall make rules implementing this section and providing for confidentiality and privilege of commission proceedings.

(F) Action against a judge under this Section shall not preclude disciplinary action against him with respect to his license to practice law.

Section 26. Department of Justice; Composition; Attorney

General; Election and Assistants

Section 26. There shall be a department of justice consisting of an attorney general, a first assistant attorney general, and other necessary assistants and staff. The attorney general shall be elected for a term of four years at the state general election, and the assistants shall be appointed by the attorney general to serve at his pleasure.

Section 27. Attorney General; Powers and Duties; Va-

Section 27. (A) The attorney general shall be the state's chief legal officer. As may be necessary for the assertion or protection of the rights and interests of the state, the attorney general shall have authority to:

(I) institute and presecute or intervene in any civil actions or proceedings;

(2) advise and assist, upon request of a district attorney, in the prosecution of a criminal case; and

(3) for cause when authorized by the court of original jurisdiction in which any proceeding or affidavit is pending, subject to judicial review, supercede any attorney representing the state in any civil or criminal action.

He shall have such other powers and perform such other duties as may be authorized by this constitution or provided by statute.

Section 28. District Attorney; Election; Qualifications; Assistants

Section 28. In each judicial district a district attorney shall be elected by the qualified electors of the district for a term of six years. He shall have been admitted to the practice of law in the state for at least five years prior to his election and shall have resided in the district for the two years immediately preceding election. A district attorney may select such assistants as may be authorized by law and other personnel.

Section 29. Defense of Criminal Prosecution; Removal Section 29. No district attorney or assistant district attorney shall appear, plead or in any way defend, or assist in defending any criminal prosecution or charge. A violation shall be cause for removal.

Section 30. Sheriff; Duties; Tax Collector

Section 30. In each parish, a sheriff shall be elected for a term of four years. He shall be the chief law enforcement officer in the parish, except as otherwise provided by this constitution, and shall execute court orders and process. taxes and such other taxes and licenses as provided by law. This section shall not apply to the parish of Orleans. Section 31. Clerks; Elections; Powers and Duties; Deputies: Office Hours

Section 31. (A) In each parish, a clerk of the district court shall be elected by the qualified electors of the parish for a term of four years. He shall be ex officio notary public and parish recorder of conveyances, mortgages, and other acts and shall have such other duties and powers as may be prescribed by law. The clerk may appoint deputies with such duties and powers as may be prescribed by law and he may appoint, with the approval of the district judges, minute clerks with such duties and powers as may be prescribed by law.

(B) The legislature shall establish statewide uniform office hours for all clerks of district courts.

Section 32. Coroner; Election; Term; Qualifications; Du-

Section 32. In each parish, a coroner shall be elected for a term of four years. He shall be a licensed physician and possess such other qualifications and perform such duties as are provided by law; however, the requirement that he be a licensed physician shall not apply to any parish in which there is no licensed physician who will accept the office.

Section 33. Vacancies Section 33. When a vacancy occurs in the following offices, the duties of the office, until it is filled by election as provided by law, shall be assumed by: in the case of sheriff, the chief criminal deputy; district attorney, the first assistant; clerk of a district court, the chief deputy; coroner, the chief deputy. If there is no such person to assume the duties at the time of the vacancy, the governing authority or authorities of the parish or parishes concerned shall appoint a qualified person to assume the duties of the office until filled by election.

Section 34, Reduction of Salaries and Benefits Prohib-

Section 34. No attorney general, judge, district attorney, sheriff, coroner, or clerk of the district court shall have his salary or retirement benefits diminished during his term of office.

Section 35. Orleans Parish Courts, Officials; Continued Section 35. Except for provisions relating to terms of office as provided elsewhere in this Article and notwithstanding any other provision of this constitution to the contrary, the following courts and officers in Orleans Parish are continued, subject to change by a vote of a majority of the elected members of each house of the legislature: the civil and criminal district courts, the city, municipal, traffic and juvenile courts, the clerks of the civil and criminal district courts, the civil and criminal sheriffs, the constables and the clerks of the first and second city courts, the register of conveyances, and the recorder of mortgages.

Section 36. Jurors; Qualifications; Exemptions

Section 36. (A) A citizen of the state, who is domiciled within the parish in which he is to serve as a juror and who has reached the age of majority, is eligible to serve as a juror. The legislature may provide additional qualifications.
(B) The supreme court by rule shall provide for exemption of jurors.

Section 37. Grand Jury Section 37. (A) There shall be a grand jury or grand juries in each parish whose qualifications, duties and responsibilities shall be provided by law. The secrecy of the proceedings, including the identity of the witnesses appearing, shall be provided for by law.

(B) Except as otherwise provided in this constitution, a district attorney, or his designated assistant, shall have charge of every criminal prosecution by the state in his district, shall be the representative of the state in his district before the grand jury, and its legal advisor. He shall perform such other duties as may be provided by law.

(C) At all stages of grand jury proceedings, anyone testifying in such proceedings shall have the right to the advice of counsel while testifying.

Respectfully submitted, MOISE W. DENNERY Secretary.

Under the Rules, referred to the Committee on Style and Drafting.

Proposals Delegate and Committee Resumed

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 25-

Introduced by Delegate A. Jackson, Chairman, Committee on Bill of Rights and Elections (Substitute for Committee Proposal No. 2, by Delegate A. Jackson, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Bill of Rights and Elections, and Delegates Dunlap, Guarisco, Jenkins, Roy, Soniat, Stinson, Vick, Wall and Weiss):

Read.

Section 4. Right to Property

Section 4. Every person has the right to acquire by voluntary means, to own, to control, to enjoy, to protect, and to dispose of private property. This right is subject to the reasonable exercise of the police power and to the law of forced heirship. Property shall not be taken or damaged except for a public and necessary purpose and with just compensation paid to the owner or into court for his benefit. The owner shall be compensated to the full extent of his loss and has the right to a trial by jury to determine such compensation. No business enterprise or any of its assets shall be taken for the purpose of operating that enterprise or for the purpose of halting competition with government enterprises, and personal effects, other than contraband, shall never be taken. The issue of whether the contemplated purpose be public and necessary shall be a judicial question, and determined as such without regard to any legislative assertion.

Read.

Delegate Conroy sent up floor amendments, which were read as follows:

The Honorable E. L. Henry, Chairman Constitutional Convention of 1973 State of Louisiana State Capitol Baton Rouge, Louisiana 70804

Re: Constitutional Convention

Dear "Bubba":

My conception of the Constitutional Convention was that we would meet one to two days a week, or at the most, five or six days a month. It did not occur to me that we would have to meet four days a week or better, from July 1973 through December of this year. My daily schedule, including my business, my legislative work, my personal life and my civic life is such that I can only give the Constitutional Convention about 50% of the time that it requires.

The substantive committee on which I serve is the Legislative Powers and Functions. This committee report was the first adopted in early July.

The procedural committee which I chair is Legislative Liaison and Transitional Measures, which completed Committee Resolution No. 11, which lies on the Clerk's desk for final action by the Convention at the first given opportunity.

The above should complete my committee work.

After due deliberation, I have come to the conclusion that I have no alternative but to resign from the C.C. '73 effective at the end of the day's work on September 6, 1973. I regret that it is necessary for me to take this action.

May I take this opportunity to wish 100% success for the efforts of the Constitutional Convention of 1973. If, in the future, I can be of any assistance, it would be my pleasure to cooperate with the convention for a successful conclusion.

Sincerely,

EDWARD F. LeBRETON, JR.

Unfinished Business

The following unfinished business in which the Convention was engaged at the time of its adjournment on yesterday was taken up and acted on:

Proposals Delegate and Committee

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 25-

Introduced by Delegate A. Jackson, Chairman, Committee on Bill of Rights and Elections (Substitute for Committee Proposal No. 2, by Delegate A. Jackson, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Bill of Rights and Elections, and Delegates Dunlap, Guarisco, Jenkins, Roy, Soniat, Stinson, Vick, Wall and Weiss):

A PROPOSAL

To provide a preamble and a declaration of rights to the constitution.

Read.

The chairman announced that the Convention had under consideration Committee Proposal No. 25 when it adjourned on Friday, September 7, 1973, which was taken up and acted upon as follows:

Section 16. Trial by Jury in Criminal Cases

Section 16. Any person charged with an offense or set of offenses punishable by imprisonment of more than six months may demand a trial by jury. In cases involving a crime necessarily punishable by hard labor, the jury shall consist of twelve persons, all of whom must concur to render a verdict in capital cases or cases in which no parole or probation is permitted, and ten of whom must agree in others. In cases not necessarily punishable by hard labor, the jury may consist of a smaller number of persons, all of whom must concur to render a verdict. The accused shall have the right to voir dire and to challenge jurors peremptorily.

Read.

On motion of Delegate A. Jackson action on the above Section was deferred at this time.

Section 17. Right to Bail

Section 17. Excessive bail shall not be required. Before and during a trial, a person shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless charged with a capital offense and the proof is evident and the presumption is great. After conviction and before sentencing, a person shall be bailable if the maximum sentence which may be imposed is less than five years, and the judge may grant bail if the maximum sentence which may be imposed is greater. After sentencing and until final judgment, persons shall be bailable if the sentence actually imposed is less than five years, and the judge may grant bail if the sentence actually imposed is greater.

Read.

Delegate Gravel sent up a floor amendment, which was read as follows:

Motion

On motion of Delegate Lanier, the Convention altered the Order of Business to take up Committee Proposal No. 25, Section 16, at this time.

Section 16. Trial by Jury in Criminal Cases

Section 16. Any person charged with an offense or set of offenses punishable by imprisonment of more than six months may demand a trial by jury. In cases involving a crime necessarily punishable by hard labor, the jury shall consist of twelve persons, all of whom must concur to render a verdict in capital cases or cases in which no parole or probation is permitted, and ten of whom must agree in others. In cases not necessarily punishable by hard labor, the jury may consist of a smaller number of persons, all of whom must concur to render a verdict. The accused shall have the right to voir dire and to challenge jurors peremptorily.

Read.

The above Section upon which action was deferred on Saturday, September 8, 1973, was taken up and acted upon as follows:

Delegate Lanier sent up a floor amendment, which was read as follows:

FLOOR AMENDMENT

Amendment proposed by Delegates Lanier, Bergeron, Mr. Chairman, Abraham, Aertker, Alario, Alexander, Anzalone, Wattigny, Arnette, Avant, Badeaux, Bollinger, Brien, Burns, Burson, Champagne, Chatelain, Chehardy, Conino, Conroy, Cowen, D'Gerolamo, Dunlap, Duval, Flory, Fontenot, Gauthier, Grier, Hardee, Hernandez, Jack, Juneau, Kean, Kilpatrick, A. Jackson, et al.

Amend reprinted as engrossed Proposal as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1-

On page 5, delete lines 15 through 26 both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 16. Criminal cases in which the punishment may be capital shall be tried before a jury of twelve persons, all of whom must concur to render a verdict; cases in which the punishment is necessarily confinement at hard labor shall be tried before a jury of twelve persons, ten of whom must concur to render a verdict. Cases in which the punishment may be confinement at hard labor or confinement without hard labor of more than six months, shall be tried before a jury of six persons, five of whom must concur to render a verdict. Except in capital cases, a defendant may knowingly and intelligently waive his right to a trial by jury. In all criminal prosecutions tried by a jury the accused shall have the right to full voir dire examination of prospective jurors and to challenge jurors peremptorily. The number of challenges shall be fixed by law."

"Section 4. Right to Property

Section 4. Every person has the right to acquire, control, own, use, enjoy, protect, and dispose of private property. This right is subject to reasonable statutory restrictions and the reasonable exercise of the police power. Property shall not be taken or damaged by the state or its political subdivisions except for public purposes and with just compensation paid to the owner or into court for his benefit. Property shall not be taken or damaged by any private entity authorized by law to expropriate property, except for a public and necessary purpose and with just compensation paid to the owner and, in such proceedings, the issue of whether the purpose is public and necessary shall be a judicial question. In all expropriations, any party shall have the right to trial by jury to determine compensation and the owner shall be compensated to the full extent of his loss. No business enterprise or any of its assets shall be taken for the purpose of operating that enterprise or for the purpose of halting competition with government enterprises, except that municipalities may expropriate utilities within their jurisdiction. Personal effects, other than contraband, shall never be taken. The provisions of this Section shall not apply to appropriation of property necessary for levee and levee drainage purposes."

Point of Order

Delegate Burson asked for a ruling of the Chair as to whether the motion for the previous question on the entire subject matter would have the effect, if carried, of precluding consideration of amendments proposing the addition of new Sections which were prepared and at the desk, but not introduced.

Ruling of the Chair

The Chair ruled that the effect of the motion for the previous question on the entire subject matter, if carried, would be to bring the Convention to vote directly on the final passage of the proposal as there were no pending subsidiary motions as amendments which were introduced, and as a result amendments prepared but not introduced would be precluded from consideration.

Appeal

Delegate Burson appealed the ruling of the Chair.

The question was put, in accordance with the rules, to sustain the ruling of the Chair.

And, by a vote of 78 yeas and 32 nays, the Chair was sustained.

Delegate Juneau insisted upon his motion to order the previous question.

On motion of Delegate Abraham, the Convention altered the Order of Business to take up other orders of Business at this time.

Delegate Dennery, Secretary of the Constitutional Convention of 1973, submits the following report:

> Constitutional Convention of 1973 State of Louisiana

> > September 15, 1973, Baton Rouge, La.

To the Chairman and Delegates of the Convention:

I submit the following report:

That the following entitled Committee Resolution having been finally adopted by the Convention has been properly enrolled in final form:

COMMITTEE RESOLUTION No. II-

Introduced by Delegate LeBreton, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Legislative Liaison and Transitional Measures, and Delegate Henry, Chairman, on behalf of the Coordinating Committee, and Delegates Aertker, Blair, Casey, Dennis, D'Gerolamo, Drew, Fayard, Hardee, A. Jackson, J. Jackson, Lambert, Lanier, LeBleu, Lennox, Miller, Munson, Perez, Rayburn, Smith, Stagg, Thompson, Vick, Womack, and Zervigon:

A RESOLUTION

To recommend categories for the orderly transition of material from the Louisiana Constitution of 1921. WHEREAS, the official rules of this convention contemplate that the Coordinating Committee shall assure that all provisions of the Constitution of 1921, as amended, be considered by at least one substantive committee; and

WHEREAS, said rules vest in the Committee on Legislative Liaison and Transitional Measures jurisdiction over matters of transition of subject matter from the constitution to appropriate law; and

WHEREAS, the members of these committees have studied various methods of transposition and the coordination of transition procedures with the substantive committees and after deliberation recommend that the convention immediately establish categories into which subject matter can be placed in order to facilitate the work and deliberations of the convention.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that each of the eight substantive committees, of the Constitutional Convention of Louisiana of 1973, in its deliberations, shall divide the material within its jurisdiction into the following categories:

- 1. Articles and sections of the proposed new constitution. 2. Provisions of the 1921 Constitution to be made statutory, but subject to legislative change only by a super majority vote.
- 3. Provisions of the 1921 Constitution to be made statutory and subject to legislative change by the usual majority vote.
- 4. Provisions of the proposed new constitution which require new legislation for implementation.

5. Material which is obsolete or unnecessary. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that each committee, through its chairman, submit a written report containing its division of material into the categories herein enumerated to the convention not later than November 2, 1973.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this Resolution shall be transmitted without delay to the chairman of each of the substantive committees of this convention.

Respectfully submitted,

MOISE W. DENNERY Secretary.

The Resolutions contained in the report were signed by the Chairman of the Convention and attested by the Secretary in accordance with the Rules.

Mr. Dennery, Secretary of the Constitutional Convention of 1973, submits the following report:

> Constitutional Convention of 1973 State of Louisiana

> > September 15, 1973, Baton Rouge, La.

To the Chairman and Delegates of the Convention:

I submit the following report:

That the following entitled Delegate Resolutions having been finally adopted by the Convention have been properly enrolled in final form:

DELEGATE RESOLUTION No. 39-

Introduced by Delegate Zervigon:

A RESOLUTION

To amend Rule No. 78 of the Standing Rules of the Constitutional Convention to provide that delegates not voting, rather than absentees, shall be listed separately. BE IT RESOLVED that Rule No. 78 of the Standing

Rules of the Constitutional Convention is hereby amended and readopted to read as follows:

Rule No. 78. Voting after Decision is Announced. When the Yeas and Nays are taken on any question, no delegate shall be permitted, under any circumstances whatever, to vote after the decision has been announced by the chairman. On all calls of the Yeas and Nays the names of delegates not voting shall be placed on a separate list.

DELEGATE RESOLUTION No. 40-

Introduced by Delegate Casey:

A RESOLUTION

To amend and readopt Paragraph 2 of Rule Number 50 of the Standing Rules of the Constitutional Convention to require that the recommendations of the Committee on Style and Drafting on proposals adopted be submitted to the substantive committee involved prior to report to the convention.

BE IT RESOLVED that Paragraph 2 of Rule Number 50

48th Day's Proceedings—September 15, 1973

of the Standing Rules of the Constitutional Convention is hereby amended and readopted to read as follows:

"2. Committee on Style and Drafting, which shall have control over literary style, consistency, arrangement, and numbering. The committee shall have authority to rephrase or to regroup proposed language, but shall have no authority to change the sense or purpose of any proposal referred to it; where a proposal referred to it is inconsistent or in conflict with a proposal already acted on favorably by the convention, the committee shall at the third reading (Rule 44 (H)) notify the convention of that inconsistency or conflict and wait upon its instructions.

Prior to returning to the convention, with its report thereon, any finally adopted proposal referred to it, the Committee on Style and Drafting shall submit its proposed report to the substantive committee having jurisdiction over the subject matter. Within five days after such submission, the substantive committee may make any recommendations and comments to the Committee on Style and Drafting it deems necessary. If recommendations or comments are so made, the Committee on Style and Drafting shall consider them prior to reporting the proposal to the convention."

Respectfully submitted,

MOISE W. DENNERY Secretary

The Resolutions contained in the report were signed by the Chairman of the Convention and attested by the Secretary in accordance with the Rules.

Delegate Dennery, Secretary of the Constitutional Convention of 1973, submits the following report:

> Constitutional Convention of 1973 State of Louisiana

To the Chairman and Delegates of the Convention:

I submit the following report:

That the following Committee Proposal has been properly enrolled:

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 25-

Introduced by Delegate Jackson, Chairman, Committee on Bill of Rights and Elections (Substitute for Committee Proposal No. 2, by Delegate Jackson, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Bill of Rights and Elections, and Delegates Dunlap, Guarisco, Jenkins, Roy, Soniat, Stinson, Vick, Wall and Weiss)

A PROPOSAL

To provide a preamble and a declaration of rights to the constitution.

Be it adopted by the Constitutional Convention of Louisiana of 1973:

A PREAMBLE

We, the people of Louisiana, grateful to Almighty God for the civil, political, economic, and religious liberties we enjoy, and desiring to protect individual rights to life, liberty, and property; afford opportunity for the fullest development of the individual; assure equality of rights; promote the health, safety, education, and welfare of the people; maintain a representative and orderly government; ensure domestic tranquility; provide for the common defense; and secure the blessings of freedom and justice to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution.

ARTICLE I. DECLARATION OF RIGHTS Section 1. Origin and Purpose of Government

Section 1. All government, of right, originates with the people, is founded on their will alone, and is instituted to protect the rights of the individual and for the good of the whole. Its only legitimate ends are to secure justice for all, preserve peace, protect the rights, and promote the happiness, and general welfare of the people. The rights enumbe preserved inviolate by the state.

Section 2. Due Process of Law

Section 2. No person shal be deprived of life, liberty or property, except by due process of law.

Section 3. Right to Individual Dignity

Section 3. No person shall be denied the equal protection of the law. No law shall discriminate against a person on account of race or religious ideas, religious beliefs, or religious affiliations. No law shall arbitrarily, capriciously, or unreasonably discriminate against any person by reason of birth, age, sex, culture, physical condition, political ideas or political affiliation. Slavery and involuntary servitude are prohibited, except in the latter case as a punishment for crime.

Section 4. Right to Property

Section 4. Every person has the right to acquire, control, own, use, enjoy, protect, and dispose of private property. This right is subject to reasonable statutory restrictions and the reasonable exercise of the police power. Property shall not be taken or damaged by the state or its political subdivisions except for public purposes and with just compensation paid to the owner or into court for his benefit. Property shall not be taken or damaged by any private entity authorized by law to expropriate property, except for a public and necessary purpose and with just compensation paid to the owner and, in such proceedings, the issue of whether the purpose is public and necessary shall be a judicial question. In all expropriations, any party shall have the right to trial by jury to determine compensation and the owner shall be compensated to the full extent of his loss. No business enterprise or any of its assets shall be taken for the purpose of operating that enterprise or for the purpose of halting competition with government enterprises, except that municipalities may expropriate utilities within their jurisdiction. Personal effects, other than contraband, shall never be taken. The provisions of this Section shall not apply to appropriation of property necessary for levee and levee drainage pur-

Section 5. Right to Privacy

Section 5. Every person shall be secure in his person, property, communications, houses, papers, and effects against unreasonable searches, seizures, or invasions of privacy. No warrant shall issue without probable cause supported by oath or affirmation particularly describing the place to be searched, the persons or things to be seized, and the lawful purpose or reason for the search. Any person adversely affected by a search or seizure conducted in violation of this Section shall have standing to raise the illegality of that search or seizure in the appropriate court of law.

Section 6. Freedom from Intrusion

Section 6. No person shall be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner or lawful occupant.

Section 9. Liberty of Speech and Freedom of the Press Section 9. No law shall ever be passed to curtail or restrain the liberty of speech or freedom of the press; any person may speak, write and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty or freedom.

Section 10. Freedom of Religion

Section 10. No law shall be enacted respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.

Section 11. Freedom of Assembly and Movement

Section 11. No law shall impair the right of every person to assemble peaceably or to petition government for a redress of grievances.

Section 12. Rights of the Accused

Section 12. When any person has been arrested or detained in connection with the investigation or commission of any offense, he shall be advised fully of the reason for his arrest or detention, his right to remain silent, his right against self incrimination, his right to the assistance of counsel and, to court appointed counsel, if indigent. In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation against him. At all stages of the proceedings, every person shall be entitled to assistance of counsel of his choice, or appointed by the court in indigent cases if charged with an offense punishable by imprisonment. The legislature shall provide for a uniform system for securing counsel for indigents, including qualifications and compensation.

No person shall be subjected to imprisonment or forfeiture of his rights or property without the right of judicial review erated in this Article are inalienable by the state and shall based upon a complete record of all evidence upon which such judgment is based. The cost of the transcription of such record shall be paid as provided by law. This right may be intelligently waived.

Section 13. Initiation of Prosecution

Section 13. Prosecution of felonies shall be initiated by indictment or information, provided that no person shall be held to answer for any capital crime or any crime punishable by life imprisonment, except on indictment by a grand jury. No person shall be twice placed in jeopardy for the same offense, except on his own application for a new trial or when a mistrial is declared or a motion in arrest of judgment is sustained.

Section 15. Fair Trial

Section 15. Every person charged with a crime shall be presumed innocent until proven guilty, and shall be entitled to a speedy, public, and impartial trial in the parish where the offense or an element of the offense occurred, unless venue be changed in accordance with law. No person shall be compelled to give evidence against himself. An accused shall be entitled to confront and cross-examine the witnesses against him, to compel the attendance of witnesses, to present a defense, and to testify in his own behalf.

Section 16. Trial by Jury in Criminal Cases

Section 16. Criminal cases in which the punishment may be capital shall be tried before a jury of twelve persons, all of whom must concur to render a verdict; cases in which the punishment is necessarily confinement at hard labor shall be tried before a jury of twelve persons, ten of whom must concur to render a verdict. Cases in which the punishment may be confinement at hard labor or confinement without hard labor of more than six months, shall be tried before a jury of six persons, five of whom must concur to render a verdict. Except in capital cases, a defendant may knowingly and intelligently waive his right to a trial by jury. In all criminal prosecutions tried by a jury the accused shall have the right to full voir dire examination of prospective jurors and to challenge jurors peremptorily. The number of challenges shall be fixed by law.

Section 17. Right to Bail Section 17. Excessive bail shall not be required. Before and during a trial, a person shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless charged with a capital offense and the proof is evident and the presumption of guilt is great. After conviction and before sentencing, a person shall be bailable if the maximum sentence which may be imposed is imprisonment of five years or less. The judge may grant bail if the maximum sentence which may be imposed is imprisonment in excess of five years. After sentencing and until final judgment, persons shall be bailable if the sentence actually imposed is five years or less and the judge in his discretion may grant bail if the sentence actually imposed is in excess of five years imprisonment.

Section 18. Right to Humane Treatment

Section 18. No law shall subject any person to euthanasia, torture, cruel, excessive, or unusual punishments. Full rights of citizenship shall be restored upon termination of state and federal supervision following conviction for any offense.

Section 19. Right to Vote

Section 19. Every citizen of the state, upon reaching eighteen years of age shall have the right to register and vote, except that this right may be suspended while a person is interdicted and judicially declared mentally incompetent, or under an order of imprisonment for conviction of a felony.

Section 20. Right to Keep and Bear Arms

Section 20. The right of each citizen to keep and bear arms shall not be abridged, but this provision shall not prevent the passage of laws to prohibit the carrying of weapons concealed on the person.

Section 21. Writ of Habeas Corpus

Section 21. The writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended.

Section 22. Access to Courts

Section 22. All courts shall be open, and every person shall have an adequate remedy by due process of law and iustice, administered without denial, partiality, or unreasonable delay for injury to him in his person, property, reputation, or other rights.

Section 23. Prohibited Laws

Section 23. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts shall be enacted.

Section 25. Unenumerated Rights

Section 25. The enumeration in this constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage other rights retained by the individual citizens of the state.

Section 26. Freedom from Discrimination

Section 26. In access to public areas, accommodations, and facilities every person shall have the right to be free from discrimination based on race, religion, or national ancestry and from arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable discrimination based on age, sex, or physical condition. Section 27. Right to Preliminary Examination

Section 27. In all felony cases, except those indicted by a grand jury, the right to a preliminary examination shall not be denied.

Respectfully submitted,

MOISE W. DENNERY Secretary

Under the Rules, referred to the Committee on Style and Drafting.

Section 7. Existing Home Rule Charters and Plans of Government of Parishes and Municipalities Ratified

Section 7. (A) The plans of government and home rule charters of the parishes of East Baton Rouge, Jefferson, and Plaquemines and of the cities of New Orleans, Baton Rouge, and Shreveport shall remain in effect, and may be amended, modified, or repealed as provided therein. Each of them shall retain the authority, powers, rights, privileges, and immunities granted by its charter. Each shall be subject to the duties imposed by the applicable constitutional provisions under which its plan or charter was adopted. Each of them also shall enjoy such additional powers and functions as are granted to local governmental subdivisions by provisions of this constitution, including Sections 8 and 9 of this Article, unless the exercise of such powers and performance of such functions is prohibited by its charter.

(B) Every other home rule charter adopted or authorized when this constitution is adopted shall remain in effect and may be amended, modified, or repealed as provided in the charter.

A PROPOSAL

Making general provisions for local and parochial government, levee districts, and ports, the financing thereof, and necessary provisions with respect thereto.

Read

Section 7. Existing Home Rule Charters and Plans of Government of Parishes and Municipalities Ratified

Section 7. (A) The plans of government and home rule charters of the parishes of East Baton Rouge, Jefferson, and Plaquemines and of the cities of New Orleans, Baton Rouge, and Shreveport shall remain in effect, and may be amended, modified, or repealed as provided therein. Each of them shall retain the authority, powers, rights, privileges, and immunities granted by its charter. Each shall be subject to the duties imposed by the applicable constitutional provisions under which its plan or charter was adopted. Each of them also shall enjoy such additional powers and functions as are granted to local governmental subdivisions by provisions of this constitution, including Sections 8 and 9 of this Article, unless the exercise of such powers and performance of such functions is prohibited by its charter.

(B) Every other home rule charter adopted or authorized when this constitution is adopted shall remain in effect and may be amended, modified, or repealed as provided in the charter.

Section 8. Home Rule Charter

Section 8. (A) Any local governmental subdivision may draft, adopt, or amend a charter of government to be known as a home rule charter in accordance with the provisions of this Section. The governing authority of any such local governmental subdivision may apoint a commission to prepare and propose a charter or alternate charter, or may call an election for the purpose of electing such a commission.

(B) The governing authority of any such local governmental subdivision shall call an election to elect a commission to prepare and propose a charter or alternate charter when presented with a petition signed by not less than fifteen percent of the electors, who live within the boundaries of the affected subdivision, as certified by the registrar of voters.

(C) A home rule charter shall be adopted when approved

(C) A home rule charter shall be adopted when approved by a majority of the electors who vote on the charter proposal at an election called for that purpose.

50th Days Proceedings—September 20, 1973

(D) Two or more local governmental subdivisions situated within the boundaries of one parish may avail themselves of the provisions of this Section, provided that a majority of the electors in each affected local governmental subdivision who vote in an election held for that purpose vote in favor thereof. The legislature shall provide for the method of appointment or election of a commission to prepare and pro-pose such a charter consistent with Paragraph (A) of this Section. However, at least one member of the commission shall be elected or appointed from each affected local governmental subdivision. The legislature shal provide the method by which the electors of more than one local governmental subdivision within the boundaries of one parish may petition for an election for such purpose consistent with Paragraph (B) of this Section.

(E) A home rule charter adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Section shall provide for the structure and organization, powers, and functions for the government of the local governmental subdivision, which may include the exercise of any power and performance of any function necessary, requisite, or proper for the management of its affairs, not denied by general law or this constitution. The legislature shall not pass any law the effect of which changes, modifies, or affects the structure and organization and/or the particular distribution and redistribution of the powers and functions of any local governmental subdivision which operates under a home rule, charter.

(F) A local governmental subdivision adopting a home rule charter under this Section shall also enjoy such additional powers and functions as are granted to local governmental subdivisions by other provisions of this constitution, including Section 9 of this Article, unless the exercise of such powers and performance of such functions is prohibited by its charter.

(G) The powers and functions of a parish or city school board and the offices of sheriff, clerk of the district court, coroner, or assessor shall not be affected by any provision of a home rule charter or plan of government adopted or amended under the provisions of this Section.

Section 8. Home Rule Charter

Section 8. (A) Any local governmental subdivision may draft, adopt, or amend a charter of government to be known as a home rule charter in accordance with the provisions of this Section. The governing authority of any such local governmental subdivision may appoint a commission to prepare and propose a charter, or may call an election for the purpose of electing such a commission.

(B) The governing authority of any such local governmental subdivision shall call an election to elect a commission to prepare and propose a charter or alternate charter when presented with a petition signed by not less than fifteen percent of the electors who live within the boundaries of the affected subdivision, as certified by the registrar of

(C) A home rule charter shall be adopted when approved by a majority of the electors who vote on the charter proposal at an election called for that purpose.

(D) Two or more local governmental subdivisions situated within the boundaries of one parish may avail themselves of the provisions of this Section, provided that a majority of the electors in each affected local governmental sub-division who vote in an election held for that purpose vote in favor thereof. The legislature shall provide for the method of appointment or election of a commission to prepare and propose such a charter consistent with Paragraph (A) of this Section. However, at least one member of the commission shall be elected or appointed from each affected local governmental subdivision. The legislature shall provide the method by which the electors of more than one local governmental subdivision within the boundaries of one parish may petition for an election for such purpose consistent with Paragraph (B) of this Section.

(E) A home rule charter adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Section shall provide for the structure and organization, powers, and functions for the government of the local governmental subdivision, which may include the exercise of any power and performance of any function necessary, requisite, or proper for the management of its affairs, not denied by general law or this constitution. The legislature shall not pass any law the effect of which changes, modifies, or affects the structure and organization and/or the particular distribution and redistribution of the powers and functions of any local governmental subdivision which operates under a home rule charter.

(F) A local governmental subdivision adopting a home rule charter under this Section shall also enjoy such additional powers and functions as are granted to local governmental subdivisions by other provisions of this constitution, including Section 9 of this Article, unless the exercise of such powers and functions is prohibited by its charter.

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 17-

Introduced by Delegate Perez, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Local and Parochial Government, and Delegates Burson, Cannon, Chatelain, Conino, D'Gerolamo, Fowler, Giarrusso, Hayes, Heine, J. Jackson, Kean, Lanier, Reeves, Shannon, Stephenson, Taylor, Toomy, Ullo and Zervigon:

A PROPOSAL

Making general provisions for local and parochial government, levee districts, and ports, the financing thereof, and necessary provisions with respect thereto.

Read.

Section 8. Home Rule Charter

Section 8. (A) Any local governmental subdivision may draft, adopt, or amend a charter of government to be known as a home rule charter in accordance with the provisions of this Section. The governing authority of any such local governmental subdivision may appoint a commission to prepare and propose a charter, or alternate charter, or may call an election for the purpose of electing such a commission.

(B) The governing authority of any such local governmental subdivision shall call an election to elect a commission to prepare and propose a charter or alternate charter when presented with a petition signed by not less than fifteen percent of the electors who live within the boundaries of the affected subdivision, as certified by the registrar of voters.

(C) A home rule charter shall be adopted when approved by a majority of the electors who vote on the charter proposal at an election called for that purpose.

(D) Two or more local governmental subdivisions situated within the boundaries of one parish may avail themselves of the provisions of this Section, provided that a majority of the electors in each affected local governmental subdivision who vote in an election held for that purpose vote in favor thereof. The legislature shall provide for the method of appointment or election of a commission to prepare and propose such a charter consistent with Paragraph (A) of this Section. However, at least one member of the commission shall be elected or appointed from each affected local governmental subdivision. The legislature shall provide the method by which the electors of more than one local governmental subdivision within the boundaries of one parish may petition for an election for such purpose consistent with Paragraph (B) of this Section.

(E) A home rule charter adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Section shall provide for the structure and organization, powers, and functions for the government of the local governmental subdivision, which may include the exercise of any power and performance of any function necessary, requisite, or proper for the management of its affairs, not denied by general law or this constitution. The legislature shall not pass any law the effect of which changes, modifies, or affects the structure and organization and/or the particular distribution and redistribution of the powers and functions of any local governmental subdivision which operates under a home rule charter.

52nd Days Proceedings-September 22, 1973

(F) A local governmental subdivision adopting a home rule charter under this Section shall also enjoy such additional powers and functions as are granted to local governmental subdivisions by other provisions of this constitution, including Section 9 of this Article, unless the exercise of such powers and performance of such functions is prohibited by its charter.

(G) The powers and functions of a parish or city school board and the offices of sheriff, clerk of the district court, coroner, or assessor shall not be affected by any provision of a home rule charter or plan of government adopted or amended under the provisions of this Section.

Read.

55th Days Proceedings—September 27, 1973

Delegate Perez moved to reconsider the vote by which the above Section was passed, and, on his own motion, the motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Section 15. Filling of Vacancies; Appointment

Section 15. (A) Except in the office of sheriff, assessor, clerk of a district court, or coroner, a vacancy occasioned by death, resignation, or otherwise in the office of mayor, in the membership of the governing authority of a local governmental subdivision or in any other local office filled by election wholly within the boundaries of a local governmental subdivision, shall be filled by appointment by the governing authority of such local governmental subdivision in which the vacancy occurs. A vacancy in the membership of a city or parish school board shall be filled by appointment by the remaining members thereof. A tie vote on such appointment to be made by the governing authority of a local governmental subdivision or school board shall be broken by the presiding officer thereof notwithstanding the fact that he may already have voted thereon.

(B) If, at the time a vacancy occurs in an elective office for which appointment is provided in Paragraph (A) of this Section, the unexpired portion of the term of office is more than one year, a special election to fill the vacancy shall be called by the governing authority, and held without the necessity of a call by the governor, not more than six months nor less than three months, after first receipt of notice of the vacancy by the secretary of state, to be given as hereinafter provided, in the local governmental subdivision or special district thereof in which the vacancy occurred, and in such case the appointment provided for in Paragraph (A) of this Section shall be effective only until a successor is duly elected and qualified.

(C) Upon being informed of the occurrence of a vacancy in any of the offices specified in Paragraph (A) of this Section, the clerk or chief clerk of the district court in the parish where the vacancy occurred, and in the parish of Orleans the clerk or chief clerk of the criminal district court, shall, within twenty-four hours after being thus informed, notify the secretary of state in writing by registered or certified mail of the occurrence of the vacancy. Upon receipt of such notice, the secretary of state shall, within twenty-four hours after such receipt, notify in writing by registered or certified mail all election officials, including party committees and boards of supervisors of elections, having any duty to perform in connection with a special election to fill such vacancy, of the occurrence of the vacancy.

(D) Nothing in this Section shall be construed as changing the qualifications for the various offices involved and all appointments must be of persons who would otherwise be eligible to hold offices to which appointed.

(E) The provisions of this Section shall apply to all local governmental subdivisions unless otherwise provided by the home rule charter or the home rule plan of government of the affected local governmental subdivisions.

(F) The provisions of this Section shall not apply to the office of judge of any state court of record or district attorney.

Section 18. Special Districts and Local Public Agencies; Consolidation, Merger, and Assumption of Debt

Section 18. (A) Any local governmental subdivision may consolidate and merge into itself any special district or local public agency, except a school district, situated and having jurisdiction entirely within the boundaries of such local governmental subdivision. Upon such merger and consolidation the local governmental subdivision shall succeed to and be vested with all of the rights, revenues, resources, jurisdiction, authority, and powers of such special district or local public agency. No such merger and consolidation shall take effect unless a majority of the electors voting thereon in the local governmental subdivision as a whole and also a majority of the electors voting thereon in the affected special district vote in favor of such proposition. No such action involving a local public agency shall take effect unless a majority of the electors voting thereon in the local governmental subdivision in which the local public agency is located vote in favor thereof in an election held for that purpose.

(B) If the special district or local public agency which is consolidated and merged has any outstanding indebtedness, the authority provided for by this Section shall not be exercised unless provision is made for the assumption of such indebtedness by the governing authority or authorities of the local governmental subdivisions involved.

And the amendment was adopted.

Delegate Perez moved to reconsider the vote by which the amendment was adopted, and on his own motion, the motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Section 23. Intergovernmental Cooperation

Section 23. (A) Any political subdivision may exercise and perform any of its authorized powers and functions, including financing, jointly or in cooperation with one or more political subdivisions, either within or without the state, the United States or agencies thereof, except as the legislature shall provide otherwise by law.

(B) Except as otherwise provided in this constitution, the legislature shall not require political subdivisions to exercise powers or perform functions jointly or in cooperation with any other political subdivision, nor shall the legislature require consolidation of governmental functions of local governmental subdivisions. However, the legislature may enact laws authorizing the consolidation of political subdivisions or the joint exercise of powers and performance of functions by political subdivisions, but no such law shall become effective until submitted to and approved by two-thirds of the electors in each of the political subdivisions affected thereby, who vote in an election called for that purpose.

Section 23. Intergovernmental Cooperation

Section 23. (A) Any political subdivision may exercise and perform any of its authorized powers and functions, including financing, jointly or in cooperation with one or more political subdivisions, either within or without the state, the United States or agencies thereof, except as the legislaure shall provide otherwise by law.

(B) Except as otherwise provided in this constitution, the legislature shall not require political subdivisions to exercise powers or perform functions jointly or in cooperation with any other political subdivision, nor shall the legislature require consolidation of governmental functions of local governmental subdivisions. However, the legislature may enact laws authorizing the consolidation of political subdivisions or the joint exercise of powers and performance of functions by political subdivisions, but no such law shall become effective until submitted to and approved by two-thirds of the electors in each of the political subdivisions affected thereby, who vote in an election called for that purpose.

Introduced by Delegate Perez, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Local and Parochial Government, and Delegates Burson, Cannon, Chatelain, Conino, D'Gerolamo, Fowler, Giarusso, Hayes, Heine, J. Jackson, Kean, Lanier, Reeves, Shannon, Stephenson, Taylor, Toomy, Ullo and Zervigon:

A PROPOSAL

Making general provisions for local and parochial government, levee districts, and ports, the financing thereof, and necessary provisions with respect thereto.

Section 44. Levee Districts

Section 44. (A) Levee districts as now organized and constituted shall continue to exist, except that:

(1) The legislature may provide for the consolidation, division, or reorganization of existing levee districts or create new levee districts. However, the members of the boards of commissioners of such districts shall be appointed or elected from residents of such district;

(2) Any levee district whose flood control responsibilities are limited to and which is situated entirely within the boundaries of one parish may be merged and consolidated into such parish under the terms and conditions and in the manner provided in Section 18 of this Article. This provision shall be self-operative.

(B) No action taken hereunder shall impair the obligation of any outstanding bonded indebtedness or of any other contract of such levee district.

Delegate Lennox sent up a floor amendment, which was read as follows:

FLOOR AMENDMENT

Amendment proposed by Delegate Lennox to Committee Proposal No. 17 by Delegate Perez, et al.

Amend reprinted as engrossed proposal as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1-

On page 24, between lines 1 and 2, insert the following paragraph:

"(3) The authority of levee districts to expend its revenues shall be limited to drainage, flood control, hurricane flood protection and administrative expenses. Other powers and functions of levee districts now or hereafter authorized may be exercised provided that the revenues derived from such other functions are sufficient to pay the complete cost thereof. A local governmental subdivision, by ordinance adopted by it, may assume and merge into itself the authority to exercise such other powers and functions of a levee district exercised wholly within its boundaries. Thereupon, except for tax revenues, the local governmental subdivision shall succeed to and be vested with all of the rights, income, resources, jurisdiction, authority and powers of such levee district required for the exercise thereof."

The Chairman announced that the Convention had under consideration the above amendment to Committee Proposal No. 17, Section 44, when it adjourned on Wednesday, October 3, 1973, which was taken up and acted upon as follows:

Delegate Lennox moved the adoption of the amendment.

deep-water port commission or deep-water port, harbor, and terminal district except by a favorable vote of at least two-thirds of the elected membership of each house;

(C) (1) Notwithstanding the provision of Paragraphs (A) and (B) of this Section, the legislature shall by law provide for a change in the method of selection and composition of the Board of Commissioners of the Port of New Orleans and define its territorial jurisdiction.

(2) After the exercise of authority as provided in sub-paragraph (1) above, the legislature may only affect the Board of Commissioners of the Port of New Orleans as provided in Paragraphs (A) and (B) of this Section, except that no change in the territorial jurisdiction of said port shall affect the territorial jurisdiction of any other existing deepwater port commission or deep-water port, harbor, and terminal district.

(3) In the event the legislature does not exercise the authority granted in subparagraph (1) above within ten years after the adoption of this constitution, the composition of said board and territorial jurisdiction of said port shall not be changed except in compliance with Paragraphs (A) and (B)

of this Section.

Reported with the following amendments by the Committee on Education and Welfare.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT

Amendments proposed by Committee on Education and Welfare to Delegate Proposal No. 54 by Delegates Juneau, Leithman, and Corne:

Amend printed proposal as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1-

On page 1, delete lines 10 through 13, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. The goals of the educational system of Louisiana shall be to provide learning environments and experiences designed to promote excellence so that all the children of the state may be afforded the opportunity to develop to their full potential."

AMENDMENT No. 2-

On page 1, between lines 26 and 27, add the following "Section 4.1. Funding; Elementary and Secondary Education of the school children of this state in the elementary and secondary schools shall be derived from sources determined by the legislature and shall be apportioned to the parish and city school boards in the manner hereinafter
(1) Minimum program. The legislature shall appropriate sufficient funds to insure a minimum program of education in all public elementary and secondary schools. The minimum program of education to be maintained in all parish and city school systems shall be established by the educational board or authority having supervision over public elementary and secondary education. The board shall adopt formulas and procedures for the distribution of these funds to the several school boards.

(2) Other funds. Any other funds provided by the legislature for the support of public schools shall be appor-tioned and distributed in accordance with a formula established by the educational board or authority having supervision over public elementary and secondary education, except as otherwise specifically provided for by the law appropriating the funds.

Any funds for public education from any other source shall be distributed in the manner determined by the board or authority having supervision over public elementary and secondary education, subject, however, to the terms of the laws governing such funds or the lawful stipulations of the source of the funds.

(B) Local funds. Local funds for the support of public elementary and secondary schools shall be derived from the following sources:

(1) Each parish and city school board, the parish of Orleans excepted, shall levy annually an ad valorem maintenance tax of five mills, or as much thereof as is necessary, on all property subject to such taxation within the parish or city in the manner prescribed by law.

The Orleans Parish School Board shall levy annually a tax not to exceed thirteen mills on the dollar on the assessed valuation of all property within the city of New Orleans assessed for city taxation and shall certify the fact to the governing authority of the city. The governing authority shall cause said tax to be entered on the tax rolls of the city and collected in the manner and under the conditions and with the interest and penalties prescribed by law for city taxes. The money thus collected shall be paid daily to the Orleans Parish School Board.

(2) For giving additional support to the public elementary and secondary schools, any parish, school district, or subschool district, or any municipality which supports a separate city system of public schools may levy ad valorem taxes for specific purposes, when authorized by a majority of the electors voting in the parish, municipality, district, or subdistrict, in an election called for the purpose. The amount, duration, and purpose of such taxes shall be in accord with any limitations imposed by this constitution or by the legislature. No such tax shall be levied for a period longer than ten years, except that any tax levied to pay the costs of bonds or other debts incurred shall engrossed and passed to its third reading.

be levied and collected until the principal and interest on the bonds or other debts have been paid.

(3) The legislature may provide for additional sources of local support for elementary and secondary schools.

(C) Monroe, Bogalusa; treatment as parishes. For the effects and purposes of the provisions of this entire Section, the municipalities of Monroe, in Ouachita Parish, and Bogalusa, in Washington Parish, and no other, shall be regarded as, and treated upon the same basis and shall have the same authority as though they were separate parishes instead of municipalities.

(D) Ouachita Parish. The school board of Ouachita Parish shall not be required to pay to the city of Monroe out of the public funds any per capita for children residing without the limits of said city and who may attend the schools maintained by the city of Monroe under its legislative charter."

AMENDMENT No. 3-

On page 1, between lines 26 and 27, add the following new section:

Section 4.2. Free School Books and Materials of Instruc-

Section 4.2. The legislature shall appropriate funds to supply free school books, and other materials of instruction as prescribed by the appropriate state educational board or other authority, to all school children in elementary and secondary schools."

AMENDMENT No. 4-

On page 2, line 2, after the word "private" delete the remainder of the line and insert in lieu thereof the following:

'elementary, secondary, and proprietary schools whose sustained curriculum or specialized course of study is of a quality"

AMENDMENT No. 5-

On page 2, delete lines 30 through 32, both inclusive, in their entirety, and on page 3, delete lines 1 and 2, both inclusive, in their entirety, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 9. Appropriations by the legislature for educational purposes shall be made to and administered by the appropriate board, agency, or authority and shall be used solely for the operations of the institutions for which designated in the appropriations."

Section 50. Ports

Section 50. All deep-water port commissions and all deepwater port, harbor, and terminal districts as they are now organized and constituted, including their powers and functions, structures and organizations, and territorial jurisdiction, are ratified and confirmed and shall continue to exist, etxcept that:

(A) The legislature may diminish, reduce, or withdraw from any such commission or district, including the Board of Commissioners of the Port of New Orleans, any of its powers and functions and may affect the structure and organization, distribution, and resdistribution of the powers and functions of any such commission or district, including its territorial jurisdiction, only by act passed by a favorable vote of at least two-thirds of the elected membership of each house;

(B) The legislature may by law grant additional powers and functions to any such commission or district and may create new port commissions or port, harbor, and terminal districts by law. However, in so doing the legislature shall not restrict or diminish the powers and functions, structure and organization, or territorial jurisdiction of an established deep-water port commission or deep-water port, harbor, and terminal district except by a favorable vote of at least twothirds of the elected membership of each house;

(C) (1) Notwithstanding the provision of Paragraphs (A) and (B) of this Section, the legislature shall by law provide for a change in the method of selection and composition of the Board of Commissioners of the Port of New Orleans and define its territorial jurisdiction.

(2) After the exercise of authority as provided in subparagraph (1) above, the legislature may only affect the Board of Commissioners of the Port of New Orleans as provided in Paragraphs (A) and (B) of this Section, except that no change in the territorial jurisdiction of said port shall affect the territorial jurisdiction of any other existing deepwater port commission or deep-water port, harbor, and terminal district.

(3) In the event the legislature does not exercise the authority granted in subparagraph (1) above within ten years after the adoption of this constitution, the composition of said board and territorial jurisdiction of said port shall not be changed except in compliance with Paragraphs (A) and (B) of this Section.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS

Amendments proposed by Committee on Revenue, Finance and Taxation to Committee Proposal No. 26 by Delegate Rayburn, et al.

Amend printed Proposal as follows:

On page 2, between lines 25 and 26, add the following: "(B) All public property.

(C) Places of religious worship; property owned by religious denominations and used as residences for ministers; places of burial, and property held by any religious denomination or nonprofit corporation or organization for burial purposes, but the exemption shall not apply to unsold lots, crypts, or places for burial, nor shall it apply to lands held for development as places for burial, when so held for profit; places devoted to charitable undertakings, including that of such organizations as lodges and clubs organized for charitable and fraternal purposes and practicing the same; schools and colleges; nonprofit hospitals; but the exemption shall extend only to property, and grounds thereunto appurtenant, used for the above mentioned purposes, and not leased for profit or income.

(D) Cash on hand or deposit; obligations secured by mortgage on property located in Louisiana and the notes or other evidence thereof; loans by life insurance companies to policyholders, if secured solely by their policies; the legal reserve The following reports of Committees were received and of domestic life insurance companies; loans by homestead or building and loan associations to their members, if secured 61st Days Proceedings-October 5, 1973 solely by stock of said associations; debts due for merchandise or other articles of commerce or for services rendered; obligations of the state or its political subdivisions; all personal property used in the home or on loan in a public place; agricultural products while owned by the producer, agricultural machinery and other implements used exclusively for agricultural purposes, and all animals on the farm, and property belonging to agricultural fair associations; all property used for cultural or civic activities and not operated for profit to the owners; all oceangoing vessels engaged in international trade and domiciled in Louisiana ports, but this exemption shall not apply to harbor, wharf, shed, and other port dues, and no vessel operated in the coastal trade of the continental United States shall be within the exemption herein granted; boats using gasoline as motor fuel; commercial vessels used for gathering seafood; and rights-of-way granted to the State Department of Highways.

(E) From state, parish, and special taxes, all motor vehicles used on the public highways of this state, provided that this exemption shall not extend to any general or special tax levied by the governing authority of any municipality, or district created by any such municipality, unless the governing authority thereof shall provide for such exemption by ordinance or resolution.

(F) The State Board of Commerce and Industry, with the approval of the governor, and the local governing authority may enter into contracts for the exemption of any new manufacturing establishment or an addition or additions to any manufacturing establishment already existing in the state upon such terms and conditions as the board, with the approval of the governor, and the local governing authority, may deem to be to the best interest of the state. The terms "manufacturing establishment" and "addition" or "additions" as used in this Paragraph mean a new plant or establishment or an addition or additions to any existing plant or establishment which engages in the business of working raw materials into wares suitable for use or which gives new shapes, new qualities, or new combinations to matter which already has gone through some artificial process. No exemption shall be contracted for any new manufacturing establishment in any locality where there is a manufacturing establishment actually engaged in the manufacture of the same or closely competitive articles without the written consent of the owner of such existing manufacturing establishment to be attached to and identified with the contract of exemption. No exemption from taxes shall be granted under the authority of this Paragraph for a longer initial period than five calendar years from the date of the execution of the contract of exemption or five calendar years from the date of the completion of the construction as described in the contract for tax exemption, the commencement of the exemption upon either of such dates to be specified in the contract at the discretion of the State Board of Commerce and Industry and subject to approval by the governor. Upon application within ninety days before the expiration of the initial period of five years, and upon proper showing of a full compliance with the contract of exemption by the contractee, any exemption granted under the authority of this subsection shall be renewed for an additional period of five calendar years. Any such exemption shall ipso facto cease upon violation of the terms and conditions of the contract which granted the same. All property exempted, in accordance with the provisions of the paragraph shall be listed on the assessment rolls and submitted to the Louisiana Tax Commission, but no taxes shall be collected thereon during the period of exemption. On January first following the expiration of any contract of exemption entered into under this Paragraph, and for each year thereafter, all property exempted by any such contract shall be listed on the assessment rolls and shall be assessed at the end of the tax exemption period at not more than the average assessment ratio on all other property assessed by the assessor in the parish in which the property is located. To determine the assessment ratio of locally assessed property, the Louisiana Tax Commission shall annually determine in each parish the assessed value of all locally assessed property in relation to actual value. All taxes imposed upon such property shall be collected in the manner provided by law.

(G) (1) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and articles

imported into this state from outside of the continental United States:

(a) So long as such imports remain upon the public property of the port authority or docks of any common carrier where such imports first entered this state; or

(b) So long as any such imports (other than minerals and ores of the same kind as any mined or produced in this state and manufactured articles) are held in this state in the original form in bales, sacks, barrels, boxes, cartons, containers, or other original packages, and raw materials held in bulk as all or a part of the new material inventory of manufacturers or processors, solely for manufacturing or processing; or

(c) So long as any such imports are held by an importer in any public or private storage in the original form in bales, sacks, barrels, boxes, cartons, containers, or other original packages and agricultural products in bulk. This shall not apply to a retail merchant holding such imports as part of his stock-in-trade for sale at retail.

All such property whether entitled to exemption or not shall be reported to the proper taxing authority on the forms required by law.

(2) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and other articles being held upon the public property of a port authority or docks of any common carrier or in a warehouse, grain elevator, dock, wharf, or public storage facility in this state for export to a point outside the continental United States

All such property entitled to exemption shall be reported to the proper taxing authority on the forms required by law.

(3) All goods, commodities, and personal property in public or private storage while in transit through this state which is (a) moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Louisiana; or (b) which is in public or private storage within the State of Louisiana having been shipped thereto from outside of the State of Louisiana for storage in transit to a final destination outside of the State of Louisiana, whether such destination was specified when transportation begins or afterward. All such property whether entitled to exemption or not shall be reported to the proper taxing authority on the forms required by law.

Committee Proposals

Delegate Dennery, Secretary of the Constitutional Convention of 1973, submits the following report:

Constitutional Convention of 1973 State of Louisiana

October 11, 1973, Baton Rouge, La.

To the Chairman and Delegates of the Convention:

I submit the following report:

That the following Committee Proposal has been properly enrolled:

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 33-

Introduced by Delegate A. Jackson, Chairman, Committee on Bill of Rights and Elections (Substitute for Committee Proposal No. 20, by Delegate A. Jackson, Chairman on behalf of the Committee on Bill of Rights and Elections, and Delegates Dunlap, Guarisco, Jenkins, Roy, Soniat, Stinson, Vick, Wall and Weiss)

A PROPOSAL

Making general provisions for elections.

Be it adopted by the Constitutional Convention of Louisiana of 1973:

ARTICLE X. ELECTIONS

Section 2. Election Code; Right to Vote

Section 2. Subject to and not inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution, the legislature shall adopt an election code which shall provide for the permanent registration of veters and for the conduct of all elections; except as otherwise provided in this constitution, the right to vote in elections is guaranteed to all citizens of this state.

Section 3. Secret Ballot

Section 3. In all elections by the people, voting shall be by secret ballot, and the legislature shall provide a method for absentee voting. Proxy voting shall be prohibited. All ballots cast shall be counted publicly and preserved inviolate as provided by law until any election contests have been settled.

In all elections by persons in a representative capacity, the vote shall be viva-voce.

Section 6. Privilege from Arrest

Section 6. Every qualified elector shall be privileged from arrest in going to and returning from voting and while exercising the right to vote in all cases, except felony or breach of the peace.

Section 11. Registrars of Voters

Section 11. Subject to and not inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution, the governing authority of each parish shall appoint a parish registrar of voters, whose compensation, removal from office for cause, bond, powers, and functions shall be provided by law. Upon qualifying as a candidate for public office, the registrar of voters shall forfeit his office. No law shall provide for the removal from office of a registrar by the appointing governing authority.

Section 18. Prohibited Use of Public Funds

Section 18. No public funds shall be used to urge any elector to vote for or against any candidate or proposition, nor appropriated to any candida'e or political organization. However, this provision shall not prohibit the use of public funds for the dissemination of factual information relative to any proposition appearing on an election ballot.

Respectfully submitted,

For the Secretary,

DAVID R. POYNTER, Chief Clerk.

Under the Rules, referred to the Committee on Style and Drafting.

Motion

On motion of Delegate Blair the rules were suspended in order to allow the Committee on Legislative Powers and Functions five additional days to consider the recommendations of the Committee on Style and Drafting to Committee Proposal No. 3.

Motion

On motion of Delegate Tate the rules were suspended in order to call a meeting of the Committee on Style and Drafting without giving the required 24 hours notice.

COMMITTEE NOTICE

Delegate Tate, chairman of the Committee on Style and Drafting, sent up the following notice:

The Committee on Style and Drafting will meet on Friday, October 12, 1973, at 9:00 o'clock A.M. in Room No. 206 and will consider the following agenda:

AGENDA

Consideration of CP 4, Executive Dept.

Respectfully submitted, ALBERT TATE,

Chairman of the Committee on Style and Drafting.

Introduced by Delegate Rayburn, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Revenue, Finance and Taxation, and Delegates Alario, Brown, Chehardy, Edwards, Goldman, Mauberret, Mire, Nunez, Planchard, Slay, and Winchester:
A PROPOSAL

Making provisions for property taxation.
ARTICLE XI. REVENUE AND FINANCE

Section 1. Assessment of Property; Classification; Assessors Right of Taxpayer Section 1. (A) All property subject to ad valorem taxation shall be listed on the assessment rolls at its assessed valuation which shall be a percentage of its fair market value; such percentage of fair market value shall be uniform throughout the state upon the same class of property. (B) The classifications of property subject to ad valorem taxation and the percentage of fair market value applicable to each such classification for the purpose of determining assessed valuation are as follows:

CLASSIFICATIONS: PERCENTAGES: 1. All land 2. Improvements on residential property ___

3. All other property _______15% (C) Assessors shall determine the fair market value of all property subject to taxation within their respective parishes and districts except public service properties which shall be valued by the Louisiana Tax Commission. All property subject to taxation shall be re-appraised at intervals of not more than five years.

(D) The correctness of assessments by the assessor shall be subject to review by the governing authority of the parish, then by the Louisiana Tax Commission, and finally by the courts in accordance with procedures established by law.

(E) The legislature may provide that agricultural, horticultural and timber lands will be assessed for the purpose of taxation at a percentage of use value rather than fair market value.

Read.

On motion of Delegate Toomy, and under a suspension of the rules, the following Communication was ordered incorporated in the Official Journal.

October 6, 1973

Chairman, and Delegates of the 1973 Consitutional Convention Fellow Delegates,

It is with great regrets that I will be unable to be with you during the week of October 8, at which time Committee Proposal No. 26 will come to the floor.

My feelings and the wishes of my constituents are very strong in favor of this proposal.

During my campaign for this Constitutional Convention, and every opportunity since then, I have carried to Baton Rouge the thoughts of the people of District 77. They and myself agree, that the guarantee of private homes against excessive taxation is the most important issue in this convention.

Home ownership is the basic principle of our society. Lets not destroy home ownership by giving taxing authorities the right to tax us out of our homes.

I want to thank all of you for your permission to allow me to express my thoughts along with the thoughts of my people during my absence.

Yours very truly,

EDWARD D'GEROLAMO

FLOOR AMENDMENTS

Amendments proposed by Delegate Rayburn to Committee Proposal No. 26 by Delegate Rayburn, et al.

Amend reprinted as engrossed proposal as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1-

On page 1, line 12, after the word "faxpayer" add a semicolon ";" and insert the following: "Exemptions from Ad Valorem Property Taxation"

AMENDMENT No. 2-

On page 2, between lines 7 and 8, add the following:

"(F) Homesteads shall be exempt from ad valorem property taxation as follows:

From state, parish, and special taxes, the bona fide homestead, consisting of a tract of land, or two or more tracts of land with a residence on one tract and a field, pasture, or garden on the other tract or tracts, not exceeding one hundred sixty acres, buildings and appurtenances, whether rural or urban, owned and occupied by any person, in the full amount of three thousand dollars of the assessed valuation; however, by the favorable vote of a majority of the elected members of each house, the legislature may increase this exemption to an amount which shall not exceed the full amount of five thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. Veterans and persons sixty-five years or older shall be provided with a homestead exemption of five thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. No exemption shall extend to any municipal or city taxes except the following: (1) in Orleans Parish this exemption shall apply to the state, the general city, the school, the levee, and levee board taxes; and (2) to any municipal or city taxes levied for school purposes. The exemption of homesteads shall extend to the surviving spouse or minor child or children of a deceased owner and to the bona fide homestead when occupied as such and title thereto is in either husband or wife, but this exemption shall not be extended to more than one homestead owned by the husband or wife.

The provisions of this Paragraph shall become effective ommencing January 1 of the year following the end of three years after the effective date of this constitution, and until that date the homestead exemptions provided by Article X, Section 4, Paragraphs 9 through 9(c) shall be applicable."

Proposals Delegate and Committee

COMMITTEE PROPOISAL No. 26-

Introduced by Delegate Rayburn, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Revenue, Finance and Taxation, and Delegates Alario, Brown, Chehardy, Edwards, Goldman, Mauber-ret, Mire, Nunez, Planchard, Slay, and Winchester:

A PROPOSAL Making provisions for property taxation.

Read.

Section 1. Assessment of Property; Classification; Asses-

sors; Right of Taxpayer

Section 1. (A) All property subject to ad valorem taxation shall be listed on the assessment rolls at its assessed valuation which shall be a percentage of its fair market value; such percentage of fair market value shall be uniform throughout the state upon the same class of property.

(B) The classifications of property subject to ad valorem taxation and the percentage of fair market value applicable to each such classification for the purpose of determining assessed valuation are as follows:

CLASSIFICATIONS: PERCENTAGES: 1. All land _ 2. Improvements on residential property ---15% 3. All other property _____

(C) Assessors shall determine the fair market value of all property subject to taxation within their respective parishes and districts except public service properties which shall be valued by the Louisiana Tax Commission. All property subject to taxation shall be re-appraised at intervals of not more than five years.

(D) The correctness of assessments by the assessor shall be subject to review by the governing authority of the parish, then by the Louisiana Tax Commission, and finally by the courts in accordance with procedures established by law.

(E) The legislature may provide that agricultural, horticultural and timber lands will be assessed for the purpose of taxation at a percentage of use value rather than fair market value.

The chairman announced that the Convention had under consideration Committee Proposal No. 26, Section 1, when it adjourned on Thursday, October 19, 1973, which was taken up and acted upon as follows:

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 26-

Introduced by Delegate Rayburn, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Revenue, Finance and Taxation, and Delegates Alario, Brown, Chehardy, Edwards, Goldman, Mauber-ret, Mire, Nuncz, Planchard, Slay and Winchester:

A PROPOSAL Making provisions for property taxation.

Read.

Section 1. Assessment of Property; Classification; Assessors; Right of Taxpayer

Section 1. (A) All property subject to ad valorem taxation shall be listed on the assessment rolls at its assessed valuation which shall be a percentage of its fair market value; such percentage of fair market value shall be uniform throughout the state upon the same class of property.

(B) The classifications of property subject to ad valorem taxation and the percentage of fair market value applicable to each such classification for the purpose of determining assessed valuation are as follows:

CLASSIFICATIONS:	PERCENTAGES:
1. All land	5%
2. Improvements on residential pro	perty 10%
3. All other property	15%
(C) Assessors shall determine the	fair market value of all property subject to taxation within	their respective parishes and districts except public service p valued by the Louisiana Tax Commission. All property subject to taxation shall be re-appraised at intervals of not more than five years.

(D) The correctness of assessments by the assessor shall be subject to review by the governing authority of the parish, then by the Louisiana Tax Commission, and finally by the courts in accordance with procedures established by law.

(E) The legislature may provide that agricultural, horticultural and timber lands will be assessed for the purpose of taxation at a percentage of use value rather than fair market value.

The chairman announced that the Convention had under consideration Committee Proposal No. 26, Section 1, when it adjourned on Thursday, October 20, 1973, which was taken up and acted upon as follows:

Delegate Anzalone sent up a floor amendment, which was read as follows:

FLOOR AMENDMENT

Amendment proposed by Delegates Anzalone and Flory to Committee Proposal No. 26 by Delegate Rayburn, et al.

Amend reprinted as engrossed proposal as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1-

On page 1, strike out lines 12 through 32, both inclusive, in their entirety and on page 2, delete lines 1 through 7, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the fol-

Section 1. Assessment of Property; Assessment of Property in Multi-Parish Districts; Limitations

Section 1. (A) Each property subject to ad valorem taxation shall be assessed by the assessor uniformly throughout his parish or district at a percentage of its fair market value or use value, subject to the provisions hereof, and shall be listed by him on the assessment rolls at its assessed valuation. The percentage of fair market value or use value used by the assessor as a basis for determining the assessed valuation shall also be listed on the assessment rolls. Such percentage shall be determined by the assessor; however, a parish or municipal governing authority, by a vote of at least two-thirds of its elected membership may direct the assessor to assess property located within its jurisdiction for the tax purpose of that jurisdiction at a different percentage of its value, but the rate shall be no greater than the maximums and no less than the minimums provided in Paragraph (D) of this Section. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in a parish which has more than one elected assessor, the parish governing authority shall determine the percentage of fair market value or use value to be used for assessment purposes, in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph (D) hereof.

(B) The fair market value of public service properties shall be determined by the Louisiana Tax Commission and these valuations shall be certified to the various assessors. who shall fix the assessed value of such property based upon the percentage of fair market value as provided in Para-

g:aph (D) of this Section.

(C) Agricultural, horticultural, and timber lands shall be assessed for the purpose of taxation at a percentage of use value 1 ather than fair market value.

(D) The assessed valuation of land and improvements, whether residential rental or owner occupied, shall not be less than five percent or more than fifteen percent of current fair market value. The assessed valuation of other property shall not be less than ten percent or more than twentyfive percent of current fair market value. The assessed valuation of agricultural, horticultural and timber lands shall be ten percent of use value.

(E) For all taxes levied by a multi-parish district, the goveining authority of such multi-parish district shall fix the percentage of fair market value or use value, which shall be uniform throughout the district, in accordance with Para-

(F) The legislature shall provide a uniform method for determining fair market value and use value. All property subject to taxation shall be reappraised on the basis of its current fair market value or use value at least once every five years.

Delegate Winchester suggested the absence of a quorum.

A record vote was asked for and ordered by the Convention.

Proposal Delegate and Committee

The following entitled Delegate and Committee Proposals were taken up on their third reading and final passage: COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 26—

Introduced by Delegate Rayburn, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Revenue, Finance and Taxation, and Delegates Alario, Brown, Chehardy, Edwards, Goldman, Mauberret, Mire, Nunez, Planchard, Slay and Winchester: A PROPOSAL

Making provisions for property taxation.

Section 1. Assessment of Property; Classification; Asses-

sors; Right of Taxpayer

Section 1. (A) All property subject to ad valorem taxation shall be listed on the assessment rolls at its assessed valuation which shall be a percentage of its fair market value; such percentage of fair market value shall be uniform throughout the state upon the same class of property.

(B) The classifications of property subject to ad valorem taxation and the percentage of fair market value applicable to each such classification for the purpose of determining

assessed valuation are as follows:

CLASSIFICATIONS: PERCENTAGES: 1. All land ------ 5% 2. Improvements on residential property _____ 10% 3. All other property __ (C) Assessors shall determine the fair market value of all property subject to taxation within their respective parishes and districts except public service properties which shall be valued by the Louisiana Tax Commission. All property subject to taxation shall be re-appraised at intervals of not more than five years.

(D) The correctness of assessments by the assessor shall be subject to review by the governing authority of the parish, then by the Louisiana Tax Commission, and finally by the courts in accordance with procedures established by law.

(E) The legislature may provide that agricultural, horticultural and timber lands will be assessed for the purpose of taxation at a percentage of use value rather than fair market value.

And the Chair declared that the above Section was passed.

Delegate Alario moved to reconsider the vote by which the above Section was passed, and, on his own motion, the motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Explanation of Vote

Delegate Louis "Woody" Jenkins sent up the following Explanation of Vote with respect to the passage of Section 2 of Committee Proposal No. 26.

"Although I strongly oppose granting authority to levy ad valorem property taxes to state government, I am casting my vote in favor of Section 2 in order to limit any such state taxes to five and three-quarters mills. If this section were deleted, the legislature could levy property taxes without limitation."

Section 3. Homestead Exemption; Other Property Exemptions

Section 3. The following property shall be exempt from ad valorem taxation: (A) Homesteads. From state, parish, and special taxes, the homestead, bona fide, consisting of a tract of land, or two or more tracts of land with a residence on one tract and a field, pasture, or garden on the other tract or tracts, not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, buildings and appurtenances, whether rural or urban, owned and occupied by any person, in the full amount of five thousand gives new shapes, new qualities, or new combinations to matdollars of the assessed valuation. However, veterans and ter which already has gone through some artificial process.

persons sixty-five years or older shall be provided with a homestead exemption of six thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. No exemption shall extend to any municipal or city taxes except the following: (1) in Orleans Parish this exemption shall apply to the state, the general city, the school, the levee, and levee board taxes; (2) to any municipal or city taxes levied for school purposes. The exemption of homesteads shall extend to the surviving spouse or minor child or children of a deceased owner and to the bona fide homestead when occupied as such and title thereto is in either husband or wife, provided that this exemption shall not be extended to more than one homestead owned by the husband or wife.

(B) All public property,

(C) Places of religious worship; property owned by religious; denominations and used as residences for clergy or religious; places of burial, and property held by any religious denomination or nonprofit corporation or organization for burial purposes, but the exemption shall not apply to unsold lots, crypts, or places for burial nor shall it apply to lands held for development as places for burial, when so held for profit; universities, schools and colleges; places devoted to charitable undertakings; hospitals, nursing homes, homes for the aged, convalescent and rehabilitation facilities, institutions for treatment, rehabilitation and care of the physically and mentally handicapped or retarded, orphanages, child and/or day care centers which are organized as non-profit corporations under the Louisiana Non-profit Corporations Law or which are exempt from federal and state income taxation law which are licensed or regulated by the state of Louisiana; organizations such as lodges and clubs organized for charitable and fraternal purposes and practicing the same; but exemption shall extend only to property, and grounds thereunto appurtenant, used for the above mentioned purpeses, and not leased for profit or income.

(D) Cash on hand or deposit; stocks and bonds, except bank stocks, which shall be assessed and taxed solely as provided by law, and the tax paid by the banking institution; obligations secured by mortgage on property located in Louisiana and the notes or other evidence thereof; loans by life insurance companies to policyholders, if secured solely by their policies; the legal reserve of domestic life insurance companies; loans by homestead or building and loan associations to their members, if secured solely by stock of said associations; debts due for merchandise or other articles of commerce or for services rendered; obligations of the state or its political subdivisions; all personal property used in the home or on loan in a public place; agricultural products while owned by the producer, agricultural machinery and other implements used exclusively for agricultural purposes, and all animals on the farm, and property belonging to agricultural fair associations; all property used for cultural, mardi-gras carnival or civic activities and not operated for profit to the owners; all oceangoing vessels engaged in international trade and domiciled in Louisiana ports, but this exemption shall not apply to harbor, wharf, shed, and other port dues, and no vessel operated in the coastal trade of the continental United States shall be within the exemption herein granted; boats using gasoline as motor fuel: commercial vessels used for gathering seafood for human consumption; and rights-of-way granted to the State Department of Highways.

(E) From state, parish, and special taxes, all motor vehicles used on the public highways of this state, provided that this exemption shall not extend to any general or special tax levied by the governing authority of any municipality, or district created by any such municipality, unless the governing authority thereof shall provide for such exemption by ordinance or resolution.

(F) The State Board of Commerce and Industry, with the approval of the governor, and the local governing authority may enter into contracts for the exemption of any new manufacturing establishment or an addition or additions to any manufacturing establishment already existing in the state upon such terms and conditions as the board, with the approval of the governor, and the local governing authority, may deem to be to the best interest of the state. The terms "manufacturing establishment" and "addition" or "additions" as used in this Paragraph mean a new plant or establishment or an addition or additions to any existing plant or establishment which engages in the business of working raw materials into wares suitable for use or which working raw materials into wares suitable for use or which

71st Days Proceedings—October 24, 1973

No exemption shall be contracted for any new manufacturing establishment in any locality where there is a manufacturing establishment actually engaged in the manufacture of the same or closely competitive articles without the written consent of the owner of such existing manufacturing establishment to be attached to and identified with the contract of exemption. No exemption from taxes shall be granted under the authority of this Paragraph for a longer initial period than five calendar years from the date of the execution of the contract of exemption or five calendar years from the date of the completion of the construction as described in the contract for tax exemption, the commencement of the exemption upon either of such dates to be specified in the contract at the discretion of the State Board of Commerce and Industry and subject to approval by the governor. Upon application within ninety days before the expiration of the initial period of five years, and upon proper showing of a full compliance with the contract of exemption by the contractee, any exemption granted under the authority of this subsection shall be renewed for an additional period of five calendar years. Any such exemption shall ipso facto cease upon violation of the terms and conditions of the contract which granted the same. All property exempted, in accordance with the provisions of the paragraph shall be tisted on the assessment rolls and submitted to the Louisiana Tax Commission, but no taxes shall be collected thereon during the period of exemption.

(G) (1) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and articles imported into this state from outside of the continental

United States:

(a) So long as such imports remain upon the public property of the port authority or docks of any common carrier where such imports first entered this state; or

(b) So long as any such imports (other than minerals and ores of the same kind as any mined or produced in this state and manufactured articles) are held in this state in the original form in bales, sacks, barrels, boxes, cartons, containers, or other original packages, and raw materials held in bulk as all or a part of the new material inventory of manufacturers or processors, solely for manufacturing or processing; or

(c) So long as any such imports are held by an importer in any public or private storage in the original form in bales, sacks, barrels, boxes, cartons, containers, or other original packages and agricultural products in bulk. This shall not apply to a retail merchant holding such imports as part of his stock-in-trade for sale at retail.

(2) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and other articles being held upon the public property of a port authority or docks of any common carrier or in a warehouse, grain elevator, dock, wharf, or public storage facility in this state for export to a point outside the continental United States.

(3) All goods, commodities, and personal property in public or private storage while in transit through this state which is (a) moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Louisiana; or (b) which is in public or private storage within the State of Louisiana having been shipped thereto from outside of the State of Louisiana for storage in transit to a final destination outside of the State of Louisiana, whether such destination was specified when transportation begins or afterward.

All such property described in this Paragraph (G) whether entitled to exemption or not shall be reported to the proper taxing authority on the forms required by law.

(H) Additional property may be exempted from taxation if authorized by a two-thirds vote of the elected membership of each house of the legislature.

Section 3. Homestead Exemption; Other Property Exemp-

Section 3. The following property shall be exempt from ad valorem taxation: (A) Homesteads. From state, parish, and special taxes, the homestead, bona fide, consisting of a tract of land, or two or more tracts of land with a residence on one tract and a field, pasture, or garden on the other tract or tracts, not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, buildings and appurtenances, whether rural or urban, owned and occupied by any person, in the full amount of five thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. However, veterans and persons sixty-five years or older shall be provided with a homestead exemption of six thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. No exemption shall extend to any municipal or city taxes except the following: (1) in Orleans Parish this exemption shall apply to the state, the general city, the school, the levee, and levee board taxes; (2) to any municipal or city taxes levied for school purposes. The exemption of homestead shall extend to the surviving spouse or minor child or children of a deceased owner and to the bona fide homestead when occupied as such and title thereto is in either husband or wife, provided that this exemption shall not be extended to more than one homestead owned by the husband or wife.

(B) All public property

(C) Places of religious worship; property owned by religious denominations and used as residences for clergy or religious; places of burial, and property held by any religious denomination or nonprofit corporation or organization for burial purposes, but the exemption shall not apply to unsold lots, crypts, or places for burial nor shall it apply to lands held for development as places for burial, when so held for profit; universities, schools and colleges; places devoted to charitable undertakings; hospitals, nursing homes, homes for the aged, convalescent and rehabilitation facilities, institutions for treatment, rehabilitation and care of the physically and mentally handicapped or retarded, orphanages, child and/or day care centers which are organized as non-profit corporations under the Louisiana Non-profit Corporations Law or which are exempt from federal and state income taxation law which are licensed or regulated by the state of Louisiana; organizations such as lodges and clubs organized for charitable and fraternal purposes and practicing the same;

Introduced by Delegate Rayburn, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Revenue, Finance and Taxation, and Delegates Alario, Brown, Chehardy, Edwards, Goldman, Mauberret, Mire, Nunez, Planchard, Slay and Winchester: A PROPOSAL

Making provisions for property taxation.

Section 3. Homestead Exemption; Other Property Exemp-

Section 3. The following property shall be exempt from ad valorem taxation: (A) Homesteads. From state, parish, and special taxes, the homestead, bona fide, consisting of a tract of land, or two or more tracts of land with a residence on one tract and a field, pasture, or garden on the other tract or tracts, not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, buildings and appurtenances, whether rural or urban, owned and occupied by any person, in the full amount of five thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. However, veterans and persons sixty-five years or older shall be provided with a homestead exemption of six thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. No exemption shall extend to any municipal or city taxes except the following: (1) in Orleans Parish this exemption shall apply to the state, the general city, the school, the levee, and levee board taxes; (2) to any municipal or city taxes levied for school purposes. The exemption of homesteads shall extend to the surviving spouse or minor child or children of a deceased owner and to the bona fide homestead when occupied as such and title thereto is in either husband or wife, provided that this exemption shall not be extended to more than one homestead owned by the husband or wife.

(B) All public property.

(C) Places of religious worship; property owned by religious; denominations and used as residences for clergy or religious; places of burial, and property held by any religious denomination or nonprofit corporation or organization for burial purposes, but the exemption shall not apply to unsold lots, crypts, or places for burial nor shall it apply to lands held for development as places for burial, when so held for profit; universities, schools and colleges; places devoted to charitable undertakings; hospitals, nursing homes, homes for the aged, convalescent and rehabilitation facilities, institutions for treatment, rehabilitation and care of the physically and mentally handicapped or retarded, orphanages, child and/or day care centers which are organized as non-profit corporations under the Louisiana Non-profit Corporations Law or which are exempt from federal and state income taxation law which are licensed or regulated by the state of The Chairman announced that there were 121 members Louisiana; organizations such as lodges and clubs organized for charitable and fraternal purposes and practicing the same;

Department of Highways.

73rd Days Proceedings—October 26, 1973

but exemption shall extend only to property, and grounds thereunto appurtenant, used for the above mentioned purposes, and not leased for profit or income.

(D) Cash on hand or deposit; stocks and bonds, except bank stocks, which shall be assessed and taxed solely as provided by law, and the tax paid by the banking institution; obligations secured by mortgage on property located in Louisiana and the notes or other evidence thereof; loans by life insurance companies to policyholders, if secured solely by their policies; the legal reserve of domestic life insurance companies; loans by homestead or building and loan associations to their members, if secured solely by stock of said associations; debts due for merchandise or other articles of commerce or for services rendered; obligations of the state or its political subdivisions; all personal property used in the home or on loan in a public place; agricultural products while owned by the producer, agricultural machinery and other implements used exclusively for agricultural purposes, and all animals on the farm, and property belonging to agricultural fair associations; all property used for cultural, mardi-gras carnival or civic activities and not operated for profit to the owners; all oceangoing vessels engaged in international trade and domiciled in Louisiana ports, but this exemption shall not apply to harbor, wharf, shed, and other port dues, and no vessel operated in the coastal trade of the continental United States shall be within the exemption herein granted; boats using gasoline as motor fuel: commercial vessels used for gathering seafood for human consumption; and rights-of-way granted to the State

(E) From state, parish, and special taxes, all motor vehicles used on the public highways of this state, provided that this exemption shall not extend to any general or special tax levied by the governing authority of any municipality, or district created by any such municipality, unless the governing authority thereof shall provide for such exemption by ordinance or resolution.

(F) The State Board of Commerce and Industry, with the approval of the governor, and the local governing authority may enter into contracts for the exemption of any new manufacturing establishment or an addition or additions to any manufacturing establishment already existing in the state upon such terms and conditions as the board, with the approval of the governor, and the local governing authority, may deem to be to the best interest of the state. The terms "manufacturing establishment" and "addition" or "additions" as used in this Paragraph mean a new plant or establishment or an addition or additions to any existing plant or establishment which engages in the business of working raw materials into wares suitable for use or which gives new shapes, new qualities, or new combinations to matter which already has gone through some artificial process. No exemption shall be contracted for any new manufacturing establishment in any locality where there is a manufacturing establishment actually engaged in the manufacture of the same or closely competitive articles without the written consent of the owner of such existing manufacturing establishment to be attached to and identified with the contract of exemption. No exemption from taxes shall be granted under the authority of this Paragraph for a longer initial period than five calendar years from the date of the execution of the contract of exemption or five calendar years from the date of the completion of the construction as described in the contract for tax exemption, the commencement of the exemption upon either of such dates to be specified in the contract at the discretion of the State Board of Commerce and Industry and subject to approval by the governor. Upon application within ninety days before the expiration of the initial period of five years, and upon proper showing of a full compliance with the contract of exemption by the contractee, any exemption granted under the authority of this subsection shall be renewed for an additional period of five calendar years. Any such exemption shall ipso facto cease upon violation of the terms and conditions of the contract which granted the same. All property exempted, in accordance with the provisions of the paragraph shall be listed on the assessment rolls and submitted to the Louisiana Tax Commission, but no taxes shall be collected thereon during the period of exemption.

(G) (1) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and articles imported into this state from outside of the continental United States:

(a) So long as such imports remain upon the public property of the port authority or docks of any common carrier

where such imports first entered this state; or

(b) So long as any such imports (other than minerals and ores of the same kind as any mined or produced in this state and manufactured articles) are held in this state in the original form in bales, sacks, barrels, boxes, cartons, containers, or other original packages, and raw materials held in bulk as all or a part of the new material inventory of manufacturers or processors, solely for manufacturing or processing; or

(c) So long as any such imports are held by an importer in any public or private storage in the original form in bales, sacks, barrels, boxes, cartons, containers, or other original packages and agricultural products in bulk. This shall not apply to a retail merchant holding such imports as part of his steck-in-trade for sale at retail.

(2) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and other articles being held upon the public property of a port authority or docks of any common carrier or in a warehouse, grain elevator, dock, wharf, or public storage facility in this state for export to a point outside the continental United States.

(3) All goods, commodities, and personal property in public or private storage while in transit through this state which is (a) moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Louisiana; or (b) which is in public or private storage within the State of Louisiana having been shipped thereto from outside of the State of Louisiana for storage in transit to a final destination outside of the State of Louisiana, whether such destination was specified when transportation begins or afterward.

All such property described in this Paragraph (G) whether entitled to exemption or not shall be reported to the proper taxing authority on the forms required by law.

(H) Additional property may be exempted from taxation if authorized by a two-thirds vote of the elected membership of each house of the legislature.

Read.

The chairman announced that the Convention had under consideration Committee Proposal No. 26, Section 3, when it adjourned on Thursday, October 25, 1973, which was taken up and acted upon as follows:

Delegate Conino sent up a floor amendment, which was read as follows:

FLOOR AMENDMENT

Introduced by Delegate Rayburn, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Revenue, Finance and Taxation, and Delegates Alario, Brown, Chehardy, Edwards, Goldman, Mauberret, Mire, Nunez, Planchard, Slay and Winchester:

A PROPOSAL Making provisions for property taxation.

Section 3. Homestcad Exemption; Other Property Exemp-

Section 3. The following property shall be exempt from ad valorem taxation: (A) Homesteads. From state, parish, and special taxes, the homestead, bona fide, consisting of a tract of land, or two or more tracts of land with a residence on one tract and a field, pasture, or garden on the other tract or tracts, not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, buildings and appurtenances, whether rural or urban, owned and occupied by any person, in the full amount of five thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. However, veterans and persons sixty-five years or older shall be provided with a homestead exemption of six thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. No exemption shall extend to any municipal or city taxes except the following: (1) in Orleans Parish this exemption shall apply to the state, the general city, the school, the levee, and levee board taxes; (2) to any municipal or city taxes levied for school purposes. The exemption of homestead shall extend to the surviving spouse or minor child or children of a deceased owner and to the bona fide homestead when occupied as such and title thereto is in either husband or wife, provided that this exemption shall not be extended to more than one homestead owned by the husband or wife.

(B) All public property.

(C) Places of religious worship; property owned by religious denominations and used as residences for clergy or religious; places of burial, and property held by any religious denomination or nonprofit corporation or organization for burial purposes, but the exemption shall not apply to unsold lots, crypts, or places for burial nor shall it apply to lands held for development as places for burial, when so held for profit; universities, schools and colleges; places devoted to charitable undertakings; hospitals, nursing homes, homes for the aged, convalescent and rehabilitation facilities, institutions for treatment, rehabilitation and care of the physically and mentally handicapped or retarded, orphanages, child and/or day care centers, which are organized as non-profit corporations under the Louisiana Non-profit Corporations Law or which are exempt from federal and state income taxation law which are licensed or regulated by the state of Louisiana; organizations such as lodges and clubs organized for charitable and fraternal purposes and practicing the same; but exemption shall extend only to property, and grounds thereunto appurtenant, used for the above mentioned purposes, and not leased for profit or income.

(D) Cash on hand or deposit; stocks and bonds, except bank stocks, which shall be assessed and taxed solely as provided by law, and the tax paid by the banking institution; obligations secured by mortgage on property located in Louisiana and the notes or other evidence thereof; loans by life insurance companies to policyholders, if secured solely by their policies; the legal reserve of domestic life insurance companies; loans by homestead or building and loan associations to their members, if secured solely by stock of said associations; debts due for merchandise or other articles of commerce or for services rendered; obligations of the state or its political subdivisions; all personal property used in the home or on loan in a public place; agricultural products while owned by the producer, agricultural machinery and other implements used exclusively for agricultural purposes, and all animals on the farm, and property belonging to agricultural fair associations; all property used for cultural, mardi-gras carnival or civic activities and not operated for profit to the owners; all oceangoing vessels engaged in international trade and domiciled in Louisiana ports, but this exemption shall not apply to harbor, wharf, shed, and other port dues, and no vessel operated in the coastal trade of the continental United States shall be within the exemption herein granted; boats using gasoline as motor fuel; commercial vessels used for gathering seafood for human consumption; and rights-of-way granted to the State Department of Highways.

(E) From state, parish, and special taxes, all motor vehicles used on the public highways of this state, provided that this exemption shall not extend to any general or special tax levied by the governing authority of any municipality, or district created by any such municipality, unless the governing authority thereof shall provide for such exemption by ordinance or resolution.

(F) The State Board of Commerce and Industry, with the approval of the governor, and the local governing authority may enter into contracts for the exemption of any new manufacturing establishment or an addition or additions to any manufacturing establishment already existing in the state upon such terms and conditions as the board, with the approval of the governor, and the local governing authority, may deem to be to the best interest of the state. The terms "manufacturing establishment" and "addition" or "additions" as used in this Paragraph mean a new plant or establishment or an addition or additions to any existing plant or establishment which engages in the business of working raw materials into wares suitable for use or which gives new shapes, new qualities, or new combinations to matter which already has gone through some artificial process. No exemption shall be contracted for any new manufacturing establishment in any locality where there is a manufacturing establishment actually engaged in the manufacture of the same or closely competitive articles without the written consent of the owner of such existing manufacturing establishment to be attached to and identified with the contract of exemption. No exemption from taxes shall be granted under the authority of this Paragraph for a longer initial period than five calendar years from the date of the execution of the contract of exemption or five calendar years from the date of the completion of the construction as described in the contract for tax exemption, the commencement of the exemption upon either of such dates to be specified in the contract at the discretion of the State Board of Commerce and Industry and subject to approval by the governor. Upon application within ninety days before the expiration of the initial period of five years, and upon proper showing of a full compliance with the contract of exemption by the contractee, any exemption granted under the authority of this subsection shall be renewed for an additional period of five calendar years. Any such exemption shall ipso facto cease upon violation of the terms and conditions of the contract which granted the same. All property exempted, in accordance with the provisions of the paragraph shall be listed on the assessment rolls and submitted to the Louisiana Tax Commission, but no taxes shall be collected thereon during the period of exemption.

(G) (1) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and articles imported into this state from outside of the continental United States:

(a) So long as such imports remain upon the public property of the port authority or docks of any common carrier

where such imports first entered this state; or

(b) So long as any such imports (other than minerals and ores of the same kind as any mined or produced in this state and manufactured articles) are held in this state in the original form in bales, sacks, barrels, boxes, cartons, containers, or other original packages, and raw materials held in bulk as all or a part of the new material inventory of manufacturers or processors, solely for manufacturing or processing; or

(c) So long as any such imports are held by an importer in any public or private storage in the original form in bales, sacks, barrels, boxes, cartons, containers, or other original packages and agricultural produtes in bulk. This shall not apply to a retail merchant holding such imports as part of his stock-in-trade for sale at retail.

(2) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and other articles being held upon the public property of a port authority or docks of any common carrier or in a warehouse, grain elevator, dock, wharf, or public storage facility in this state for export to a point outside the continental United States.

for export to a point outside the continental United States.
(3) All goods, commodities, and personal property in public or private storage while in transit through this state which is (a) moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Louisiana; or (b) which is in public or private storage within the State of Louisiana having been shipped thereto from outside of the State of Louisiana for storage in transit to a final destination outside of the State of Louisiana. whether such destination was specified when transportation begins or afterward.

All such property described in this Paragraph (G) whether entitled to exemption or not shall be reported to the proper taxing authority on the forms required by law.

(H) Additional property may be exempted from taxation if authorized by a two-thirds vote of the elected membership of each house of the legislature.

Read.

The Chairman announced that the Convention had under consideration Committee Proposal No. 26, Section 3, when it adjourned on Friday, October 27, 1973, which was taken up and acted upon as follows:

Motion

Delegate Planchard moved for a suspension of the rules in order to suspend the temporary rules which limited debate to two speakers for each side of the question on the remaining amendments to Section 3.

Delegate Abraham objected.

By a vote of 45 yeas and 42 nays and the Convention refused to suspend the rules at this time.

Motion

Delegate Mire moved that the Convention defer further action on Section 3 at this time.

Delegate D'Gerolamo objected.

By a vote of 64 yeas and 27 nays the Convention deferred further action on Section 3 at this time.

Section 4. No Impairment of Existing Taxes or Obligations Section 4. The provisions of Article XI, Section 2, in no way shall be construed or applied in such a manner as to:
(a) invalidate taxes authorized and imposed prior to the adoption of this constitution; or (b) impair the obligations, validity, or security of any bonds or other debt obligations authorized prior to the adoption of this constitution.

Section 5. Adjustment of Ad Valorem Tax Millages

Pugh

Rachal

Section 5. The amount of taxes collected by any taxing authority in the state shall not be increased or decreased because of the method of assessing property at a uniform ratio of assessment to value as provided in Article XI, Section 1, and it shall be the mandatory duty of all taxing authorities to adjust millages proportionate to adjustments in assessment values so as to produce the same total dollar amount of revenue. Such millage adjustments shall be made without regard to limitations contained elsewhere in this constitution. Nothing provided herein shall be construed to prohibit any taxing authority from collecting a larger dollar amount of ad valorem taxes by means of the following:

(a) by levying additional millages as provided by law; (b) by placing additional property on the tax rolls; or (c) by reason of increased property values due to economic conditions. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to diminish the security of outstanding bonds.

Introduction of Resolutions Delegate and Committee Resolution

The following delegates and Chairmen on behalf of their committees introduced the following entitled resolutions:

COMMITTEE RESOLUTION No. 12-

Introduced by Delegate Zervigon, Chairperson of the Committee on Legislative Liaison and Transitional Measures, and Delegates Comar, D'Gerolamo, Drew, Fayard, Hardee, J. Jackson, Lambert, Lanier, LeBleu, Lennox, Munson, Rayburn, Smith, Thompson, Vick and Womack:

A RESOLUTION

To extend the date by which certain reports shall be transmitted to the Committee on Legislative Liaison and Transitional Measures.

WHEREAS, Committee Resolution Number 11 of this Convention recognizes the need for providing certain information to the Committee on Legislative Liaison and Transitional Measures in order that proper plans may be made to effectuate the transition from the Constitution of 1921 to the new Constitution; and

WHEREAS, it has become evident that the date by which status reports from each substantive committee to the Committee on Legislative Liaison and Transitional Measures should be extended.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that each of the eight substantive committees of the Constitutional Convention of 1973 shall divide the material within its jurisdiction into the categories set forth in Committee Resolution Number 11 and shall submit the written report therein required to the Convention within ten days after first enrollment of each committee and delegate proposal or by November 15, 1973, whichever is the later date.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this Resolution shall be transmitted without delay to the chairman of each of the eight substantive committees of this Convention. Read.

75th Days Proceedings—October 31, 1973

Committee Proposal No. 26, Section 3, upon which action was deferred on Saturday, October 27, 1973, out of its regular order at this time.

Section 3. Homestead Exemption; Other Property Exemptions

Section 3. The following property shall be exempt from ad valorem taxation: (A) Homesteads. From state, parish, and special taxes, the homestead, bona fide, consisting of a tract of land, or two or more tracts of land with a residence on one tract and a field, pasture, or garden on the other tract or tracts, not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, buildings and appurtenances, whether rural or urban, owned and occupied by any person, in the full amount of five thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. However, veterans and persons sixty-five years or older shall be provided with a homestcad exemption of six thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. No exemption shall extend to any municipal or city taxes except the following: (1) in Orleans Parish this exemption shall apply to the state, the general city, the school, the levee, and levee board taxes; (2) to any municipal or city taxes levied for school purposes. The exemption of homestead shall extend to the surviving spouse or minor child or children of a deceased owner and to the bona fide homestead when occupied as such and title thereto is in either husband or wife, provided that this exemption shall not be extended to more than one homestead owned by the husband or wife.

(B) All public property.

(C) Places of religious worship; property owned by religious denominations and used as residences for clergy or religious; places of burial, and property held by any religious denomination or nonprofit corporation or organization for burial purposes, but the exemption shall not apply to unsold lots, crypts, or places for burial nor shall it apply to lands held for development as places for burial, when so held for profit; universities, schools and colleges; places devoted to charitable undertakings; hospitals, nursing homes, homes for the aged, convalescent and rehabilitation facilities, institu-tions for treatment, rehabilitation and care of the physically and mentally handicapped or retarded, orphanages, child and/or day care centers, which are organized as non-profit corporations under the Louisiana Non-profit Corporations Law or which are exempt from federal and state income taxation law which are licensed or regulated by the state of Louisiana; organizations such as lodges and clubs organized for charitable and fraternal purposes and practicing the same; but exemption shall extend only to property, and grounds thereunto appurtenant, used for the above mentioned purposes, and not leased for profit or income.

(D) Cash on hand or deposit; stocks and bonds, except bank stocks, which shall be assessed and taxed solely as provided by law, and the tax paid by the banking institution; obligations secured by mortgage on property located in Louisiana and the notes or other evidence thereof; loans by life insurance companies to policyholders, if secured solely by their policies; the legal reserve of domestic life insurance companies; loans by homestead or building and loan associations to their members, if secured solely by stock of said associations; debts due for merchandise or other articles of commerce or for services rendered; obligations of the state or its political subdivisions; all personal property used in the home or on loan in a public place; agricultural products while owned by the producer, agricultural machinery and other implements used exclusively for agricultural purposes, and all animals on the farm, and property belonging to agricultural fair associations; all property used for cultural, mardi-gras carnival or civic activities and not operated for profit to the owners; all oceangoing vessels engaged in international trade and domiciled in Louisiana ports, but this exemption shall not apply to harbor, wharf, shed, and other port dues, and no vessel operated in the coastal trade of the continental United States shall be within the exemption herein granted; boats using gasoline as motor fuel; commercial vessels used for gathering seafood for human consumption; and rights-of-way granted to the State Department of Highways.

(E) From state, parish, and special taxes, all motor vehicles used on the public highways of this state, provided that this taxing authority on the forms required by law.

exemption shall not extend to any general or special tax levied by the governing authority of any municipality, or district created by any such municipality, unless the governing authority thereof shall provide for such exemption by ordinance or resolution.

(F) The State Board of Commerce and Industry, with the approval of the governor, and the local governing authority may enter into contracts for the exemption of any new manufacturing establishment or an addition or additions to any manufacturing establishment already existing in the state upon such terms and conditions as the board, with the approval of the governor, and the local governing authority, may deem to be to the best interest of the state. The terms "manufacturing establishment" and "addition" or "additions" as used in this Paragraph mean a new plant or establishment or an addition or additions to any existing plant or establishment which engages in the business of working raw materials into wares suitable for use or which gives new shapes. new qualities, or new combinations to matter which already has gone through some artificial process. No exemption shall be contracted for any new manufacturing establishment in any locality where there is a manufacturing establishment actually engaged in the manufacture of the same or closely competitive articles without the written consent of the owner of such existing manufacturing establishment to be attached to and identified with the contract of exemption. No exemption from taxes shall be granted under the authority of this Paragraph for a longer initial period than five calendar years from the date of the execution of the contract of exemption or five calendar years from the date of the completion of the construction as described in the contract for tax exemption, the commencement of the exemption upon either of such dates to be specified in the contract at the discretion of he State Board of Commerce and Industry and subject to approval by the governor. Upon application within ninety days before the expiration of the initial period of five years, and upon proper showing of a full compliance with the contract of exemption by the contractee, any exemption granted under the authority of this subsection shall be renewed for an additional period of five calendar years. Any such exemption shall ipso facto cease upon violation of the terms and conditions of the contract which granted the same. All property exempted, in accordance with the provisions of the paragraph shall be listed on the assessment rolls and submitted to the Louisiana Tax Commission, but no taxes shall be collected thereon during the period of exemption.
(G) (1) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and articles imported into this state from outside of the continental

United States:

(a) So long as such imports remain upon the public property of the port authority or docks of any common carrier where such imports first entered this state; or

(b) So long as any such imports (other than minerals and ores of the same kind as any mined or produced in this state and manufactured articles) are held in this state in the original form in bales, sacks, barrels, boxes, cartons, containers, or other original packages, and raw materials held in bulk as all or a part of the new material inventory of manufacturers or processors, solely for manufacturing or processing; or

(c) So long as any such imports are held by an importer in any public or private storage in the original form in bales, sacks, barrels, boxes, cartons, containers, or other original packages and agricultural products in bulk. This shall not apply to a retail merchant holding such imports as part of his stock-in-trade for sale at retail.

(2) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and other articles being held upon the public property of a port authority or docks of any common carrier or in a warehouse, grain elevator, dock, wharf, or public storage facility in this state for export to a point outside the continental United Staes.

(3) All goods, commodities, and personal property in public or private storage while in transit through this state which is (a) moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Louisiana; or (b) which is in public or private storage within the State of Louisiana having been shipped thereto from outside of the State of Louisiana for storage in transit to a final destination outside of the State of Louisiana, whether such destination was specified when transportation begins or afterward.

All such property described in this Paragraph (G) whether entitled to exemption or not shall be reported to the proper

75th Days Proceedings-October 31, 1973

(H) Additional property may be exempted from taxation if authorized by a two-thirds vote of the elected membership of each house of the legislature.

grounds thereunto appurtenant, used for the above mentioned purposes, and not leased for profit or income.

(D) Cash on hand or deposit; stocks and bonds, except bank stocks, which shall be assessed and taxed solely as provided by law, and the tax paid by the banking intitution; obligations secured by mortgage on property located in Louisiana and the notes or other evidence thereof; loans by life insurance companies to policyholders, if secured solely by their policies; the legal reserve of domestic life insurance companies; loans by homestead or building and loan associations to their members, if secured solely by stock of said associations; debts due for merchandise or other articles of commerce or for services rendered; obligations of the state or its political subdivisions; all personal property used in the home or on loan in a public place; agricultural products while owned by the producers, agricultural machinery and other implements used exclusively for agricultural purposes, and all animals on the farm, and property belonging to agricultural fair associations; all property used for cultural, mardi-gras carnival or civic activities and not operated for profit to the owners; all oceangoing vessels engaged in international trade and domiciled in Louisiana ports, but this exemption shall not apply to harbor, wharf, shed, and other port dues, and no vessel operated in the coastal trade of the continental United States shall be within the exemption herein granted; boats using gasoline as motor fuel; commercial vessels used for gathering seafood for human consumption; and rights-of-way granted to the State Department of Highways.

(E) From state, parish, and special taxes, all motor vehicles used on the public highways of this state, provided that this exemption shall not extend to any general or special tax levied by the governing authority of any municipality, or district created by any such municipality, unless the governing authority thereof shall provide for such exemption by ordinance or resolution.

(F) The State Board of Commerce and Industry, with the approval of the governor, and the local governing authority may enter into contracts for the exemption of any new manufacturing establishment or an addition or additions to any manufacturing establishment already existing in the state upon such terms and conditions as the board, with the approval of the governor, and the local governing authority, may deem to be to the best interest of the state. The terms "manufacturing establishment" and "addition" or "additions" as used in this Paragraph mean a new plant or establishment or an addition or additions to any existing plant or establishment which engages in the business of working raw materials into wares suitable for use or which gives new shapes, new qualities, or new combinations to matter which already has gone through some artificial process. No exemption shall be contracted for any new manufacturing establishment in any locality where there is a manufacturing establishment actually engaged in the manufacture of the same or closely competitive articles without the written consent of the owner of such existing manufacturing establishment to be attached to and identified with the contract of exemption. No exemption from taxes shall be granted under the authority of this Paragraph for a longer initial period than five calendar years from the date of the execution of the contract of exemption or five calendar years from the date of the completion of the construction as described in the contract for tax exemption, the commencement of the exemption upon either of such dates to be specified in the contract at the discresubject to approval by the governor. Upon application within ninety days before the expiration of the initial period of five years, and upon proper showing of a full compliance with the contract of the cont compliance with the contract of exemption by the contractee, any exemption granted under the authority of this subsection shall be renewed for an additional period of five calendar years. Any such exemption shall ipso facto cease upon violation of the terms and conditions of the contract which granted the same. All property exempted, in accordance with the provisions of the paragraph shall be listed on the assessment rolls and submitted to the Louisiana Tax Commission, but no taxes shall be collected thereon during the period of exemption.

(G) (1) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and articles

imported into this state from outside of the continental United States:

(a) So long as such imports remain upon the public property of the port authority or docks of any common carrier where such imports first entered this state; or

(b) So long as any such imports (other than minerals and ores of the same kind as any mined or produced in this state and manufactured articles) are held in this state in the original form in bales, sacks, barrels, boxes, cartons, containers, or other original packages, and raw materials hould in bulk as all or a part of the new material inventory of manufacturers or processors, solely for manufacturing or processing; or

(c) So long as any such imports are held by an importer in any public or private storage in the original form in bales, sacks, barrels, boxes, cartons, containers, or other original packages and agricultural products in bulk. This shall not apply to a retail merchant holding such imports as part of his stock-in-trade for sale at retail.

(2) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and other articles being held upon the public property of a port authority or docks of any common carrier or in a warehouse, grain elevator, dock, wharf, or public storage facility in this state for export to a point outside the continental United States.

(3) All goods, commodities, and personal property in public or private storage while in transit through this state which is (a) moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Louisiana; or (b) which is in public or private storage within the State of Louisiana having been shipped thereto from ouside of the State of Louisiana for storage in transit to a final destination ouside of the State of Louisiana, whether such destination was specified when transportation begins or afterward.

All such property described in this Paragraph (G) whether entitled to exemption or not shall be reported to the proper taxing authority on the forms required by law.

(H) Additional property may be exempted from taxation if authorized by a two-thirds vote of the elected membership of each house of the legislature.

On motion of Delegate Zervigon the Convention took up Committee Proposal No. 26, Section 5, out of its regular order at this time.

Section 5. Adustment of Ad Valorem Tax Millages

Section 5. The amount of taxes collected by any taxing authority in the state shall not be increased or decreased because of the method of assessing property at a uniform ratio of assessment to value as provided in Article XI, Section 1, and it shall be the mandatory duty of all taxing authorities to adjust millages proportionate to adjustments in assessment values so as to produce the same total dollar amount of revenue. Such millage adjustments shall be made without regard to limitations contained elsewhere in this constitution. Nothing provided herein shall be construed to prohibit any taxing authority from collecting a larger dollar amount of ad valorem taxes by means of the following: (a) by levying additional millages as provided by law; (b) by placing additional property on the tax rolls; or (c) by reason of increased property values due to economic conditions. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to diminish the security of outstanding bonds.

Prior to the end of the third year after the effective date of the constitution, the assessors shall have determined the fair market value or use value of all property subject to taxation within their respective parishes to be used for the purpose of implementing the provisions of this Article. Except as hereinafter provided in this Paragraph, the total amount of ad valorem taxes collected by any taxing authority in the year in which the provisions of this Article are implemented shall not be increased or decreased because of the provisions of this Article above or below ad valorem taxes collected by such taxing authority in the year immediately preceding the year in which the provisions of this Article are implemented. To accomplish this result, it shall be the mandatory duty of each affected taxing authority in the year in which the provisions of this Article are implemented, to adjust millages upwards or downwards, without regard to millage limitations contained in Article VI of this constitution. Such millages shall thereafter remain in effect subject to such changes as may be permitted by law. Nothing provided herein shall be construed to prohibit any taxing authority from collecting, in the year

Amend reprinted as engrossed proposal as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1-

On page 8, delete lines 7 through 18, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following: "Section 6. Revenue Sharing Fund; Distribution; Pledge of Proceeds

Section 6. (A) A special fund is created in the state treasury to be known as the Revenue Sharing Fund.

(B) There hereby is allocated annually from the State General Fund to the Revenue Sharing Fund whichever is greater of the following: (1) a sum equal to forty-five percent of the total state income tax collections for the preceding fiscal year or (2) the sum of ninety million dollars. The legislature may appropriate additional sums to the Revenue Sharing Fund.

76th Days Proceedings-November 1, 1973

(C) The Revenue Sharing Fund shall be distributed annually to each parish according to the following formula: the sum total of (1) an amount equal to that percentage of eighty percent of the total fund equal to the ratio which the population of the parish bears to the total state population and (2) an amount equal to that percenage of twenty percent of the total fund equal to the ratio which the number of homesteads in the parish bears to the total number of homesteads in the state. Unless the legislature provides otherwise, population statistics of the last federal decennial census shall be utilized in this formula.

(D) The funds distributed to each parish as provided in Paragraph (C) shall be distributed in Orleans Parish by the city treasurer of the city of New Orleans and in all other parishes by the parish tax collector. After deductions for retirement systems and commissions as authorized by law, the remaining funds, to the extent available, by first priority shall be distributed to the tax recipient bodies, as defined by law, within the parish to offset current losses because of homestead exemptions granted in this Article. Any balance thereafter remaining in any parish distribution shall be allocated within each parish in accordance with law.

(E) Any political subdivision, as defined by Article VI of this constitution, may incur debt by the issuance of negotiable bonds, and may pledge, for the payment of all or part of the principal and interest of such bonds, the proceeds derived or to be derived from the Revenue Sharing Fund as provided in Paragraph (D) of this Section. These bonds shall be issued and sold as provided by law. The full faith and credit of the state hereby is pledged to the payment of the principal and interest on bonds authorized and issued under this Section only if there has been approval by the State Bond Commission of the issuance and sale of such bonds."

"Section 6. Revenue Sharing Fund; Distribution; Pledge of

Proceeds

Section 6. (A) A special fund is created in the state treasury to be known as the Revenue Sharing Fund.

(B) There is hereby allocated annually from the State General Fund to the Revenue Sharing Fund the sum of ninety million dollars. The legislature may appropriate additional sums to the Revenue Sharing Fund.

(C) The Revenue Sharing Fund shall be distributed annually as provided by the legislature solely on the basis of population and number of homesteads in each parish in proportion to population and the number of homesteads throughout the state. Unless the legislature provides otherwise, population statistics of the last federal decennial census shall be utilized for this purpose.

(D) The funds distributed to each parish as provided in Paragraph (C) shall be distributed in Orleans Parish by the city treasurer of the city of New Orleans and in all other parishes by the parish tax collector. The funds allocated to the Monroe City School Board, or its successor, shall be distributed to and by the city treasurer of the city of Monroe. After deductions, in each parish, for retirement systems and commissions as authorized by law, the remaining funds, to the extent available, by first priority shall be distributed to the tax recipient bodies, as defined by law, within the parish to offset current losses because of homestead exemptions granted in this Article. Any balance thereafter remaining in any parish distribution shall be allocated to the municipalities and lax recipient bodies within each parish in accordance with law.

(E) Any political subdivision, as defined by Article VI of this constitution, may incur debt by the issuance of negotiable bonds, and may pledge for the payment of all or part of the principal and interest of such bonds the proceeds derived or to be derived from that portion of the funds received by it from the Revenue Sharing Fund, as provided in Paragraph (D) of this Section, to offset current losses caused by homestead exemptions granted by this Article. Unless otherwise provided by the legislature, no portion of any moneys allocated within any parish out of any balance remaining in any parish distribution, as provided in Paragraph (D) hereof, may be pledged to the payment of the principal or interest of any bonds. These bonds shall be issued and sold as provided by law, and shall require the approval of the State Bond Commission, or its successor, prior to issuance

No judgment annulling a tax sale shall have effect until the price and all taxes and costs are paid, with ten percent per annum interest on the amount of the price and taxes paid from date of respective payments, be previously paid to the purchaser; provided, this shall not apply to sales annulled on account of taxes having been paid prior to the date of sale, all deeds of sale made, or that may be made, by the collectors of taxes, shall be received by courts in evidence as prima facie valid sales.

No sale of property for taxes shall be set aside for any cause, except on proof of payment of the taxes for which the property was sold prior to the date of the sale, unless the proceeding to annul is instituted within six months from service of notice of sale, which notice shall not be served until the time of redemption shall have expired and within five years from the date of the recordation of the tax deed, if no notice is given. The fact that taxes were paid on a part of the property sold, prior to the sale thereof, or that part thereof was not subject to taxation, shall not be cause for annulling the sale as to any part thereof on which the taxes for which it was sold were due and unpaid."

On motion of Delegate Avant the amendment was withdrawn.

Delegate Lanier sent up a floor amendment, which was read as follows:

FLOOR AMENDMENT

Failed to pass. Motion to reconsider pending.

Delegate Avant sent up a floor amendment, which was read as follows:

FLOOR AMENDMENT

Amendment proposed by Delegate Avant to Committee Proposal No. '26 by Delegate Rayburn, et al.

Amend reprinted as engrossed proposal as follows:

On page 9, line 13, add the following:

"Section 9. Tax Sales; Redemption of Property Section 9. There shall be no forfeiture of property for the nonpayment of taxes, but at the expiration of the year in which said taxes are due, the collector shall, without suit, and after giving notice to the delinquent in the manner provided by law, advertise for sale in the official journal of the parish or municipality, provided there be an official journal in such parish or municipality; or, if not, then, as is now or may be provided by law for sheriff's sales, the property on which the taxes are due in the manner provided for judicial sales, and on the day of sale he shall sell such portion of the property as the debtor shall point out and in case the debtor shall not point out sufficient property, the collector shall, at once and without further delay, sell the least quantity of propery which any bidder will buy for the amount of taxes, interest and costs. The sale shall be without appraisement and the property sold shall be redeemable at any time during three years from date of recordation of the taxe sale, by paying the price given, including costs and five per cent penalty thereon, with interest at the rate of one per cent per month until redeemed. No judgment annulling a tax sale shall have effect until the price and all taxes and costs are paid, with ten percent per annum interest on the amount of the price and taxes paid from date of respective payments, be previously paid to the purchaser; provided, this shall not apply to sales annulled on account of taxes having been paid prior to the date of sale, all deeds of sale made, or that may be made, by the collectors of taxes, shall be received by courts in evidence as prima facie valid sales.

No sale of property for taxes shall be set aside for any cause, except on proof of payment of the taxes for which the property was sold prior to the date of the sale, unless

the proceeding to annul is instituted within six months from service of notice of sale, which notice shall not be served until the time of redemption shall have expired and within five years from the date of the recordation of the tax deed, if no notice is given. The fact that taxes were paid on a part of the property sold, prior to the sale thereof, or that part thereof was not subject to taxation, shall not be cause for annulling the sale as to any part thereof on which the taxes for which it was sold were due and unpaid."

The manner of notice and form of preceeding to quiet tax titles shall be provided by law. Taxes on movables shall be collected by seizure and sale by the tax collector of the movable property of the delinquent, whether it be the property assessed or not, sufficient to pay the tax. Sale of such property shall be made at public auction, without appraisement, after ten days advertisement, made within ten days from date of seizure, and shall be absolute and without redemption.

If the tax collector can find no corporeal movables of the delinquent to seize, he may levy on incorporeal rights, by notifying the debtor thereof, or he may proceed by summary rule in the courts to compel the delinquents to deliver up for sale property in his possession or under his control.

The legislature shall be authorized to postpone the payment of taxes, only in cases of overflow, general conflagration, general destruction of crops, or other public calamity, and may provide for the levying, assessing and collecting such postponed taxes under appropriate terms and conditions. In such cases the legislature may authorize the borrowing of money by the state on its faith and credit, by bond issue or otherwise, and levy taxes, or apply taxes already levied and not appropriated, to secure payment thereof, in order to create a fund from which loans may be made through the State Board of Liquidation to the governing authority of the parish where the calamity befalls, to be applied to and not to exceed the deficiency and revenue of the parish or any political subdivision therein, or of which the parish is a part, caused by postponement of taxes. No loans shall be made to the governing authority of any parish without the approval of the State Board of Liquidation.

Delegate Avant moved the adoption of the amendment.

Delegate Asseff objected.

A record vote was asked for and ordered by the Convention.

Explanation of Vote

By Gary O'Neill:

Total-25.

My favorable vote on this article is not reflective of my views on property taxation. Rather, it is a vote on the most restrictive article we could possibly achieve in this Convention. While I do not favor taxation on private property, I feel this article will impose such limitations as to prevent confiscatory taxation levels in the future.

Proposals

Delegate and Committee

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL NUMBER 17-

Introduced by Delegate Perez, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Local and Parochial Government, and Delegates Burson, Cannon, Chatelain, Conino, D'Gerolamo, Fowler, Giarrusso, Hayes, Heine, J. Jackson, Kean, Lanier, Reeves, Shannon, Stephenson, Taylor, Toomy, Ullo, and Zervigon:

A PROPOSAL

Making general provisions for local and parochial government, levee districts, and ports, the financing thereof, and necessary provisions with respect thereto.

Called from the Calendar.

Section 31. Parish Tax Limits; Increase; Withdrawal of Municipality from Parish Taxing Authority

Section 31. (A) The governing authority of each parish may levy an ad valorem tax for general purposes, in an amount not to exceed in any one year, four mills on the dollar of assessed valuation. However, in Orleans Parish the limitation shall be seven mills and in Jackson Parish the limitation shall be five mills. Millage rates may be increased in any parish when approved by a majority of the electors who vote in an election held for that purpose.

(B) When the millage increase is for other than general purposes, the proposition shall state the specific purpose or purposes for which the tax is to be levied, the length of time the tax is to remain in effect, and all proceeds of the tax shall be dedicated to the purpose or purposes set forth in the proposition.

forth in the proposition.

(C) The amount of the parish tax for general purposes which any parish, except the parish of Orleans, may levy, without a vote of the electors, on property located wholly within any municipality, which has a population in excess of one thousand inhabitants according to the last census and which provides and maintains a system of street paving, shall not exceed one-half the tax levy for general purposes.

(D) This Section shall not be construed to repeal or af-feet the withdrawal of property in a municipality from parochial taxing jurisdiction, in whole or in part, by a provision of the legislative charter of the municipality in effect on the date of adoption of this constitution.

"Section 34. Local Governmental Subdivisions and School Boards; Sales Tax Authorized; Limitations; Exemptions; Protection of Existing Sales Tax Authorizations and the Security

of Outstanding Bonds

(A) Except as otherwise authorized in a home rule charter provided for in Section 7 of this Article, any local governmental subdivision or school board is authorized to levy and collect a tax upon the sale at retail, the use, the lease or rental, the consumption and storage for use or consumption of tangible personal property and on sales of services as defined by law, upon submission of a proposition for the imposition of such tax to the electors thereof and approval by a majority of the qualified electors who vote in an election held for that purpose. The rate thereof, when combined with the rate of all other presently imposed or future sales and use taxes, exclusive of state sales and use taxes, levied and collected within any local governmental subdivision, shall not exceed three percent; however, the legislature, upon a two-thirds vote of both houses thereof, may by general or special law, authorize the imposition of additional sales and use taxes by local governmental subdivisions or school boards, upon approval by the qualified electors thereof as herein provided. Nothing contained in this Section shall be construed to amend, repeal, or affect any special laws relative to the taxing powers of particular local governmental subdivisions, or school boards, any sales and use tax authorized or imposed on the effective date of this constitution or to affect or impair the security of any bonds payable from such tax.

79th Days Proceedings-November 6, 1973

(B) The legislature shall have the authority by general law to exempt or exclude any goods or tangible personal property or services from sales and use taxes levied by local governmental subdivisions, which exemptions or exclusions shall also apply to state sales and use taxes. However, such exemptions or exclusions shall not be enacted in such a manner as to impair the security for any bonds outstanding at the time such exemptions or exclusions are enacted, or to reduce the tax base by which said outstanding bonds are secured."

Delegate Lanier moved the adoption of the amendment. Delegate Avant objected.

To the Chairman and Delegates of the Convention:

I submit the following report:

That the following Committee Proposal has been properly enrolled:

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 26-

Introduced by Delegate Rayburn, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Revenue, Finance and Taxation, and Delegates Alario, Brown, Chehardy, Edwards, Goldman, Mauberret, Mire, Nunez, Planchard, Slay, and Winchester: A PROPOSAL

Making provisions for property taxation.

Be it adopted by the Constitutional Convention of Louisiana of 1973:

ARTICLE XI. REVENUE AND FINANCE Section 1. Assessment of Property; Classification; Asses-

sors; Right of Taxpayer; Exemptions from Ad Valorem Property Taxation

Section 1. (A) All property subject to ad valorem taxation shall be listed on the assessment rolls at its assessed valuation which shall be a percentage of its fair market value; such percentage of fair market value shall be uniform throughout the state upon the same class of property.

(B) The classifications of property subject to ad valorem taxation and the percentage of fair market value applicable to each such classification for the purpose of determining assessed valuation are as follows:

CLASSIFICATIONS:	PERCENTAGES
1. All land	10%
2. Improvements for Residential	Purposes10%
3. All other property	15%
(C) Assessors shall determine the	e fair market value of al property subject to taxation within their respective parishes and districts except public service properties which shall be valued at fair market value by the Louisiana Tax Commission. Fair market value and use value of property shall be determined in accordance with criteria which shall be established by the legislature and which shall be uniformly applicable throughout the state.

(D) The correctness of assessments by the assessor shall be subject to review by the governing authority of the parish, then by the Louisiana Tax Commission, and finally by the courts in accordance with procedures established by law.

(E) Bona fide agricultural, horticultural, marsh lands, and timber lands, as defined by general law, will be assessed for the purpose of taxation at ten percent of use value rather than fair market value. The legislature may make similar provisions for buildings of historic architectural importance.

(F) Homesteads shall be exempt from ad valorem property taxation as follows:

From state, parish, and special taxes, the bona fide homestead, consisting of a tract of land, or two or more tracts of land with a residence on one tract and a field, pasture, or garden on the other tract or tracts, not exceeding one hundred sixty acres, buildings and appurtenances, whether rural or urban, owned and occupied by any person, in the full amount of three thousand dollars of the assessed valuation; however, by the favorable vote of two-thirds of the elected members of each house, the legislature may increase this exemption to an amount which shall not exceed the full amount of five thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. Veterans of the armed forces of the United States who have been honorably discharged or separated from such services or persons who served in said armed forces, as defined by general law, and persons sixty-five years or older shall be provided with a homestead exemption of five thousand dollars of the assessed valuation. No exemption shall extend to any municipal or city taxes except the following: (1) in Orleans Parish this exemption shall apply to the state, the general city, the school, the levee, and levee board taxes: and (2) to any municipal or city taxes levied for school purposes. The exemption of homesteads shall extend to the surviving spouse or minor child or children of a deceased owner and to the bona fide homestead when occupied as such and title thereto is in either husband or wife, but this exemption shall not be extended to more than one homestead owned by the husband or wife. Notwithstanding anything in this Constitution to the contrary, in order to provide equitable tax relief similar to that granted to homeowners through homestead property tax exemptions, the legislature may provide for tax relief to residential lessees in the form of credits or rebates.

(G) All property subject to taxation shall be reappraised and valued in accordance with the provisions of this Section at intervals of not more than four years.

(H) The provisions of this Section shall become effective commercing January 1 of the year following the end of three years after the effective date of this constitution, and until that date the provisions of the 1921 Constitution governing matters covered by this Section shall continue and be fully applicable, notwithstanding any contrary expiration date stated in any provision thereof with respect to the veterans homestead exemption.

Section 2. The rate of state taxation on property for all purposes shall not exceed, in any one year, five and three-quarter mills on the dollar of its assessed value.

Section 3. Other Property Exemptions

Section 3. In addition to the homestead exemption provided for in Section 1 of this Article, the following property shall be exempt from ad valorem taxation:

(A) All public lands; all other public property used for public purposes.

(C) That owned by nonprofit corporations or associations organized and operated exclusively for religious, dedicated places of burial, charitable, health, welfare, fraternal, or educational purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inure to the benefit of any private shareholder or member thereof and which is declared to be exempt from federal or state income tax; property of bona fide labor organizations representing their members or affiliates in collective bargaining efforts; organizations such as lodges and clubs organized for charitable and fraternal purposes and practicing the same, and properties of nonprofit corporations devoted to the promotion of trade, travel, and commerce, and trade, business, industry and professional societies or associations provided such property is owned by nonprofit corporations or associations organized under the laws of the state of Louisiana for such purposes; except property owned, operated, leased, or used for commercial purposes, unrelated to the exempt purposes of said corporation or association.

(D) Cash on hand or deposit, stocks and bonds, except bank stocks, the tax on which shall be paid by the banking institution; obligations secured by mortgage on property located in Louisiana and the notes or other evidence thereof; lears by life insurance companies to policyholders, if secured solely by their policies; the legal reserve of domestic life insurance companies; loans by homestead or building and loan associations to their members, if secured solely by stock of said associations; debts due for merchandise or other articles of commerce or for services rendered; obligations of the state or its political subdivisions; all personal property used in the home or on loan in a public place; agricultural products while owned by the producer, agricultural machinery and other implements used exclusively for agricultural purposes, and all animals on the farm, and property belonging to agricultural fair associations; all property used for cultural, Mardi Gras carnival or civic activites and not operate for profit to the owners; all ships and oceangoing tugs, towboats, and barges engaged in international trade and domiciled in Louisiana ports, but this exemption shall not apply to harbor, wharf, shed, and other port dues, and no vessel operated in the coastal trade of the continental United States shall be within the exemption herein granted; boats using gasoline as motor fuel; commercial vessels used for gathering seafood for human consumption; and rights-of-way granted to the State Department of Highways,

(E) From state, parish, and special taxes, all motor vehicles used on the public highways of this state, provided that this exemption shall not extend to any general or special tax levied by the governing authority of any municipality, or district created by any such municipality, unless the governing authority thereof shall provide for such exemption by ordinance or resolution.

(F) Notwithstanding any provision of this Section to the contrary, the legislature may authorize the State Board of Commerce and Industry, under such conditions and terms and with such approval as the legislature may specify, to provide for the exemption from property taxation of any new manufacturing establishment or an addition or additions to any manufacturing establishment already existing in the state.

No exemption granted under the authority of such laws as may be enacted pursuant to this Section shall extend for a longer initial period than five calendar years, or be renewable for an additional period in excess of five additional calendar years.

(G) (1) All raw materials, goods, commodities, and articles imported into this state from outside of the continental United States:

(a) So long as such imports remain upon the public property of the port authority or docks of any common carrier

where such imports first entered this state; or

(b) So long as any such imports (other than minerals and ones of the same kind as any mined or produced in this state and manufactured articles) are held in this state in ate stated in any provision thereof with respect to the containers, or other original packages, and raw materials bection 2. of manufacturers or processors, solely for manufacturing or processing; or

(2) All raw materials goods, commodities, and other articles being held upon the public property of a port authority or docks of any common carrier or in a warehouse, grain elevator, dock, wharf, or public storage facility in this state for export to a point outside the continental United States.

(3) All goods, commodities, and personal property in public or private storage while in transit through this state which is (a) moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Louisiana; or (b) which is in public or private storage within the State of Louisiana having been shipped thereto from outside of the State of Louisiana for storage in transit to a final destination outside of the State of Louisiana, whether such destination was specified when transportation begins or afterward.

All such property described in this Paragraph (G) whether entitled to exemption or not shall be reported to the proper taxing authority on the forms required by law.

(H) No additional property may be exempted from taxation.

Section 4. No Impairment of Existing Taxes or Obliga-

Section 4. The provisions of this Article in no way shall be construed or applied in such a manner as to: (a) invalidate taxes authorized and imposed prior to the adoption of this constitution; or (b) impair the obligations, validity, or security of any bonds or other debt obligations authorized prior to the adoption of this constitution.

Section 5. Adjustment of Ad Valorem Tax Millages

Section 5. Prior to the end of the third year after the effective date of the constitution, the assessors and the Louisiana Tax Commission shall have determined the fair market value or use value of all property subject to taxation within the respective parishes to be used for the purpose of implementing the provisions of this Article, Except as hereinafter provided in this Paragraph, the total amount of ad valorem taxes collected by any taxing authority in the year in which the provisions of this Article are implemented shall not be increased or decreased because of the provisions of this Article above or below ad valorem taxes collected by such taxing authority in the year immediately preceding the year in which the provisions of this Article are implemented. To accomplish this result, it shall be the mandatory duty of each affected taxing authority, in the year in which the provisions of this Article are implemented, to adjust millages upwards or downwards, without regard to millage limitations contained in this constitution; however, whenever at the time the adjustment is made the millage actually levied by a taxing authority is less than or equal to the maximum authorized to be levied, the maximum millage so authorized shall be increased or decreased, without further voter approval, in proportion to the amount of the adjustment upward or downward. Such millages shall thereafter remain in effect subject to such changes as may be permitted by this constitution. Nothing provided herein shall be construed to prohibit any taxing authority from collecting, in the year in which the provisions of this Article are implemented or in any subsequent year, a larger dollar amount of ad valorem taxes by means of the following: (a) by levying additional or increased millages as provided by law; (b) by placing additional property on the tax rolls; or (c) by reason of increases in the fair market value or use value of property after the first determination of such value on the basis of which the provisions of this Article are to be implemented. The provisions of this Section shall not apply to millages required to be levied for the payment of general obligation bonds.

Section 6. Revenue Sharing Fund; Distribution; Pledge of Proceeds

(A) A special fund is created in the state Section 6. treasury to be known as the Revenue Sharing Fund.

ninety million dollars. The legislature may appropriate additional sums to the Revenue Sharing Fund.

(C) The Revenue Sharing Fund shall be distributed annually as provided by the legislature solely on the basis of population and number of homesteads in each parish in proportion to population and the number of homesteads throughout the state. Unless the legislature provides otherwise, population statistics of the last federal decennial census shall be utilized for this purpose.

(D) The funds distributed to each parish as provided in Paragraph (C) shall be distributed in Orleans Parish by the city treasurer of the city of New Orleans and in all other parishes by the parish tax collector. The funds allocated to the Monroe City School Board, or its successor, shall be distributed to and by the city treasurer of the city of Monroe. After deductions, in each parish, for retirement systems and commissions as authorized by law, the remaining funds, to the extent available, by first priority shall be distributed to the tax recipient bodies, as defined by law, within the parish to offset current losses because of homestead exemptions granted in this Article. Any balance thereafter remaining in any parish distribution shall be allocated to the municipalities and tax recipient bodies within each parish in accordance with law.

(E) Any political subdivision, as defined by Article VI of this constitution, may incur debt by the issuance of negotiable bonds, and may pledge for the payment of all or part of the principal and interest of such bonds the proceeds derived or to be derived from that portion of the funds received by it from the Revenue Sharing Fund, as provided in Paragraph (D) of this Section, to offset current losses caused by homestead exemptions granted by this Article. Unless otherwise provided by the legislature, no portion of any moneys allocated within any parish out of any balance remaining in any parish distribution, as previded in Paragraph (D) hereof, may be pledged to the payment of the principal or interest of any bonds. These bonds shall be issued and sold as provided by law, and shall require the approval of the State Bond Commission, or its successor, prior to issuance and sale.

Section 8. Tax Assessor

Section 8. (A) There shall be a tax assessor elected by the qualified electors of each parish in the state, parish of Orleans excepted. His term of office shall be four years and the legislature shall define his duties, fix his compensation, and provide for his election.

(B) There shall be seven assessors in the city of New Orleans, who together shall compose the Board of Assessors for the parish of Orleans. One shall be elected from each municipal district of the city of New Orleans, and they shall be residents of the districts from which they are elected. Their terms shall be four years and they shall be elected at the same time as the municipal officers of the city of New Orleans.

(C) When a vacancy occurs in the office of tax assessor the duties of the office, until it is filled by election as provided by law, shall be assumed by the chief deputy assessor, except in the parish of Orleans, where the Board of Assessors for the parish of Orleans shall appoint the interim assessor.

Section 9. Tax Sales; Redemption of Property

Section 9. There shall be no forfeiture of property for the nonpayment of taxes, but at the expiration of the year in which said taxes are due, the collector shall, without suit, and after giving notice to the delinquent in the manner provided by law, advertise for sale in the official journal of the parish or municipality, provided there be an official journal in such parish or municipality; or, if not, then, as is now or may be provided by law for sheriff's sales, the property on which the taxes are due in the manner provided for judicial sales, and on the day of sale he shall sell such portion of the property as the debtor shall point out and in case the debtor shall not point out sufficient property, the collector shall, at once and without further delay, sell the least quantity of property which any bidder will buy for the amount of taxes, interest and costs. The sale shall be without appraisement and the property sold shall be redeemable at any time during three years from date of recordation of the tax sale, by paying the price given, including costs and five per cent penalty thereon, with interest at the rate of one per cent per month until redeemed. No judgment annulling a tax sale shall have effect until the price and all taxes and costs are paid, with ten percent per annum interest on the (B) There is hereby allocated annually from the State are paid, with ten percent per annum interest on the General Fund to the Revenue Sharing Fund the sum of amount of the price and taxes paid from date of respective payments, be previously paid to the purchaser; provided, this shall not apply to sales annulled on account of taxes having been paid prior to the date of sale, all deeds of sale made, or that may be made, by the collectors of taxes, shall be received by courts in evidence as prima facie valid sales.

No sale of property for taxes shall be set aside for any cause, except on proof of payment of the taxes for which the property was sold prior to the date of the sale, unless the proceeding to annul is instituted within six months from service of notice of sale, which notice shall not be served until the time of redemption shall have expired and within five years from the date of the recordation of the tax deed, if no notice is given. The fact that taxes were paid on a part of the property sold, prior to the sale thereof, of that part thereof was not subject to taxation, shall not be cause for annulling the sale as to any part thereof on which the taxes for which it was sold were due and unpaid.

The manner of notice and form of proceeding to quiet tax titles shall be provided by law. Taxes on movables shall be collected by seizure and sale by the tax collector of the movable property of the delinquent, whether it be the property assessed or not, sufficient to pay the tax. Sale of such property shall be made at public auction, without appraisement, after ten days advertisement, made within ten days from date of seizure, and shall be absolute and without redemption.

If the tax collector can find no corporeal movables of the delinquent to seize, he may levy on incorporeal rights, by notifying the debtor thereof, or he may proceed by summary rule in the courts to compel the delinquents to deliver up for sale property in his possession or under his to Wednesday, November 7, 1973, at 9:00 o'clock A.M. control.

The legislature shall be authorized to postpone the payment of taxes, only in cases of overflow, general conflagration, general destruction of crops, or other public calamity, and may provide for the levying, assessing and collecting such postponed taxes under appropriate terms and conditions. In such cases the legislature may authorize the borrowing of money by the state on its faith and credit, by bond issue or otherwise, and levy taxes, or apply taxes already levied and not appropriated, to secure payment thereof, in order to create a fund from which loans may be made through the State Board of Liquidation to the governing authority of the parish where the calamity befalls, to be applied to and not to exceed the deficiency and revenue of the parish or any political subdivision therein, or of which the parish is a part, caused by postponement of taxes. No loans shall be made to the governing authority of any parish without the approval of the State Board of Liquidation.

Respectfully submitted,

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 17-

Introduced by Delegate Perez, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Local and Parochial Government, and Delegates Burson, Cannon, Chatelain, Conino, D'Gerolamo, Fowler, Giarrusso, Hayes, Heine, J. Jackson, Kean, Lanier, Reeves, Shannon, Stephenson, Taylor, Toomy, Ullo, and Zervigon:

A PROPOSAL

Making general provisions for local and parochial government, levee districts, and ports, the financing thereof, and necessary provisions with respect thereto.

Section 34. Local Governmental Subdivisions; Sales Tax Authorized

Section 34. (A) Except as otherwise authorized in a home rule charter provided for in Sections 7 of this Article, local governmental subdivisions and school districts are authorized to levy and collect a tax upon the sale at retail, the use, the lease or rental, the consumption and storage for use or consumption of tangible personal property, and on sales of services, as defined by law. However, the rate thereof when combined with the rate of all other presently imposed or future sales and use taxes, exclusive of state sales and use taxes, levied and collected within any local governmental subdivision shall not exceed three percent.

(B) No tax authorized in Paragraph (A) of this Section shall become effective until a proposition for the imposition thereof is submitted to the electors of the affected local governmental subdivision and approved by a majority of the electors who vote in the election held for that purpose.

(C) The legislature shall have the authority by general law to exempt or exclude any goods or tangible personal property or services from any sales and use tax levied by a local governmental subdivision. However, such exemptions or exclusions shall also apply to state sales and use taxes.

(D) The legislature by general or special law may authorize the imposition of additional sales and use taxes by local governmental subdivisions in excess of that provided in paragraph (A) of this Section, provided that such taxes are approved by the electors of the local governmental subdivision as provided in paragraph (B) of this Section.

(E) Nothing contained in this Section shall be construed to repeal or affect any sales and use tax authorized or imposed by any municipality, parish, or school board as provided by law or a home rule charter or plan of government on the effective date of this constitution.

Amendment proposed by Delegates Lanier, Chatelain, Pugh, A. Landry, Juneau, Bollinger, Carmouche, Conino, Riecke, E. Landry, Wattigny, Corne and Zervigon to Committee Proposal No. 17 by Delegate Perez, et al.

Amend reprinted as engrossed proposal as follows:

AMENDMENT No. 1-

On page 17, delete lines 13 through 32, both inclusive, in their entirety and on page 18, delete lines 1 through 18, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 34. Local Governmental Subdivisions and School Boards; Sales Tax Authorized; Limitations; Exemptions; Protection of Existing Sales Tax Authorizations and the Security

of Outstanding Bonds

(A) Except as otherwise authorized in a home rule charter as provided for in Section 7 of this Article, any local governmental subdivision or school board may levy and collect a tax upon the sale at retail, the use, the lease or rental, the consumption and storage for use or comsumption of tangible personal property and on sales of services as defined by law, if approved by a majority of the electors who vote in an election held for that purpose. The rate thereof, when combined with the rate of all other presently imposed or future sales and use taxes, exclusive of state sales and use taxes, levied and collected within any local governmental sub-division, shall not exceed three percent; however, the legislature may by general or special law, authorize the imposition of additional sales and use taxes by local governmental subdivisions or school boards, upon approval by the electors thereof as herein provided. Nothing contained in this Sub-section shall be construed to affect any sales or use tax authorized or imposed on the effective date of this constitution or to affect or impair the security of any bords payable from such tax.

(B) Except where bonds in connection therewith have been authorized, the legislature may uniformly exempt or exclude any goods, tangible personal property, or services from sales or use taxes levied by local governmental subdivisions, school boards, and the state.

Delegate Lanier moved the adoption of the amendment.

Delegate Flory objected.

By a vote of 80 yeas and 19 nays the amendment was adopted.

Delegate Lanier moved to reconsider the vote by which the amendment was adopted, and on his own motion, the motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Committee Proposal No. 17, Section 34 was read, as amended.

Delegate Perez moved the final passage of the Section.

Section 40. Limitations on Bonded Indebtedness of Political Subdivisions

Section 40. (A) General obligation bonds may be issued by any political subdivision for any single purpose which, including the existing bonds of such political subdivision incurred for the same purpose and payable solely from ad valorem taxes levied without limitation as to rate or amount, shall not exceed in the aggregate ten percent of the total value of all property within such subdivision valued for assessment purposes, including property exempt as homesteads, to be ascertained by the last such valuation for political subdivision purposes previous to incurring such indebtedness except that: (1) as to both parishwide school districts and other school districts, the limitation shall be twentyfive percent of the total value of all property within such

(2) as to general obligation industrial development bonds, such limitation shall be twenty percent of the total value of all property within the political subdivision valued for assessment purposes as aforesaid.

(B) Any municipality financing and operating its own schools and not located within a parishwide or other school district shall be regarded as and treated on the same basis for the purpose of debt limitation and shall have the same authority for all purposes of this Section as though it were such a school district.

(C) The legislature may increase the debt limitations established in this Section by general law or by local or special law passed by a two-thirds vote of the elected membership of each house.

(D) Bonds and other debt obligations payable from acreage taxes, sales and use taxes, excess revenues, special assessments, or other special revenues shall not be considered to be bonds payable solely from ad valorem taxes for all purposes of this Section.

On motion of Delegate Perez action on the above Section was deferred at this time.

Section 41. Limited Time for Contesting Bonds of Political Subdivisions

Section 41. (A) For a period of sixty days from the promulgation of the result of any election held for the purpose of incurring or assuming debt, issuing bonds, or levying a tax, any person in interest shall have the right to contest the legality of such election, the bond issue provided for, or the tax authorized, for any cause after which time no one shall have any cause or right of action to contest the regularity, formality, or legality of said election, tax provisions, or bond authorization, for any cause whatsoever. If the validity of any election, tax, debt assumption, or bond issue authorized or provided for, held under the provisions of this Section, is not raised within the sixty days herein prescribed, the authority to incur or assume debt, levy the tax, or issue the bonds, the legality thereof, and the taxes and other revenues necessary to pay the same shall be conclusively presumed to be valid, and no court shall have authority to inquire into such matters.

(B) Every ordinance or resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds or other debt obligation by a political subdivision shall be published at least once in the official journal of the political subdivision, or if there is none, then in a newspaper having general circulation therein. For a period of thirty days from the date of the publication any person in interest may contest the legality of the ordinance or resolution, the bonds or other debt obligation authorized thereby, and of any provision therein made for the security and payment of the bonds. After this time, no one shall have any cause of action to test the regularity, formality, legality, or effectiveness of the ordinance or resolution, bonds, or other debt obligation, and provisions thereof for any cause whatever; and after this time it shall be conclusively presumed that every legal requirement for the issuance of the bonds or other debt obligation, including all things pertaining to the election, if any, at which the bonds or other debt obligation were authorized, has been complied with, and no court shall have authority to inquire into any such matters after the lapse of this thirty days.

Motion

On motion of Delegate Perez Committee Proposal No. 17, Section 41, upon which action was deferred on November 7, 1973, was taken up out of its regular order and acted upon as follows:

Section 41. Limited Time for Contesting Bonds of Political Subdivisions

Section 41. (A) For a period of sixty days from the promulgation of the result of any election held for the purpose of incurring or assuming debt, issuing bonds, or levying a tax, any person in interest shall have the right to contest the legality of such election, the bond issue provided for, or the tax authorized, for any cause after which time no one shall have any cause or right of action to contest the regularity, formality, or legality of said election, tax provisions, or bond authorization, for any cause whatsoever. If the validity of any election, tax, debt assumption, or bond issue authorized or provided for, held under the provisions of this Section, is not raised within the sixty days herein prescribed, the authority to incur or assume debt, levy the tax, or issue the bonds, the legality thereof, and the taxes and other revenues necessary to pay the same shall be conclusively presumed to be valid, and no court shall have authority to inquire into such matters.

(B) Every ordinance or resolution authorizing the issu- as follows:

ance of bonds or other debt obligation by a political subdivision shall be published at least once in the official journal of the political subdivision, or if there is none, then in a newspaper having general circulation therein. For a period of thirty days from the date of the publication any person in interest may contest the legality of the ordinance or resolution, the bonds or other debt obligation authorized thereby, and of any provision therein made for the security and payment of the bonds. After this time, no one shall have any cause of action to test the regularity, formality, legality, or effectiveness of the ordinance or resolution, bonds, or other debt obligation, and provisions thereof for any cause whatever; and after this time it shall be conclusively presumed that every legal requirement for the issuance of the bonds or other debt obligation, including all things pertaining to the election, if any, at which the bonds or other debt obligation were authorized, has been complied with, and no court shall have authority to inquire into any such matters after the lapse of this thirty days.

Motion

On motion of Delegate Perez Committee Proposal No. 17, Section 40, upon which action was deferred on November 7, 1973, was taken up and acted upon as follows:

Section 40. Limitations on Bonded Indebtedness of Political Subdivisions

Section 40. (A) General obligation bonds may be issued by any political subdivision for any single purpose which, including the existing bonds of such political subdivision incurred for the same purpose and payable solely from ad valorem taxes levied without limitation as to rate or amount, shall not exceed in the aggregate ten percent of the total value of all property within such subdivision valued for assessment purposes, including property exempt as homesteads, to be ascertained by the last such valuation for political subdivision purposes previous to incurring such indebtedness except that: (1) as to both parishwide school districts and other school districts, the limitation shall be twenty-five percent of the total value of all property within such district valued for assessment purposes as aforesaid; and (2) as to general obligation industrial development bonds, such limitation shall be twenty percent of the total value of all property within the political subdivision valued for assessment purposes as aforesaid.

(B) Any municipality financing and operating its own schools and not located within a parishwide or other school district shall be regarded as and treated on the same basis for the purpose of debt limitation and shall have the same authority for all purposes of this Section as though it were

such a school district.

(C) The legislature may increase the debt limitations established in this Section by general law or by local or special law passed by a two-thirds vote of the elected membership of each house.

(D) Bonds and other debt obligations payable from acreage taxes, sales and use taxes, excess revenues, special assessments, or other special revenues shall not be considered to be bonds payable solely from ad valorem taxes for all purposes of this Section.

Section 41. Limited Time for Contesting Bonds of Political Subdivisions

Section 41. (A) For a period of sixty days from the promulgation of the result of any election held for the purpose in incurring or assuming debt, issuing bonds, or levying a tax, any person in interest shall have the right to contest the legality of such election, the bond issue provided for, or the tax authorized, for any cause after which time no one shall have any cause or right of action to contest the regularity, formality, or legality of said election, tax provisions, or bond authorization, for any cause whatsoever. If the validity of any election, tax, debt assumption, or bond issue authorized or provided for, held under the provisions of this Section, is not raised within the sixty days herein prescribed, the authority to incur or assume debt, levy the tax. or issue the bonds, the legality thereof, and the taxes and other revenues necessary to pay the same shall be conclusively presumed to be valid, and no court shall have authority to inquire into such matters.

(B) Every ordinance or resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds or other debt obligation by a political sub-division shall be published at least once in the official journal of the political subdivision, or if there is none, then in a newspaper having general circulation therein. For a period of thirty days from the date of the publication any person in interest may contest the legality of the ordinance or resolution, the bonds or other debt obligation authorized thereby, and of any provision therein made for the security and payment of the bonds. After this time, no one shall and payment of the bonds. After this time, no one shall have any cause of action to test the regularity, formality, legality, or effectiveness of the ordinance or resolution, bonds, or other debt obligation, and provisions thereof for any cause whatever; and after this time it shall be conclusively presumed that every legal requirement for the issuance of the bonds or other debt obligation, including all things pertaining to the election, if any, at which the bonds or other debt obligation were authorized, has been complied with, and no court shall have authority to inquire into any such matters after the lapse of this thirty days.

On motion of Delegate Perez Committee Proposal No. 17, Section 49, upon which action was deferred on October 4, 1973, was taken up and acted upon as follows:

Section 49. Compensation for Property Used or Destroyed;

Section 49. (A) Lands and improvements thereon hereafter actually used or destroyed for levees or levee drainage purposes shall be paid for at a price not to exceed the assessed value for the preceding year; provided, if property used or destroyed for levees or levee drainage purposes from a landowner shall exceed more than one-third the value of that landowner's property and improvements, the land and im-provements thereon used or destroyed for such purposes shall be paid for at fair market value; and provided further, nothing contained in this Paragraph with respect to compensation for lands and improvements shall apply to batture or to property the control of which is vested in the state or any political subdivision thereof for the purpose of commerce.

(B) If the district has no other funds or resources out of which such payment can be made, it shall levy, on all taxable property situated within the district, a tax sufficient to pay for said property so used or destroyed to be used solely in the district where collected.

(C) Nothing contained in this Section shall prevent the appropriation of said property before payment.

On motion of Delegate Perez the Convention took up Committee Proposal No. 17, Section 40, which was acted upon as follows:

Section 40. Limitations on Bonded Indebtedness of Political Subdivisions

Section 40. (A) General obligation bonds may be issued by any political subdivision for any single purpose which, including the existing bonds of such political subdivision incurred for the same purpose and payable solely from ad valorem taxes levied without limitation as to rate or amount, shall not exceed in the aggregate ten percent of the total value of all property within such subdivision valued for assessment purposes, including property exempt as homesteads, to be ascertained by the last such valuation for political subdivision purposes previous to incurring such indebt-edness except that: (1) as to both parishwide school districts and other school districts, the limitation shall be twentyfive percent of the total value of all property within such district valued for assessment purposes as aforesaid; and (2) as to general obligation industrial development bonds, such limitation shall be twenty percent of the total value of all property within the political subdivision valued for assessment purposes as aforesaid.

(B) Any municipality financing and operating its own schools and not located within a parishwide or other school district shall be regarded as and treated on the same basis for the purpose of debt limitation and shall have the same authority for all purposes of this Section as though it were

such a school district.

(C) The legislature may increase the debt limitations established in this Section by general law or by local or special law passed by a two-thirds vote of the elected membership

of each house.

(D) Bonds and other debt obligations payable from acreage taxes, sales and use taxes, excess revenues, special assessments, or other special revenues shall not be considered to be bonds payable solely from ad valorem taxes for all purposes of this Section.

Motion

On motion of Delegate Abraham, the Convention altered the Order of Business to take up other Orders of Business at this time.

Delegate Tate, chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Style and Drafting, submitted the following report:

> State of Louisiana Constitutional Convention of 1973

> > November 8, 1973, Baton Rouge, La.

To the Chairman and Delegates of the Constitutional Convention:

I am directed by your Committee on Style and Drafting to submit the following report:

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 3-

Introduced by the Delegate Blair, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Legislative Powers and Functions, and Delegates Casey, Fayard, Fulco, Ginn, Juneau, Kilpatrick, Landrum, LeBreton and O'Neill:

A PROPOSAL Making provisions for the legislative branch of government, impeachment and removal of officials, and necessary provisions with respect thereto. With the following amendments:

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS

Amendments proposed by Committee on Style and Drafting to Committee Proposal No. 3 by Delegate Blair, et al.

AMENDMENT No. 1-

On page 1, at the end of line 16, delete the word "DE-PARTMENT" and insert in lieu thereof "BRANCH"

AMENDMENT No. 2-

On page 1, delete lines 17 through 23, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following: "Section 1. Legislative Power; Composition; Continuous

Body

Section 1. (A) Legislative Power of State. The legislative power of the state is vested in a legislature, consisting of a Senate and a House of Representatives. The Senate shall be composed of one senator elected from each senatorial district. The House of Representatives shall be composed of one representative elected from each representative district."

AMENDMENT No. 3-

On page 1, delete lines 24 through 28, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"(B) Continuous Body. The legislature is a continuous body during the term for which its members are elected: however, a bill or resolution not finally passed in any session shall be withdrawn from the files of the legislature."

AMENDMENT No. 4-

On page 1, delete lines 29 through 35, both inclusive, in their entirety and on page 2, delete lines 1 through 9, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 2. Sessions

Section 2. (A) Annual Session. The legislature shall meet annually in regular session in the state capital for not more than sixty legislative days during a period of eighty-five calendar days. A legislative day is a calendar day on which either house is in session. No such session shall continue beyond the eighty-fifth calendar day after convening. The legislature shall convene at noon on the third Monday in April. No new matter intended to have the effect of law shall be introduced or received by either house after midnight of the fifteenth calendar day, except by a favorable record vote of two-thirds of the elected members of each house. No measure levying a new tax or increasing an existing tax shall be introduced or enacted during a regular session held in an odd-numbered year."

AMENDMENT No. 5-

On page 2, delete lines 10 through 26, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"(B) Extraordinary Session. The legislature may be convened at other times by the governor and shall be convened by the presiding officers of both houses upon written petition of a majority of the elected members of each house. The form of the petition shall be provided by law. At least five days prior to convening the legislature in extraordinary session, the governor or the presiding officers, as the case may be, shall issue a proclamation stating the objects of the session, the date on which it shall convene, and the number of days for which it is convened. The power to legislate shall be limited, under penalty of nullity, to the objects specifically enumerated in the proclamation. The session shall be limited to the number of days stated therein, which shall not exceed thirty calendar days."

AMENDMENT No. 6-

On page 2, delete lines 27 through 30, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"(C) Emergency Session. The governor may convene the legislature in extraordinary session without prior notice or proclamation in the event of public emergency caused by epidemic, enemy attack, or public catastrophe.

AMENDMENT No. 7-

On page 2, delete lines 32 through 35, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following: "Section 3. The number of members of the legislature shall be provided by law, but the number of senators shall not exceed thirty-nine and the number of representatives, one hundred five."

"Section 22. Only the legislature may suspend a law, and then only by the same vote and, except for gubernatorial veto and time limitations for introduction, according to the same procedures and formalities required for enactment of that law. After the effective date of this constitution, every resolution suspending a law shall fix the period of suspension, which shall not extend beyond the sixtieth day after final adjournment of the next regular session."

AMENDMENT No. 49—

On page 10, delete lines 33 through 35, both inclusive, in their entirety and on page 11, delete lines 1 through 4, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 23. Neither the state nor any political subdivision shall grant a perpetual franchise or privilege; however, the legislature may authorize the organization of corporations for perpetual or indefinite duration. Every corporation shall be subject to dissolution or forfeiture of its charter or franchise, as provided by general law."

AMENDMENT No. 50-

On page 11, delete lines 6 through 9, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 24. (A) Persons Liable. A state or district official, whether elected or appointed, shall be liable to impeachment for commission or conviction, during his term of office, of a felony, malfeasance, or for gross misconduct."

their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"(B) Procedure, Impeachment shall be by the House of Representatives and trial by the Senate, with senators under oath or affirmation for the trial. The concurrence of two-thirds of the elected senators shall be necessary to convict. The Senate may try an impeachment whether or not the House is in session and may adjourn when it deems proper. Conviction upon impeachment shall result in immediate removal from office. Nothing herein shall prevent other action, prosecution, or punishment authorized by law."

AMENDMENT No. 52-

On page 11, delete lines 19 through 24, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 25. Removal by Suit; Officials Subject

Section 25. For the causes enumerated in Paragraph (A) of Section 24 of this Article, the legislature shall provide by general law for the removal by suit of any state, district, parochial, ward, or municipal official except the governor, lieutenant governor, and judges of the courts of record.'

AMENDMENT No. 53-

On page 11, delete lines 26 through 30, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 26. The legislature shall provide by general law for the recall by election of any state, district, parochial, ward, or municipal official except judges of the courts of record. The sole issue at a recall election shall be whether the official shall be recalled."

AMENDMENT No. 54-

On page 11, delete lines 32 through 35, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 27. (A) Full Term. Members of the legislature shall take office thirty days prior to the convening date of the first regular session of each term for which they are elected."

AMENDMENT No. 55-

On page 12, delete lines 1 through 3, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"(B) Filling Vacancy. A person elected to fill a vacancy in an unexpired legislative term shall take office thirty days after the secretary of state promulgates the election returns."

AMENDMENT No. 56-

On page 9, delete lines 23 through 31, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"(B) Veto. If the governor does not approve a bill, he may veto it. When he vetoes a bill, he shall return it to the legislature, with his veto message, within twelve days after delivery to him if the legislature is in session. If the governor returns or vetoes a bill after the legislature adjourns, he shall return it, with his veto message, as provided by law. A bill returned and subsequently approved by two-thirds of the elected members of each house shall become law."

NOTE: If this amendment is adopted, it will replace Amendment No. 46, previously adopted. The Committee on Style and Drafting and the Committee on Legislative Powers and Functions recommend the adoption of this amendment because, as adopted, the second sentence of Section 20 (B) possibly could mean that if the governor vetoed even one bill before the legislature adjourned, the method provided by law for the return of vetoed bills would be inapplicable. The committee believes this amendment satisfies the apparent intent of the convention that the legislature is to provide the method for the return of vetoed bills after the legislature has adjourned.

AMENDMENT No. 57-

On page 10, delete lines 14 through 18, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 21. All laws shall take effect on the sixtieth day after final adjournment of the session in which they were enacted, and shall be published in the official journal of the state as provided by law. However, any bill may specify an earlier or later effective date."

NOTE: The Committee on Style and Drafting and the

81st Days Proceedings—November 8, 1973

Committee on Legislative Powers and Functions recommend the adoption of this amendment because, as adopted originally by the convention, Section 21 appears intended to prohibit a law going into effect before it is published in the official state journal. In view of the fact that problems could arise if there are technical or practical difficulties in publishing the laws, resulting in confusion about effective dates and perhaps in the failure of necessary legislation to have an effect, this amendment would require publication, but would not have effectiveness conditioned on publication.

AMENDMENT No. 58-

On page 11, delete lines 32 through 35, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 27. (A) Full Term. Members of the legislature shall take office on the same day as the governor and other officials elected statewide."

AMENDMENT No. 59-

On page 12, delete lines 1 through 3, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"(B) Filling Vacancy. A person elected to fill the remainder of an unexpired legislative term shall take office within thirty days after the secretary of state promulgates the election returns.'

NOTE: If Amendments No. 58 and No. 59 are adopted, they will replace Amendments No. 54 and No. 55, previously adopted. The Committee on Style and Dratting and the Committee on Legislative Powers and Functions recommend their adoption because some disagreement exists about the text of Section 27(A) & (B) which the convention actually adopted. A check of the verbatim transcript reveals that this amendment was in fact the language adopted by the convention.

AMENDMENT No. 60-

On page 3, delete lines 29 through 31, both inclusive, in their entirety and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"(D) Vacancy. A vacancy in the legislature shall be filled for the remainder of the term only by election, by the electors of the respective district, as provided by law."

NOTE: If this amendment is adopted, it will replace Amendment No. 11, previously adopted. The Committee on Style and Drafting recommends the adoption of this amendment because as adopted by the convention, the possibility exists, under the language in Section 4(D), that the legislature could provide by law that a vacancy in legislative office would be filled by an election held among the members of the house in which the vacancy occurred.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT TATE, JR., Chairman.

And the above Proposal, together with the amendments proposed by the Committee on Style and Drafting, lies over under the Rules under Proposals on Calendar for Approval of Final Styling.

Motion

On motion of Delegate Tobias the following manual on Style and Drafting was ordered inserted in the Official Journal.

> MANUAL ON STYLE AND DRAFTING February 1973

> > Prepared and Adopted

Committee on Style and Drafting

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this Manual on Style and Dafting is to suggest guidelines to assure the most effective and consistent preparation of the proposed constitution for the State of Louisiana. The guidelines include organizational format, style, punctuation, capitalization, citation of authority, and similar matters. The intent of these guidelines is to produce clear, consistent, specific, and uniform provisions. (See C.C./ '73 Rules of Procedure 47 and 50, Appendx I)

GENERAL GUIDELINES

- 1. The general rule of state constitutional interpretation is: The provisions of a state constitution are limitations on the power of the people exercised through the legislature; what is not prohibited by the constitution is permitted.1 Therefore, the legislature is empowered to enact any law not prohibited by the constitution; it is unnecessary to specify, for example: The legislature has the power to enact laws providing for punishment for crime. In the absence of constitutional prohibition, the legislature has that power.
- 2. The rules of the convention provide the format for proposals. (See C.C./'73 Rules of Procedure 41, Appendix
- 3. The committee recommends that each substantive committee submit, in addition to its formal proposal, a committee report which will indicate with each section of its proposal the source of the section, if any (e.g., Article and Section of the Constitution of 1921), and a very brief statement of the reasons for the proposed section. These committee reports will aid the delegates in understanding what is being done and why. In addition, they may be of aid in the future interpretation of constitutional provisions.

Example

PROPOSED SECTION:

Article ..., Section .... Rights of Assembly and Petition Section ___. The people have the right to assemble peaceably and to seek from those vested with the powers of government a redress of grievances.

Source: La. Const. Art. I, $5 (1921). Comment: Modernization of language; no change of sub-

- 4. To the extent possible delegate proposals should conform to the form of proposals submitted by the substantive com-
- 5. If there is a close division among the members of any substantive committee on any proposed section, that committee may wish to consider submitting alternative proposals.
- 6. Major substantive subjects should be set forth in several major articles (e.g., Article I-Bill of Rights; Article II-etc.). Under each article the provisions will be divided, where necessary, into consecutively designated sections, paragraphs, and subparagraphs as follows:

Example

Article II. Section 1. (Heading) (A)____(Paragraph designation)

(1)____(Subparagraph designation)

(2)____ (a) ____ (b)____ (i)____

Every effort should be made to avoid use of subparagraph designations below (1), (2) in the above example.

Note that each section, but not each paragraph or subparagraph, should have a brief heading describing what that section contains or provides. The heading serves as a quick guide to content.

7. Unless in conflict with a provision of this Manual: (a) Webster's Seventh New Collegiate Dictionary will govern spelling, abbreviation, punctuation, and capitalization; (b) Strunk and White's The Elements of Style (2nd Edition) will govern style; and (c) A Uniform System of Citation (11th Edition) published by the Harvard Law Review will govern citation of all legal authority.

SPECIFIC RULES

81st Days Proceedings-November 8, 1973

are set forth with regard to: A. Numerals and Dates, (Rules 1-4), B. Words and Phrases (Rules 5-9), C. Style and Composition (Rules 10-18), D. Punctuation and Capitalization (Rules 19-26), and E. Citation of Louisiana Legal Authority (Rule 27).

A. Numerals and Dates

Rule 1. Spell out all numerals, except dates.

Rule 2. Dates should be written as follows: "April 1, 1973." Do not add "st", "nd", "rd", or "th" to the day of the month if it is followed by the year. If the year is not stated, the day of the month should be spelled out.

Rule 3. When describing a period of time, make clear which are the first and last days.

Example

Use the form "after June tenth . . . and before July first." Do not use the form "from June tenth . . . [to] [until] [by] July first," nor the form "between June tenth and July first."

Rule 4. If a period of time is measured in whole days only, say "day" or "date" instead of "time."

Example

Do not say "thirty days after the time when . . .," but say "thirty days after the day on which . . ."

B. Words and Phrases

Rule 5. Omit needless words and use short words and sentences. If a word has the same meaning as a phrase, use the word

Examples

Do not Use: Suggested: at the time when by means of bv cause it to be done have it done does not operate to does not during such time as while during the course of during for the purpose of ___ing to ___ for the reason that because give consideration to consider have a need of need in cases in which when, where, if in order to ta in the event that, in case if in the interests of for is able to can is applicable applies is binding upon binds is unable to cannot is directed, it is the duty shall it shall be lawful may make application apply on the part of by period of time period, time provided that if, however, provisions of law law pursuant to under subsequent to after to the effect that that until such time as until under the provisions of under with the object of ___ing to _____

Rule 6. Select familiar words and phrases that best express the intended meaning according to common and approved usage. Avoid hackneyed words of reference.

Rule 7. If the duty is to be mandatory, use "shall", "must", or "directed". If the duty is discretionary, use "may", "authorized", or "permitted".

Rule 8. Whenever "there are", "there is", or "it is" appear, revise the sentence.

Example

Incorrect: "There are numerous jurisdictions which apply this principle."

Suggested: "Numerous jurisdictions apply this principle."

C. Style and Composition

Rule 10. Generally, short sentences are preferred.

Rule 11. Use active voice, indicative mood, and present tense to facilitate readability.

Example

Incorrect: "It was held by the court in the case of Doe v. Roe that a right of action was stated by the allegations in the petition."

Suggested: "In Doe v. Roe, the court held that the allegations in the petition state a right of action."

Rule 12. Use the singular noun wherever possible.

Example

Incorrect: "District courts may enact rules for the proper administration of business."

Suggested: "A district court may enact rules for the proper administration of business."

Rule 13. Be concise. A sentence should contain no unnecessary words, a paragraph no unnecessary sentences.

Rule 14. Unrelated ideas should be developed in separate sentences or paragraphs. Unrelated concepts should be in separate sections.

Rule 15. Avoid defining words or terms where possible. For the purposes of a constitution, words and terms should be self-explanatory.

Rule 16. Reference to statutorily created departments, agencies, officers, or the like should be avoided, so that they will not be given constitutional status. Reference to statutory material should be avoided in order that the constitution be complete in itself.

Rule 17. Enumerations may be interpreted as excluding all items not enumerated. Therefore, care should be taken to indicate whether the enumeration, where used, is illustrative or exclusive. Exceptions to a provision may be interpreted as being the only ones permitted.

Rule 18. To indicate generally that there are exceptions to the application of a constitutional provision, use "except as otherwise provided by this constitution [or this Article]." If an exception is specific, and refers to a designated provision, use "except as provided by [Article VI]."

Place an exception at the beginning of a sentence when (1) the exception is specific, (2) the exception is intended to modify both or all of two or more separate clauses in the sentence, or (3) clarity or emphasis is promoted by such placement.

D. Punctuation and Capitalization

Rule 19. Avoid using italics, parentheses, or dashes.

Rule 20. Use commas before "and" and "or" in a series of three or more words or phrases. Use a comma after such words as "hence," "therefore," and "however."

Example

"The Public Service Commission shall regulate telephone, utility, and railroad tariffs within the state."

Rule 21. Do not use hyphens after the prefixes "re" or "non" unless the dictionary so directs. If an alternative is permitted, use the nonhyphenated form. Use a hyphen between words that serve as a single adjective before a noun. Groups of three or more words are hyphenated. When the base words begins with a capital letter, a prefix is usually joined with a hyphen.

APPENDIX I

Rule No. 47. Style and Drafting. When all proposals have been processed, the entirety of those adopted shall be sent to the Committee on Style and Drafting for orderly arrangement in the new proposed Constitution, to the end that the document shall be properly coordinated and uniform in style, and such final draft must be approved by a majority of the delegates to the Convention.

Rule No. 50.

2. Committee on Style and Drafting, which shall have control over literary style, consistency, arrangement and numbering. The committee shall have authority to rephrase or to regroup proposed language, but shall have no authority to change the sense or purpose of any proposal referred to it. Where a proposal referred to it is inconsistent or in conflict with a proposal already acted on favorably by the convention the committee shall at the third reading (Rule 44H) so notify the convention of that inconsistency or conflict and wait upon its instructions.

APPENDIX II

Rule No. 41. Form of Proposals. Delegate proposals shall shall be distinguished from committee proposals and all proposals shall be separately numbered. All proposals shall be introduced or submitted in eight copies. All proposals must be typed, double spaced on 8½-by-l4-inch paper in a type face with excellent reproduction qualities. A margin of one inch on the left and right side and at the top and bottom shall be preserved. The lines on each page shall be numbered consecutively from top to bottom at the left margin, and the left typing margin shall be two spaces to the right of the line numbers. Pages commencing with page two shall be numbered at the top center of the page. The original of all proposals shall remain in the custody of the Convention. The secretary shall, as soon as any proposal is printed, place it on the desks of the delegates. The caption of each proposal shall be substantially in the following form:

Chairman Henry in the Chair Matian

On motion of Delegate A. Landry the communication from former Delegate Silverberg was ordered inserted in the Official Journal as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen, Delegates to the Constitutional Convention: It is a personal tragedy to me that I am unable to time in its deliberations. In so doing, I was afforded a rare opportunity to "bone up" for the job, and especially for that portion of it dealing with higher education in the State of Louisiana.

A full year before the Convention opened I was privileged to be a member of a lay committee which made an exhaustive study of the governance of higher education in Louisiana and elsewhere. In that capacity I heard testimony from the advocates of every conceivable system of governance: superboards, single boards, multiple boards, no boards. In the course of months I helped to put all these systems under the microscope in an honest effort to determine which type of governance might fit the special situation here in Louisiana. As a member of the Convention's Education and Welfare Committee, I also took part in the more than six months of deliberations which culminated in the adoption of Committee Proposal Number 7. I am convinced that Committee Proposal 7 is the correct course for Louisiana.

By way of review, it provides for a Board of Regents to be responsible for over-all planning and coordination of the entire system of higher education, and separate supervisory boards-one to conduct day-to-day management of the campuses of the LSU System, another to perform the same management function for all other state institutions of higher education.

Our committee gave due consideration to a number of alternative proposals. We patiently listened to all sorts of testimony, including even that from a newspaper reporter which later was found to be totally erroneous. I found nothing then, nor anything in some of the Johnny-come-lately proposals which have surfaced recently which would alter my feelings that Committee Proposal 7 is the best plan for higher education in Louisiana.

It has been proposed that all details of governance of higher education be omitted from the new Constitution. To my way of thinking no person who lived through the Louisiana scandals of the 1930's could take such a proposal seriously, merely in the interests of brevity. The protection of our colleges and universities must be spelled out in detail, and must be afforded constitutional status so that it will bridge any changes of administration or political upheavals that may occur in the future. In this case, brevity must be sacrificed for the sake of continuity and stability.

It has also been proposed that the total governance of higher education be entrusted to a single board, which would presumably attend to all the planning, coordination and day-to-day management of the 19 units of higher education in the state. Concerning this plan, I can only repeat what I have been saying for months: that it is a practical impossibility. There is undoubtedly something to be said for a single-board system in small states where only a minimal number of institutions are to be governed. The overwhelming burden of experience around the nation is that it cannot possibly work with as many institutions as Louisiana now has. Somewhere, some time, something has to give; and the evidence is that in the press of day-to-day housekeeping, it's always the planning and coordination that finishes last.

I am firmly persuaded that the committee's Proposal 7 constitutes the last, best hope for higher education in Louisiana. It will enable us to change what is wrong with our system without destroying the continuity of what is good-and there is much that is worth keeping.

One of the things I like best about this plan is that it does not represent any special pleading on behalf of any single institution or section of the State. The protections that it affords are of equal benefit to every institution in Louisiana, bar none. I could never have supported it otherwise because, although I am an alumnus of the state university, I am also a long-time resident of a city where another state institution is located.

Let me stress again that this plan has the strong, powerful "super-board" in it. The Board of Regents is empowered with complete mission control and the power of the purse-budgetary responsibility. It is also mandated to develop a formula for the equitable distribution of funds. But it is not to be burdened with the day-to-day operating problems of any institution. The two subordinate boards will handle the supervision and management. This is very much similar in be with you today, and to deliver these remarks in person. practice to what we have in elementary and secondary edulative worked hard in this convention, and have spent much cation today—that is, a State Board of Education to set statewide policy, and 66 local school boards to execute those policies.

It was my fond hope that I would be with you today to follow this job through to its conclusion, because I feel very strongly about what we are doing. Since the condition of my health has made that impossible, I have entrusted my thoughts to my friend and colleague, Ambroise Landry, in the hope that you will see fit to support the majority report of the Health, Education & Welfare Committee. It has my wholehearted endorsement.

Thank you for listening to my remarks. Please accept my sincere best wishes for a successful Convention.

Sincerely,

JOE N. SIVERBERG

Section 4. State Board of Elementary and Secondary Education

Section 4. (A) Creation; Function. There is created a body corporate, known as the State Board of Elementary and Secondary Education. The board shall supervise, control, and have budgetary responsibility for all funds appropriated or allocated by the state for all public elementary and secondary schools and special schools under its jurisdiction, as provided by law. The board shall have such other specific powers, duties, and responsibilities as are provided by law, but shall have no control over the business affairs of parish and municipal school boards or the selection or removal of their officers and employees.

(B) Membership; Terms. The board shall consist of three members who shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the Senate from the state at large, and eight members who shall be elected from single-member districts to be determined by the legislature. All members shall serve overlapping terms of six years, following the initial terms which shall be determined by the governor or the legislature, as the case may be, in a manner as to effectuate this purpose.

 $(\hat{\mathbf{C}})$  Vacancies. Vacancies occurring for any cause prior to the expiration of the term shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the remainder of the unexpired term. Members shall serve without pay except for such per diem and expenses as shall be fixed by the legislature.

"Section 4. Boards of Education

Section 4. (A) There is created a body corporate, known as the Board of Public Education. The board shall supervise, control, and have budgetary responsibility for all precolegiate public education. The board shall have such other specific powers, duties, and responsibilities as are provided by law, but shall have no control over the business affairs of parish and municipal school boards or the selection or removal of their officers and employees. The board shall consist of eleven members. One member shall be elected from each of the congressional districts into which the state is divided and an additional number of members shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the Senate, from the state at large. All members shall serve overlapping terms of six years, following the initial terms which shall be determined by the legislature in a manner as to effectuate this purpose. The board shall elect a chairman to serve for such terms as it may deem appropriate.

(B) There is created a body corporate known as the Board of Regents. The board shall have full power and authority to supervise, coordinate, and have budgetary responsibility for all public higher education except that the board may provide for governing boards to manage each college and university. The board shall consist of eleven members. One member shall be elected from each of the congressional districts into which the state is divided and an additional number of members shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the Senate, from the state at large. All members shall serve overlapping terms of six years, following the initial terms which shall be determined by the legislature in a manner as to effectuate this purpose. The board shall elect a chairman to serve for such terms as it may deem appropriate.

(C) There is created a body corporate, known as the State Board of Education, which shall be composed of the Board of Public Education and the Board of Regents. The State Board of Education shall be responsible for long-range planning, coordination and evaluation of policies and programs, and submission of unified budget requests for the state public educational system. It shall have such other powers, duties, and resonsibilities as are provided in this Article and by law. The board shall consist of twenty-two members, eleven members each from the Board of Public Education and the Board of Regents. The board shall elect a chairman to serve for such term as it may deem appropriate."

Proposals

Delegate Dennery, Secretary of the Constitutional Convention of 1973, submits the following report:

> Constitutional Convention of 1973 State of Louisiana

> > November 9, 1973, Baton Rouge, La.

To the Chairman and Delegates of the Convention:

I submit the following report:

That the following Committee Proposal has been properly enrolled:

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 17-

Introduced by Delegate Perez, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Local and Parochial Government, and Delegates Burson, Cannon, Chatelain, Conino, D'Gerolamo, Fowler, Giarrusso, Hayes, Heine, J. Jackson, Kean, Lanier, Reeves, Shannon, Stephenson, Taylor, Toomy, Ullo, and Zervigon:
A PROPOSAL

Making general provisions for local and parochial government, levee districts, and ports, the financing thereof, and necessary provisions with respect thereto.

Be it adopted by the Constitutional Convention of Louisiana of 1973:

ARTICLE VI. LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Section I. Creation, Dissolution, and Merger of Parishes; Change of Parish Lines; Change of Parish Seats; Existing Parishes

Section 1. (A) The legislature may establish and organize new parishes, dissolve and merge parishes and change parish boundaries, if two-thirds of the electors in each of the parishes affected voting at an election held for the purpose in each parish affected consent thereto.

(B) The governing authority of a parish, may call an election on the question of changing the location of the parish seat. The election shall be conducted in the manner provided by the general election laws in the state, insofar as applicable. The location of a parish seat shall be changed if two-thirds of the total vote cast at the election is in favor thereof.

(C) All parishes and their boundaries as established under existing law are recognized and ratified.

Section 3. New or Enlarged Parishes; Adjustment of Assets and Liabilities

Section 3. When a parish is enlarged or created from contiguous territory, it shall be entitled to a just proportion of the property and assets and shall be liable for a just proportion of the existing debts and liabilities of the parish or parishes from which the territory is taken.

Section 5. Municipalities; Incorporation, Consolidation,

Merger, and Government

Section 5. The legislature shall provide by general law for the incorporation, consolidation, merger, and government of municipalities. No local or special law shall be enacted to create a municipal corporation or to amend, modify, or repeal its charter. However, if a municipality is operating under a special legislative charter it may be amended, modified, or repealed by local or special law as long as such municipality continues to operate under such charter. Section 6. Classification

Section 6. Except as provided in this constitution, the legislature may calssify parishes or municipalities according to population or on any other reasonable basis related to the purpose of this classification, and legislation may be limited in its effect to any of such class or classes.

Section 7. Existing Home Rule Charters and Plans of

Government of Parishes and Municipalities Ratified
Section 7. Every plan of government or home rule charter existing or adopted when this constitution is adopted shall remain in effect and may be amended, modified, or repealed as provided therein. Except as inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution, each local governmental subdivision which has adopted such a home rule charter or plan of government shall retain the powers, functions and duties in effect when this constitution is adopted. Each of them, if its charter permits, shall also enjoy the right to any powers and functions granted to other local governmental subdivisions.

Section 8. Home Rule Charter

Section 8. (A) Subject to and not inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution, any local governmental subdivision may draft, adopt, or amend a charter of government to be known as a home rule charter in accordance with the provisions of this Section. The governing authority of any such local governmental subdivision may appoint a commission to prepare and propose a charter or alternate charter, or may call an election for the purpose of electing such a commission.

(B) The governing authority of any such local governmental subdivision shall call an election to elect a commission to prepare and propose a charter or alternate charter when presented with a petition signed by not less than ten percent of the electors or ten thousand electors, whichever is the lesser, who live within the boundaries of the affected subdivision, as certified by the registrar of voters.

(C) A home rule charter shall be adopted, amended, or repealed when approved by a majority of the electors who vote on the proposal at an election called for that purpose.

(D) Two or more local governmental subdivisions situated within the boundaries of one parish may avail themselves of the provisions of this Section, provided that a majority of the electors in each affected local governmental subdivision who vote in an election held for that purpose vote in favor thereof. The legislature shall provide for the method of appointment or election of a commission to prepare and propose such a charter consistent with Paragraph (A) of this Section. However, at least one member of the commission shall be elected or appointed from each affected local governmental subdivision. The legislature shall provide the method by which the electors of more than one local governmental subdivision within the boundaries of one parish may petition for an election for such purpose consistent with Paragraph (B) of this Section.

(E) A home rule charter adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Section shall provide for the structure and organization, powers, and functions for the government of the local governmental subdivision, which may include the exercise of any power and performance of any function necessary, requisite, or proper for the management of its affairs, not denied by general law or inconsistent with any provision of this constitution. The legislature shall not pass any law the effect of which changes, modifies, or affects the structure and organization and/or the particular distribution and redistribution of the powers and functions of any local governmental subdivision which operates under a home rule charter.

82nd Days Proceedings—November 9, 1973

(F) A local governmental subdivision adopting a home rule charter under this Section shall also enjoy such additional powers and functions as are granted to local governmental subdivisions by other provisions of this constitution, unless the exercise of such powers and performance of such functions is prohibited by its charter.

(G) No home rule charter or plan of local government shall contain any provision inconsistent with this constitu-tion or any law now or hereafter enacted which affects the offices of district attorney, sheriff, assessor, clerk of a district court, coroner, parish school board, or city school

(H) Notwithstanding any provision of this Article to the contrary, the courts and their officers may be established or affected only as provided in Article V of this constitution.

Section 9. Powers of Other Local Governmental Subdisi-sions

Section 9. (A) Subject to and not inconsistent with any provision of this constitution, the governing authority of any other local governmental subdivision may exercise any power and perform any function necessary, requisite, or proper for the management of the affairs of the local governmental subdivision not denied by its charter or by general law, provided that a majority of the electors in the affected local governmental subdivision who vote in an election held for that purpose vote in favor of the proposition that such governing authority may exercise such general powers. In the absence of such a favorable vote, such local governmental subdivision shall have such powers as authorized by this constitution or by law.

(B) Nothing contained in this Section shall be construed to affect the powers and functions of a parish or city school board and the offices of district attorney, sheriff,

(C) Nothwithstanding any provision of this Article to the contrary, the courts and their officers may be established or affected only as provided in Article V of this constitution.

Home Rule Parish; Incorporation of Cities, Section 11.

Towns, and Villages

Section 11. No parish plan of government or home rule charter shall prohibit the incorporation of cities, towns, or villages as provided by general law.

Section 12. Limitations of Local Governmental Subdivi-

Section 12. (A) Local governmental subdivisions shall not: (1) define and provide for the punishment of a felony; or (2) except as may be provided by law, enact private or civil ordinances governing civil relationships.

(B) Notwithstanding any provision of this Article, the police power of the state shall never be abridged.

Section 12.1. Codification of Ordinances

Section 12.1. The governing authority of each political subdivision shall within two years of the effective date of the adoption of this constitution, cause a code to be prepared containing all of the ordinances of the political subdivision of general application which are appropriate for continuation as law. When the code shall have been prepared the governing authority of the political subdivision shall cause copies of the same to be prepared and made available for public distribution. All proposed ordinances of general application adopted after the approval of the code shall be adopted as amendments or additions to the code.

Section 13. Local Officials

Section 13. The electors of each local governmental subdivision shall have the exclusive right to elect their governing authority. Nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit the election of the members of any governing authority on the basis of single member districts.

Section 14. Local Officials: Compensation

Section 14. The compensation or method of fixing the compensation of a local elected official of any local governmental subdivision which operates under a home rule charter or plan of government as provided in Sections 7 and 8 of this Article, shall be provided in its charter. The compensation or method of fixing the compensation of local shall not be reduced during the terms for which they are elected.

Section 15. Filling of Vacancies; Appointment

Section 15. (A) Except as otherwise provided in this constitution, and except for the office of assessor, a vacancy in any local office filled by election wholly within the boundaries of a local governmental subdivision or a parish or city school district, shall be filled by appointment by the governing authority of such local governmental subdivision or school district in which the vacancy occurs, until it is filled by election as provided by law.

(B) The provisions of this Section shall apply to all local governmental subdivisions unless otherwise provided by the home rule charter or the home rule plan of government of the affected local governmental subdivisions.

Section 16. Legislation Increasing Financial Burden of Political Subdivisions; Local Approval

Section 16. No law requiring an increase in expenditures, or a deduction from the funds of a political subdivision for salaries of local public officials or for wages, hours, working conditions, pension and retirement benefits, vacation or sick leave benefits of political subdivision employees, or an increase in commissions of or for local political subdivision offices, except a law providing for civil service, minimum wages, working conditions, and retirement benefits for firemen and municipal policemen, shall have effect until approved by ordinance enacted by the governing authority of the political subdivision affected thereby or until the legislature appropriates funds to the affected political subdivision for that purpose and only to the extent and amount that such funds are provided. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as applying to parish and municipal school boards. Section 17. Governing Authorities or Local Governmental Subdivisions; Control Over Agencies They Create Section 17. The governing authority of a local governmental subdivision shall have general power over any agency heretofore or hereafter created by it, including, without limitation, the power to abolish any such agency and to require prior approval of any charge or tax levied, or bond ssued by such agency.

Section 18. Special Districts and Local Public Agencies;

Consolidation, Merger, and Assumption of Debt

Section 18. (A) Any local governmental subdivision may consolidate and merge into itself any special district or local public agency, except a school district, situated and having jurisdiction entirely within the boundaries of such local governmental subdivision. Upon such merger and consolidation the local governmental subdivision shall succeed to and be vested with all of the rights, revenues, resources, jurisdiction, authority, and powers of such special district or local public agency. No such merger and consolidation shall take effect unless a majority of the electors voting thereon in the local governmental subdivision as a whole and also a majority of the electors voting thereon in the affected special district vote in favor of such proposition. No such action involving a local public agency shall take effect unless a majority of the electors voting thereon in the local governmental subdivision in which the local public agency is located vote in favor thereof in an election held for that purpose.

(B) If the special district or local public agency which is consolidated and merged has any outstanding indebtedness, the authority provided for by this Section shall not be exercised unless provision is made for the assumption of such indebtedness by the governing authority or authorities of the local governmental subdivisions involved.

Section 19. Land Use, Zoning and Historic Preservation Section 19. Subject to uniform legislatively established procedures, local governmental subdivisions shall have authority (1) to adopt regulations for land use, zoning and historic preservation, which authority is declared to be a public purpose: (2) to create commissions and districts to implement same; (3) to review decisions of any such commissions; (4) and to adopt standards for use, construction, demolition and modification of areas and structures. Existing constitutional authority for historic preservation districts is retained.

Section 21. Industrial Areas

Section 21. The legislature may authorize parishes to create and define industrial areas within their boundaries in accordance with such procedures and subject to such regulations as the legislature shall determine. All industrial areas so created hereafter shall include provisions for access elected officials of any other local governmental subdivision by public road to any and all entrances to the premises of shall be provided for by law. Compensation of local officials each and every plant in such area which entrances are provided for use by employees of such company, or for use by employees of independent contractors working on such premises, or for delivery of materials or supplies, other rail or water transportation, to such premises. Where individual plants provide police protection this protection shall be confined to the premises of each individual plant located in the area. Industrial areas shall not be subdivisions of the state.

Section 22. Creation of Special Districts by the Legislature; Authority

Section 22. Subject to and not inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution, the legislature by general law or by local or special law may create or authorize the creation of special districts, boards, agencies, commissions, and authorities of every type, define their powers, and grant to the special districts, boards, agencies, commissions, and authorities so created such rights, powers, and authorities as it deems proper, including, but not limited to, the power of taxation, the power to incur debt and issue bonds.

Section 23, Intergovernmental Cooperation Section 23. Any political subdivision may exercise and perform any of its authorized powers and functions, including financing, jointly or in cooperation with one or more political subdivisions, either within or without the state, with the United States or agencies thereof, except as the legislature shall provide otherwise by law.

Section 24. Assistance to Local Industry by Political Subdivisions; Deep-Water Port Commission, or Deep-Water

Post, Harbor, and Terminal Districts

Section 24. Subject to such restrictions as it may impose, the legislature may authorize any political subdivision, deep-water port commission, or deep-water port, harbor, and terminal district, in order (1) to induce and encourage the location of or addition to industrial enterprises therein which would have economic impact upon the area and thereby the state, or (2) to provide for the establishment and furnishing or such industrial plant, or (3) to provide movable or immovable property, or both, for pollution control facilities: (a) to issue bonds, subject to the approval of the State Bond Commission, or any successor thereto, and to use the funds derived from the sale thereof to acquire and improve industrial plant sites and other property necessary to the purposes thereof; (b) to acquire, through purchase, donation, exchange, and subject to Article I, Section 4, expropriation, and to improve industrial plant buildings and industrial plant equipment, machinery, furnishings, and appurtenances; and (c) to sell, lease, lease-purchase, or demolish all or any part of the foregoing.

No property expropriated under the authority of this Article shall ever, directly or indirectly, be sold or donated to any foreign power, any alien, or any corporation in which the majority of the stock is controlled by any foreign power,

The provisions of this Section shall not apply to school

Section 26. Uniform Procedure for Calling, Conducting, and

Canvassing the Returns of Certain Special Elections

Section 26. When any election is required to be held in any political subdivision pursuant to the provisions of this constitution which require submission to the electors of any proposition or question, the election shall be called, conducted, and the returns thereof canvassed, in accordance with the procedures established by law pertaining to elecincurring bonded indebtedness and special taxes relative to local finance, as the same now exists or may hereafter be amended, or as may be otherwise provided by the legislature.

Section 27. Acquisition of Property Section 27. Subject to and not incosistent with any provision of this constitution and subject to such restrictions as the legislature may provide by general law, political sub-divisions may acquire property for any public purpose, including but not limited to acquisition by purchase, donation, exprepriation, or exchange.

Section 28. Servitudes of Way; Acquisition by Prescription Section 28. The public, represented by the various local governmental subdivisions, may acquire servitudes of way by prescription in the manner prescribed by law.

Section 29. Prescription Against State

Section 29. Prescription shall not run against the state in any civil matter, unless otherwise provided in this constitution or expressly by law.

PART II. FINANCE

Section 31. Parish Tax Limits; Increase; Withdrawal of Municipality from Parish Taxing Authority

Section 31. (A) The governing authority of each parish may levy an ad valorem tax for general purposes, in an amount not to exceed in any one year, four mills on the dollar of assessed valuation. However, in Orleans Parish the limitation shall be seven mills and in Jackson Parish the limitation shall be five mills. Millage rates may be increased in any parish when approved by a majority of the electors who vote in an election held for that purpose.

(B) When the millage increase is for other than general purposes, the proposition shall state the specific purpose or purposes for which the tax is to be levied, the length of time the tax is to remain in effect, and all proceeds of the tax shall be used solely for the purpose or purposes set forth in the proposition.

(C) The amount of the parish tax for general purposes which any parish, except the parish of Orleans, may levy, without a vote of the electors, on property located wholly within any municipality, which has a population in excess of one thousand inhabitants according to the last federal decennial census, or such other census as may be provided for by law, and which provides and maintains a system of street paving, shall not exceed one-half the tax levy for general purposes.

(D) This Section shall not be construed to repeal or affect the withdrawal of property in a municipality from parochial taxing jurisdiction, in whole or in part, by a provision of the legislative charter of the municipality in effect on the date of adoption of this constitution.

Section 32. Municipal Tax Limits; Increase

Section 32. (A) The governing authority of each municipality may levy an ad valorem tax for general purposes, n an amount not to exceed in any one year, seven mills n the dollar of assessed valuation; provided that where any municipality is, by its charter or by law, exempt from payment of parish taxes or, under legislative authority, maintains its own public schools, it may levy an annual tax not to exceed ten mills of the dollar of assessed valuation. Millage rates may be increased in any municipality when approved by a majority of the electors who vote in an elecon held for that purpose.

(B) When the millage increase is for other than general purposes, the proposition shall state the specific purpose or purposes for which the tax is to be levied, the length of time the tax is to remain in effect, and all proceeds of the tax shall be used solely for the purpose or purposes set forth n the proposition.

(C) This Section shall not apply to the city of New Or-

Section 33. Local Governmental Subdivision; Occupational License Tax: Limitations

Section 33, Local governmental subdivisions may impose an occupational license tax in an amount not greater than that imposed by the state. However, those who pay municipal occupational license taxes shall be exempt from parish occupational license taxes to the extent of the municipal tax. Local governmental subdivisions may impose an occupational license tax in an amount greater than that imposed by the state when so authorized by an act passed by at least a two-thirds vote of the elected membership of each house of the legislature.

Section 34. Local Governmental Subdivisions and School Boards; Sales Tax Authorized; Limitations; Exemptions; Protection of Existing Sales Tax Authorizations and the Security of Outstanding Bonds

(A) Except as otherwise authorized in a home rule charter as provided for in Section 7 of this Article, any local governmental subdivision or school board may levy and collect a tax upon the sale at retail, the use, the lease or rental, the consumption and storage for use or consumption of tangible personal property and on sales of services as defined by law, if approved by a majority of the electors who vote in an election held for that purpose. The rate thereof, when combined with the rate of all other presently imposed or future sales and use taxes, exclusive of state sales and use taxes, levied and collected within any local governmental subdivision, shall not exceed three percent; however, the legislature may by general or special law, authorize the imposition of additional sales and use taxes by local governmental subdivisions or school boards, upon approval by the electors thereof as herein provided. Nothing contained in this Subsection shall be construed to affect any sales or use tax authorized or imposed on the effective date of this constitution or to affect or impair the security of any bonds payable from such tax.

82nd Days Proceedings—November 9, 1973

(B) Except where bonds in connection therewith have been authorized, the legislature may uniformly exempt or exclude any goods, tangible personal property, or services from sales or use taxes levied by local governmental subdivisions, school boards, and the state.

Secton 35. Political Subdivisions; Taxing Power; Limita-

Section 35. Political subdivisions may exercise the power of taxation, subject to such limitations as may be elsewhere provided in the constitution, under authority granted to them by the legislature for parish, municipal, and local purposes, strictly public in their nature. The provisions of this Section shall not apply to, nor affect, similar grants to such political subdivisions under other sections of this constitution which are self-operative.

Section 36. Special Taxes; Ratified

Section 36. (A) Any special tax being levied by any political subdivision under prior laws or under the 1921 Louisiana Constitution, as amended, when this constitution is adopted is hereby confirmed and ratified.

(B) For the purpose of acquiring, constructing, improving, maintaining and operating any work of public improve-ment, any political subdivision may levy special taxes when authorized by a majority of the electors in the political subdivision who vote in an election held for that purpose.

Section 38. Bonds of Political Subdivisions; General Obli-

Section 38. The full faith and credit of every political subdivision is hereby pledged to the payment of general obligation bonds issued by it under this constitution or the terms of the statute or proceedings pursuant to which they are issued. The governing authority of the issuing political subdivision shall levy and collect or cause to be levied and collected on all taxable property in the political subdivision ad valorem taxes fully sufficient to pay principal and interest and redemption premiums, if any, on such bonds as they mature.

Section 39. Taxpayer Authorization of Political Subdivision Bonds

Section 39. Subject to the approval of the State Bond Commission or any successor thereto, general obligation bonds may be issued only after authorization by a vote of a majority of the electors who vote on the proposition at an election in the political subdivision issuing such bonds. Bonds to refund outstanding indebtedness at the same or at a lower effective rate of interest, even though payable solely from ad valorem taxes, need not be so authorized at an election if the indebtedness refunded is paid or cancelled at the time of the delivery of the refunding bonds, or if money, or securities made eligible for such purpose by law, are deposited in escrow in an adequate amount, with interest, to be utilized solely for the purpose of retiring the refunded indebtdness or bonds and paying interest thereon and redemption premiums, if any, to the time of retirement.

Section 40. Limitations on Bonded Indebtedness of Political Subdivisions

Secton 40. The legislature shall fix the limitation on bonded indebtedness payable solely from ad valorem taxes levied by political subdivisions.

Section 41. Limited Time for Contesting Bonds of Political Subdivisions

Section 41. (A) For a period of sixty days from the promulgation of the result of any election held for the purpose of incurring or assuming debt, issuing bonds, or levying a tax, any person in interest shall have the right to contest the legality of such election, the bond issue provided for, or the tax authorized, for any cause after which time no one shall have any cause or right of action to contest the regularity, authorization, for any cause whatsoever. If the validity of any election, tax, debt assumption, or bond issue authorized or provided for, held under the provisions of this Section, is not raised within the sixty days herein prescribed, the authority to incur or assume debt, levy the tax, or issue the bonds, the legality thereof, and the taxes and other revenues necessary to pay the same shall be conclusively presumed to be valid, and no court shall have authority to inquire into such matters.

(B) Every ordinance or resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds or other debt obligation by a political subdivision shall be published at least once in the official journal of the political subdivision, or if there is none, then in a newspaper having general circulation therein. For a period of thirty days from the date of the publication any person in interest may contest the legality of the ordinance or resolution and of any provision therein made for the security and payment of the bonds. After this time, no one shall have any cause of action to test the regularity, formality, legality, or effectiveness of the ordinance or resolution, and provisions thereof for any cause whatever; and after this time it shall be conclusively presumed that every legal requirement for the issuance of the bonds or other debt obligation, including all things pertaining to the election, if any, at which the bonds or other debt obligation were authorized, has been complied with, and no court shall have authority to inquire into any such matters after the lapse of this thirty days.

Section 42. Local Improvement Assessments

Section 42. (A) The legislature shall provide by general law or by local or special law the procedures by which political subdivisions levy and collect local or special assessments on real property, for the purpose of acquiring, con-structing, or improving works of public improvement.

(B) Certificates of indebtedness may be issued to cover the cost of any such public improvement which shall be secured by the pledge of the local or special assessments levied therefor, and may be further secured by the pledge of the full faith and credit of the political subdivision.

(C) The provisions of this Section shall not apply to school boards.

Section 43. Revenue-Producing Property

Section 43. (A) The legislature may authorize political subdivisions to issue bonds or other debt obligations for the purpose of constructing, acquiring, extending, or improving any revenue-producing public utility or work of public improvement. The bonds or other debt obligations may be secured by mortgage on the lands, buildings, machinery, and equipment or by the pledge of the income and revenues of such public utility or work of public improvement and shall not be a charge upon the other income and revenues of the political subdivision.

(B) The provisions of this Section shall not apply to school boards.

PART III. LEVEE DISTRICTS

Section 44. Levee Districts

Section 44. (A) Levee districts as now organized and constituted shall continue to exist, except that:

(1) The legislature may provide for the consolidation, division, or reorganization of existing levee districts or create new levee districts. However, the members of the boards of commissioners of districts heretofore or hereafter created shall be appointed or elected from residents of such district. as provided by law;

(2) Any levee district whose flood control responsibilities are limited to and which is situated entirely within the boundaries of one parish may be merged and consolidated into such parish under the terms and conditions and in the manner provided in Section 18 of this Article. This provision shall be self-operative.

(B) No action taken hereunder shall impair the obligation of any outstanding bonded indebtedness or of any other contract of such levee district.

Section 45. District Taxes; Increase in Tax to Raise Additional Funds

Section 45. (A) For the purpose of constructing and maintaining levees, levee drainage, flood protection, hurricane flood protection, and for all other purposes incidental thereto. the governing authority of each district, may levy annually a tax not to exceed five mills on the assessed valuation, except the Board of Levee Commissioners of the Orleans Levee District which may levy annually a tax not to exceed formality, or legality of said election, tax provisions, or bond two and one-half mills on the assessed valuation of all taxable property situated within the alluvial portions of said district subject to overflow.

(B) Should the necessity to raise additional funds arise in any levee district for any of the purposes herein set forth, or for any other purpose related to its authorized powers and functions which may be specified by the legislature, the tax herein authorized may be increased. However, before taking effect, the necessity for the increase and the rate thereof shall be submitted to the electors of such district and no increase in taxes shall occur unless a majority of the electors in such district who vote in the election hereinabove provided for vote in favor thereof.

Section 46, Bond Issues

Section 46. (A) Subject to the approval of the State Bond Commission or any successor thereto, the governing body of any levee district may fund the avails of said taxes or other revenues into bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness, the proceeds thereof to be used for the purposes mentioned in this Article or for the funding or payment of any outstanding indebtedness.

(B) Bonds issued under the authority of the foregoing provision shall be sold in accordance with applicable provisions of the Louisiana Revised Statutes relating to the issuance of bonds by levee districts.

Section 48. Cooperation with Federal Government

Section 48. All governing authorities of levee districts which have been, or may be created, are authorized to cooperate with the federal government in the construction and maintenance of the levees in this state, on such terms and conditions as may be provided by the federal authorities and accepted by the levee districts.

Section 49. Compensation for Property Used or Destroyed;

Section 49. (A) Notwithstanding any other provision of this constitution, lands and improvements thereon hereafter actually used or destroyed for levees or levee drainage purposes shall be paid for as provided by law; and provided further, nothing contained in this Paragraph with respect to compensation for lands and improvements shall apply to batture or to property the control of which is vested in the state or any political subdivision thereof for the purpose of commerce.

(B) If the district has no other funds or resources out of which such payment can be made, it shall levy, on all taxable property situated within the district, a tax sufficient to pay for said property so used or destroyed to be used solely in the district where collected.

(C) Nothing contained in this Section shall prevent the appropriation of said property before payment.

PART IV. PORTS

Section 50. Ports

Section 50. All deep-water port commissions and all deepwater port, harbor, and terminal districts as they are now organized and constituted, including their powers and functions, structure and organization, and territorial jurisdiction, are ratified and confirmed and shall continue to exist, except

(A) The legislature may grant additional powers and functions to any such commission or district and may create new port commissions or port, harbor, and terminal districts;

(B) The legislature may consolidate or abolish any such commission or district or may diminish, reduce, or withdraw from any such commission or district any of its powers and functions and may affect the structure and organization, distribution, and redistribution of the powers and functions of any such commission or district, including additions or reductions of its territorial jurisdiction, only by act passed by a favorable vote of at least two-thirds of the elected membership of each house;

(C) The legislature shall make provisions with respect to the membership of the herein provided commissions. Once the membership is established it may be changed only upon a two-thirds vote of the elected members of each house of the legislature.

Section 4. State Board of Elementary and Secondary Edu-

Section 4. (A) Creation; Function. There is created a body corporate, known as the State Board of Elementary and Secondary Education. The board shall supervise, control and have budgetary responsibility for all funds appropriated or allocated by the state for all public elementary and secondary schools and special schools under its jurisdiction as provided by law. The board shall have such other specific powers, duties, and responsibilities as are provided by law but shall have no control over the business affairs of parish and municipal school boards or the selection or removal of their officers and employees

moval of their officers and employees.

(B) Membership: Terms. The board shall consist of three members who shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the Senate from the state at large, and eight members who shall be elected from single-member districts to be determined by the legislature. All members shall serve overlapping terms of six years, following the initial terms which shall be determined by the governor or the legislature as the case may be, in a manner as to effectuate this numbers.

(C) Vacancies. Vacancies occurring for any cause prior to the expiration of the term shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the remainder of the unexpired term. Members shall serve without pay except for such per diem and expenses as shall be fixed by the legislature.

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 7—
Introduced by Delegate Aertker, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Education and Welfare and Delegates Carmouche, Cowen, Flory, Hernandez, Landry, Segura, Silverburg, Thistlethwaite, Toca and Wisham:

A PROPOSAL

Making provisions for education and necessary provisions with respect thereto.

Section 7. Board of Regents

Section 7. (A) Board of Regents; establishment. There is created a body corporate known as the Board of Regents. The board shall plan, coordinate, and have budgetary responsibility for all public higher education and shall have such other powers, duties, and responsibilities as are provided in this Section and by law.

(B) Board membership; terms. The members of the board shall be appointed by the governor with the consent of the Senate for overlapping terms of six years, following initial terms which shall be fixed by law. Two of the members shall be residents of each of the congressional districts into which the state is divided, and one member shall be from the state at large.

(C) Board members; per diem and expenses. The members of the Board of Regents, Board of Supervisors of Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, Board of Trustees for State Colleges and University ties, and any other board created pursuant to this Article shall serve without pay, but the legislature may fix the per diem and expenses to be paid to them.

(D) Vacancies. A vacancy occurring prior to the expira-tion of the term shall be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by appointment by the governor, with the consent of the Senate.

(E) Powers of the board. (1) The board shall have co-ordinating responsibilities as it relates to the elementary and secondary educational curricula. (2) The board shall have the following powers, duties, and responsibilities with respect to all public institutions of higher education and post-secondary vocational-technical training and career education:

(a) To revise or eliminate any existing degree program, department of instruction, division, or similar subdivision.
(b) To approve, disapprove, or modify any proposed degree program, department of instruction, division, or similar subdivision.

(c) To study the need for and feasibility of any new institution of post-secondary education, including branches of institutions and conversion of two-year institutions to institutions offering longer courses of study. If the creation of a new institution is proposed, or an additional management board for an institution or group of institutions is proposed, or a proposal is made to transfer an existing institution from one board to another, the board shall report its findings and recommendations within one year to the legislature. Only after this written report has been filed, or if no report is filed within one year, the legislature may take affirmative action on such a proposal by vote of twothirds of the membership of each house.

85th Days Proceedings-November 14, 1973

(d) To formulate and make timely revision of a master plan for higher education and post-secondary vocationaltechnical training and career education. As a minimum, the plan shall include a formula for the equitable distribution of funds to the institutions of higher education of the state.

(e) To require the Board of Supervisors of Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, the Board of Trustees for State Colleges and Universities, and any other board hereafter created pursuant to this Section to submit to it, at times specified by it, their annual budget proposals for the operational and capital needs of each institution under the control of each. The Board of Regents shall submit its recommendations on budgets for all institutions of higher education and post-secondary vocational-technical training and career education in the state. It shall recommend priorities for capital construction and improvements.

(F) Powers not vested. Powers of management over public institutions of higher education and post-secondary vocational-technical training and career education not specarional-technical training and career education not specifically vested in the Board of Regents by this Section are reserved to the Board of Supervisors of Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College and to the Board of Trustees for State Colleges and Universities as to the institutions under the control of each or to any board created pursuant to this Section.

The Chairman announced that the Convention had under consideration Committee Proposal No. 7, Section 7, when it adjourned on Tuesday, November 13, 1973, which was taken up and acted upon as follows:

Delegate Morris sent up a floor amendment, which was read as follows:

Chairman Henry in the Chair

On motion of Delegate Stovall, the Convention altered the Order of Business to take up other Orders of Business at this time.

Delegate Dennery, Secretary of the Constitution Convention of 1973, submits the following report:

Constitutional Convention of 1973

State of Louisiana

November 15, 1973, Baton Rouge, La.

To the Chairman and Delegates of the Convention: I submit the following report:

That the following Committee Proposal has been properly re-enrolling reflecting correction of an error discovered with respect to Section 16:

COMMITTEE PROPOSAL No. 17-

Introduced by Delegate Perez, Chairman, on behalf of the Committee on Local and Parochial Government, and Delegates Burson, Cannon, Chatelain, Conino, D'Gerolamo, Fowler, Giarrusso, Hayes, Heine, J. Jackson, Kean, Lanier, Reeves, Shannon, Stephenson, Taylor, Toomy, Ullo, and Zervigon: A PROPOSAL

Making general provisions for local and parochial govern-ment, levee districts, and ports, the financing thereof, and necessary provisions with respect thereto.

Be it adopted by the Constitutional Convention of Louisiana of 1973:

ARTICLE VI. LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Section 1. Creation, Dissolution, and Merger of Parishes; Change of Parish Lines; Change of Parish Seats; Existing Parishes.

Section 1. (A) The legislature may establish and organize new parishes, dissolve and merge parishes and change parish boundaries, if two-thirds of the electors in each of the parishes affected voting at an election held for the purpose in each parish affected consent thereto.

(B) The governing authority of a parish, may call an election on the question of changing the location of the parish seat. The election shall be conducted in the manner provided by the general election laws in the state, insofar as applicable. The location of a parish seat shall be changed if two-thirds of the total vote cast at the election is in favor thereof.

(C) All parishes and their boundaries as established under existing law are recognized and ratified.

Section 3. New or Enlarged Parishes; Adjustment of Assets and Liabilities

Section 3. When a parish is enlarged or created from contiguous territory, it shall be entitled to a just proportion of the property and assets and shall be liable for a just proportion of the existing debts and liabilities of the parish or parishes from which the territory is taken.

Section 5. Municipalities; Incorporation, Consolidation,

Merger, and Government

Section 5. The legislature shall provide by general law for the incorporation, consolidation, merger, and government of municipalities. No local or special law shall be enacted to create a municipal corporation or to amend, modify, or repeal its charter. However, if a municipality is operating under a special legislative charter it may be amended. modified, or repealed by local or special law as long as such municipality continues to operate under such charter.

Section 6. Classification legislature may classify parishes or municipalities according to population or on any other reasonable basis related to the purpose of this classification, and legislation may be limited in its effect to any of such class or classes.

Section 7. Existing Home Rule Charters and Plans of

Government of Parishes and Municipalities Ratified
Section 7. Every plan of government or home rule charter existing or adopted when this constitution is adopted shall remain in effect and may be amended, modified, or repealed as provided therein. Except as inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution, each local governmental subdivi-sion which has adopted such a home rule charter or plan of government shall retain the powers, functions and duties in effect when this constitution is adopted. Each of them, if its charter permits, shall also enjoy the right to any powers and functions granted to other local governmental subdivisions.

Section 8. Home Rule Charter

Section 8. (A) Subject to and not inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution, any local governmental subdivision may draft, adopt, or amend a charter of government to be known as a home rule charter in accordance with the provisions of this Section. The governing authority of any such local governmental subdivision may appoint a commission to prepare and propose a charter or alternate charter, or may call an election for the purpose of electing such a commission.

(B) The governing authority of any such local governmental subdivision shall call an election to elect a commission to prepare and propose a charter or alternate charter when presented with a petition signed by not less than ten percent of the electors or ten thousand electors, whichever is the lesser, who live within the boundaries of the affected subdivision, as certified by the registrar of voters.

(C) A home rule charter shall be adopted, amended, or repealed when approved by a majority of the electors who vote on the proposal at an election called for that purpose.

(D) Two or more local governmental subdivisions situated within the boundaries of one parish may avail themselves of the provisions of this Section, provided that a majority of the electors in each affected local governmental subdivision who vote in an election held for that purpose vote in favor thereof. The legislature shall provide for the method of appointment or election of a commission to prepare and propose such a charter consistent with Paragraph (A) of this Section. However, at least one member of the commission shall be elected or appointed from each affected local governmental subdivision. The legislature shall provide the method by which the electors of more than one local governmental subdivision within the boundaries of one parish may petition for an election for such purpose consistent with Paragraph (B) of this Section.

(E) A home rule charter adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Section shall provide for the structure and organization, powers, and functions for the government of the local governmental subdivision, which may include the exercise of any power and performance of any function necessary, requisite, or proper for the management of its affairs, not denied by general law or inconsistent with any provision of this constitution. The legislature shall not pass any law the effect of which changes, modifies, or affects the structure and organization and/or the particular distribution and redistribution of the powers and functions of any local governmental subdivision which operates under a home rule charter.

(F) A local governmental subdivision adopting a home rule charter under this Section shall also enjoy such additional powers and functions as are granted to local governmental subdivisions by other provisions of this constitution, unless the exercise of such powers and performance of such functions is prohibited by its charter.

(G) No home rule charter or plan of local government shall contain any provision inconsistent with this constitu-tion or any law now or hereafter enacted which affects the offices of district attorney, sheriff, assessor, clerk of a district court, coroner, parish school board, or city school board.

(H) Notwithstanding any provision of this Article to the contrary, the courts and their officers may be established or affected only as provided in Article V of this constitu-

Section 9. Powers of Other Local Governmental Subdivi-

Section 9. (A) Subject to and not inconsistent with any Section 6. Except as provided in this constitution, the provision of this constitution, the governing authority of any other local governmental subdivision may exercise any power and perform any function necessary, requisite, or proper for the management of the affairs of the local governmental subdivision not denied by its charter or by general law, provided that a majority of the electors in the affected local governmental subdivision who vote in an election held for that purpose vote in favor of the proposition that such governing authority may exercise such general powers. In the absence of such a favorable vote, such local governmental subdivision shall have such powers as authorized by this constitution or by law.

(B) Nothing contained in this Section shall be construed to affect the powers and functions of a parish or city school board and the offices of district attorney, sheriff,

clerk of a district court, coroner, or assessor.

(C) Notwithstanding any provision of this Article to the contrary, the courts and their officers may be established or affected only as provided in Article V of this constitution.

Section 11. Home Rule Parish; Incorporation of Cities,

Towns, and Villages

Section 11. No parish plan of government or home rule charter shall prohibit the incorporation of cities, towns, or villages as provided by general law.

Section 12. Limitations of Local Governmental Subdivi-

Section 12. (A) Local governmental subdivisions shall not: (1) define and provide for the punishment of a felony; or (2) except as may be provided by law, enact private or civil ordinances governing civil relationships.

(B) Notwithstanding any provision of this Article, the police power of the state shall never be abridged.

Section 12.1. Codification of Ordinances Section 12.1. The governing authority of each political subdivision shall within two years of the effective date of the adoption of this constitution, cause a code to be prepared containing all of the ordinances of the political subdivision of general application which are appropriate for continua-When the code shall have been prepared the tion as law. governing authority of the political subdivision shall cause copies of the same to be prepared and made available for public distribution. All proposed ordinances of general application adopted after the approval of the code shall be adopted as amendments or additions to the code.

Section 13. Local Officials Section 13. The electors of each local governmental sub-division shall have the exclusive right to elect their governing authority. Nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit the election of the members of any governing authority on the basis of single member districts. Section 14. Local Officials; Compensation

Section 14. The compensation or method of fixing the compensation of a local elected official of any local governmental subdivision which operates under a home rule charter or plan of government as provided in Sections 7 and 8 of this Article, shall be provided in its charter. The compensation or method of fixing the compensation of local elected officials of any other local governmental subdivision shall be provided for by law. Compensation of local officials shall not be reduced during the terms for which they are elected.

Section 15. Filling of Vacancies; Appointment Section 15. (A) Except as otherwise provided in this constitution, and except for the office of assessor, a vacancy in any local office filled by election wholly within the boundaries of a local governmental subdivision or a parish or city school district, shall be filled by appointment by the governing authority of such local governmental subdivision or school district in which the vacancy occurs, until it is filled by election as provided by law.

(B) The provisions of this Section shall apply to all local governmental subdivisions unless otherwise provided by the home rule charter or the home rule plan of government of the affected local governmental subdivisions.

Section 16. Legislation Increasing Financial Burden of Political Subdivisions; Local Approval

Section 16. No law requiring an increase in expenditures for wages, hours, working conditions, pension and retirement benefits, vacation or sick leave benefits of political subdivi- cluding financing, jointly or in cooperation with one or more sion employees, except a law providing for civil service, minimum wages, working conditions, and retirement benefits for firemen and municipal policemen, shall have effect until approved by ordinance enacted by the governing authority of the political subdivision affected thereby or until the legislature appropriates funds to the affected political subdivision for that purpose and only to the extent and amount that such funds are provided. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as applying to parish and municipal school boards.

Section 17. Governing Authorities of Local Governmental

Subdivisions; Control Over Agencies They Create

Section 17. The governing authority of a local governmental subdivision shall have general power over any agency heretofore or hereafter created by it, including, without limitation, the power to abolish any such agency and to require prior approval of any charge or tax levied, or bond issued by such agency.

Section 18. Special Districts and Local Public Agencies;

Consolidation, Merger, and Assumption of Debt

Section 18. (A) Any local governmental subdivision may consolidate and merge into itself any special district or local public agency, except a school district, situated and having jurisdiction entirely within the boundaries of such local gove:nmental subdivision. Upon such merger and consolidation the local governmental subdivision shall succeed to and be vested with all of the rights, revenues, resources, jurisdiction, authority, and powers of such special district or local public agency. No such merger and consolidation shall take effect unless a majority of the electors voting thereon in the local governmental subdivision as a whole and also a majority of the electors voting thereon in the affected special district vote in favor of such proposition. No such action involving a local public agency shall take effect unless a majority of the electors voting thereon in the local governmental subdivision in which the local public agency is located vote in favor thereof in an election held for that purpose.

(B) If the special district or local public agency which is consolidated and merged has any outstanding indebtedness, the authority provided for by this Section shall not be exercised unless provision is made for the assumption of such indebtedness by the governing authority or authorities of the local governmental subdivisions involved.

Section 19. Land Use, Zoning and Historic Preservation Section 19. Subject to uniform legislatively established procedures, local governmental subdivisions shall have authority (1) to adopt regulations for land use, zoning and historic preservation, which authority is declared to be a public purpose; (2) to create commissions and districts to implement same; (3) to review decisions of any such commissions; (4) and to adopt standards for use, construction, demolition and modification of areas and structures. Existing constitutional authority for historic preservation districts is retained.

Section 21. Industrial Areas

Section 21. The legislature may authorize parishes to create and define industrial areas within their boundaries in accordance with such procedures and subject to such regulations as the legislature shall determine. All industrial areas so created hereafter shall include provisions for access by public road to any and all entrances to the premises of each and every plant in such area which entrances are provided for use by employees of such company, or for use by employees of independent contractors working on such premises, or for delivery of materials or supplies, other than by rail or water transportation, to such premises.
Where individual plants provide police protection this protection shall be confined to the premises of each individual plant located in the area. Industrial areas shall not be subdivisions of the state.

Section 22. Creation of Special Districts by the Legisla-

ture; Authority

Section 22. Subject to and not inconsistent with the provisions of this constitution, the legislature by general law or by local or special law may create or authorize the creation of special districts, boards, agencies, commissions, and authorities of every type, define their powers, and grant to the special districts, boards, agencies, commissions, and authorities so created such rights, powers, and authorities as it deems proper, including, but not limited to, the power of taxation, the power to incur debt and issue bonds.

Section 23. Intergovernmental Cooperation

Section 23. Any political subdivision may exercise and perform any of its authorized powers and functions, in-political subdivisions, either within or without the state, with the United States or agencies thereof, except as the legislature shall provide otherwise by law.

86th Days Proceedings—November 15, 1973

Section 24. Assistance to Local Industry by Political Sub-divisions; Deep-Water Port Commission, or Deep-Water

Port, Harbor, and Terminal Districts

Section 24. Subject to such restrictions as it may impose, the legislature may authorize any political subdivision, deep-water port commission, or deep-water port, harbor, and terminal district, in order (1) to induce and encourage the location of or addition to industrial enterprises therein which would have economic impact upon the area and thereby the state, or (2) to provide for the establishment and furnishing of such industrial plant, or (3) to provide movable or immovable property, or both, for pollution control facilities: (a) to issue bonds, subject to the approval of the State Bond Commission, or any successor thereto, and to use the funds derived from the sale thereof to acquire and improve industrial plant sites and other property necessary to the purposes thereof; (b) to acquire, through purchase, donation, exchange, and subject to Article I, Section 4, expropriation, and to improve industrial plant buildings and industrial plant equipment, machinery, furnishings, and appurtenances; and (c) to sell, lease, lease-purchase, or demolish all or any part of the foregoing.

No property expropriated under the authority of this Article shall ever, directly or indirectly, be sold or donated to any foreign power, any alien, or any corporation in which the majority of the stock is controlled by any foreign power, alien corporation, or alien.

The provisions of this Section shall not apply to school boards.

Section 26. Uniform Procedure for Calling, Conducting, and Canvassing the Returns of Certain Special Elections Section 26. When any election is required to be held in any political subdivision pursuant to the provisions of this constitution which require submission to the electors of any proposition or question, the election shall be called, conducted, and the returns thereof canvassed, in accordance with the procedures established by law pertaining to elections for incurring bonded indebtedness and special taxes relative to local finance, as the same now exists or may hereafter be amended, or as may be otherwise provided by the legislature.

Section 27. Acquisition of Property Section 27. Subject to and not inconsistent with any provision of this constitution and subject to such restrictions as the legislature may provide by general law, political sub-divisions may acquire property for any public purpose, in-cluding but not limited to acquisition by purchase, donation, expropriation, or exchange.

Section 28. Servitudes of Way; Acquisition by Prescrip-

Section 28. The public, represented by the various local governmental subdivisions, may acquire servitudes of way by prescription in the manner prescribed by law.

Section 29. Prescription Against State

Section 29. Prescription shall not run against the state in any civil matter, unless otherwise provided in this constitution or expressly by law

Section 31. Parish Tax Limits; Increase; Withdrawal of

Municipality from Parish Taxing Authority

Section 31. (A) The governing authority of each parish may levy an ad valorem tax for general purposes, in an amount not to exceed in any one year, four mills on the dollar of assessed valuation. However, in Orleans Parish the limitation shall be seven mills and in Jackson Parish the limitation shall be five mills. Millage rates may be increased in any parish when approved by a majority of the electors who vote in an election held for that purpose.

- (B) When the millage increase is for other than general purposes, the proposition shall state the specific purpose or purposes for which the tax is to be levied, the length of time the tax is to remain in effect, and all proceeds of the tax shall be used solely for the purpose or purposes set forth in the proposition.
- (C) The amount of the parish tax for general purposes which any parish, except the parish of Orleans, may levy, without a vote of the electors, on property located wholly within any municipality, which has a population in excess of one thousand inhabitants according to the last federal decennial census, or such other census as may be provided for by law, and which provides and maintains a system of street paving, shall not exceed one-half the tax levy for general purposes.

(D) This Section shall not be construed to repeal or affect the withdrawal of property in a municipality from parochial taxing jurisdiction, in whole or in part, by a provision of the legislative charter of the municipality in effect on the date of adoption of this constitution.

Section 32. Municipal Tax Limits; Increase

Section 32. (A) The governing authority of each municipality may levy an ad valorem tax for general purposes, in an amount not to exceed in any one year, seven mills on the dollar of assessed valuation; provided that where any municipality is, by its charter or by law, exempt from payment of parish taxes or, under legislative authority, maintains its own public schools, it may levy an annual tax not to exceed ten mills of the dollar of assessed valuation. Millage rates may be increased in any municipality when approved by a majority of the electors who vote in an election held for that purpose.

(B) When the millage increase is for other than general purposes, the proposition shall state the specific purpose or purposes for which the tax is to be levied, the length of time the tax is to remain in effect, and all proceeds of the tax shall be used solely for the purpose or purposes set forth in the proposition.

(C) This Section shall not apply to the city of New Or-

Section 33. Local Governmental Subdivision; Occupational

License Tax; Limitations

Section 33. Local governmental subdivisions may impose an occupational license tax in an amount not greater than that imposed by the state. However, those who pay municipal occupational license taxes shall be exempt from parish occupational license taxes to the extent of the municipal tax. Local governmental subdivisions may impose an occupational license tax in an amount greater than that imposed by the state when so authorized by an act passed by at least a twothirds vote of the elected membership of each house of the legislature.

Section 34. Local Governmental Subdivisions and School Boards; Sales Tax Authorized; Limitations; Exceptions; Protection of Existing Sales Tax Authorizations and the Security

of Outstanding Bonds

(A) Except as otherwise authorized in a home rule charter as provided for in Section 7 of this Article, any local governmental subdivision or school board may levy and collect a tax upon the sale at retail, the use, the lease or rental, the consumption and storage for use or consumption of tangible personal property and on sales of services as defined by law, if approved by a majority of the electors who vote in an election held for that purpose. The rate thereof, when com-bined with the rate of all other presently imposed or future sales and use taxes, exclusive of state sales and use taxes, levied and collected within any local governmental subdivision, shall not exceed three percent; however, the legislature may by general or special law, authorize the imposition of additional sales and use taxes by local governmental subdivisions or school boards, upon approval by the electors thereof as herein provided. Nothing contained in this Sub-section shall be construed to affect any sales or use tax authorized or imposed on the effective date of this constitution or to affect or impair the security of any bonds payable from such tax.

(B) Except where bonds in connection therewith have been authorized, the legislature may uniformly exempt or exclude any goods, tangible personal property, or services from sales or use taxes levied by local governmental subdivisions, school boards, and the state.

Section 35. Political Subdivisions; Taxing Power; Limita-

Section 35. Political subdivisions may exercise the power of taxation, subject to such limitations as may be elsewhere provided in the constitution, under authority granted to them by the legislature for parish, municipal, and local purposes, strictly public in their nature. The provisions of this Section shall not apply to, nor affect, similar grants to such political subdivisions under other sections of this constitution which are self-operative.

Section 36. Special Taxes; Ratified

Section 36. (A) Any special tax being levied by any politi-

86th Days Proceedings-November 15, 1973

cal subdivision under prior laws or under the 1921 Louisiana Constitution, as amended, when this constitution is adopted is hereby confirmed and ratified. (B) For the purpose of acquiring, constructing, improving, maintaining and operating any work of public improvement, any political subdivision may levy special taxes when authorized by a majority of the electors in the political subdivision who vote in an election held for that purpose.

Section 38. Bonds of Political Subdivisions; General Obligations

Section 38. The full faith and credit of every political subdivision is hereby pledged to the payment of general obliga-tion bonds issued by it under this constitution or the terms of the statute or proceedings pursuant to which they are issued. The governing authority of the issuing political subdivision shall levy and collect or cause to be levied and collected on all taxable property in the political subdivision ad valorem taxes fully sufficient to pay principal and interest and redemption premiums, if any, on such bonds as they mature.

Section 39. Taxpayer Authorization of Political Subdivision

Section 39. Subject to the approval of the State Bond Commission or any successor thereto, general obligation bonds may be issued only after authorization by a vote of a majority of the electors who vote on the proposition at an election in the political subdivision issuing such bonds. Bonds to refund outstanding indebtedness at the same or at a lower effective rate of interest, even though payable solely from ad valorem taxes, need not be so authorized at an election if the indebtedness refunded is paid or cancelled at the time of the delivery of the refunding bonds, or if money, or securities made eligible for such purpose by law, are deposited in escrow in an adequate amount, with interest, to be utilized solely for the purpose of retiring the refunded indebtedness or bonds and paying interest thereon and redemption premiums, if any, to the time of retirement.

Section 40. Limitations on Bonded Indebtedness of Political

Subdivisions

Section 40. The legislature shall fix the limitation on bonded indebtedness payable solely from ad valorem taxes levied by political subdivisions, Section 41. Limited Time for Contesting Bonds of Political

Subdivisions

Section 41. (A) For a period of sixty days from the promulgation of the result of any election held for the purpose of incurring or assuming debt, issuing bonds, or levying a tax, any person in interest shall have the right to contest the legality of such election, the bond issue provided for, or the tax authorized, for any cause after which time no one shall have any cause or right of action to contest the regularity, formality, or legality of said election, tax provisions, or bond authorization, for any cause whatsoever. If the validity of any election, tax, debt assumption, or bond issue authorized or provided for, held under the provisions of this Section, is not raised within the sixty days herein prescribed, the authority to incur or assume debt, levy the tax, or issue the bonds, the legality thereof, and the taxes and other revenues necessary to pay the same shall be conclusively presumed to be valid, and no court shall have authority to inquire into such matters.

(B) Every ordinance or resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds or other debt obligation by a political subdivision shall be published at least once in the official journal of the political subdivision, or if there is none, then in a newspaper having general circulation therein. For a period of thirty days from the date of the publication any person in interest may contest the legality of the ordinance or resolution and of any provision therein made for the security and payment of the bonds. After this time, no one shall have any cause of action to test the regularity, formality, legality, or effectiveness of the ordinance or resolution, and provisions thereof for any cause whatever; and after this time it shall be conclusively presumed that every legal requirement for the issuance of the bonds or other debt obligation, including all things pertaining to the election, if any, at which the bonds or other debt obligation were authorized, has been complied with, and no court shall have authority to inquire into any such matters after the lapse of this thirty days.

Section 42. Local Improvement Assessments

Section 42. (A) The legislature shall provide by general law or by local or special law the procedures by which political subdivisions levy and collect local or special assessments on real property, for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, or improving works of public improvement.

(B) Certificates of indebtedness may be issued to cover the cost of any such public improvement which shall be secured by the pledge of the local or special assessments levied therefor, and may be further secured by the pledge of the full faith and credit of the political subdivision.

(C) The provisions of this Section shall not apply to school boards.

Section 43. Revenue-Producing Property

Section 43. (A) The legislature may authorize political subdivisions to issue bonds or other debt obligations for the purpose of constructing, acquiring, extending, or improving any revenue-producing public utility or work of public improvement. The bonds or other debt obligations may be secured by mortgage on the lands, buildings, machinery, and equipment or by the pledge of the income and revenues of such public utility or work of public improvement and shall not be a charge upon the other income and revenues of the political subdivision.

(B) The provisions of this Section shall not apply to school

PART III. LEVEE DISTRICTS

Section 44. Levee Districts

Section 44. (A) Levee districts as now organized and constituted shall continue to exist, except that:

(1) The legislature may provide for the consolidation, division, or reorganization of existing levee districts or create new levee districts. However, the members of the boards of commissioners of districts heretofore or hereafter created shall be appointed or elected from residents of such district, as provided by law;

(2) Any levee district whose flood control responsibilities are limited to and which is situated entirely within the boundaries of one parish may be merged and consolidated into such parish under the terms and conditions and in the manner provided in Section 18 of this Article. This provision shall be self-operative.

(B) No action taken hereunder shall impair the obligation of any outstanding bonded indebtedness or of any other contract of such levee district.

Section 45. District Taxes; Increase in Tax to Raise Additional Funds

Section 45. (A) For the purpose of constructing and maintaining levees, levee drainage, flood protection, hurricane flood protection, and for all other purposes incidental thereto, the governing authority of each district, may levy annually a tax not to exceed five mills on the assessed valuation, except the Board of Levee Commissioners of the Orleans Levee District which may levy annually a tax not to exceed two and one-half mills on the assessed valuation of all taxable property situated within the alluvial portions of said district subject to overflow.

(B) Should the necessity to raise additional funds arise in any levee district for any of the purposes herein set forth, or for any other purpose related to its authorized powers and functions which may be specified by the legislature, the tax herein authorized may be increased. However, before taking effect, the necessity for the increase and the rate thereof shall be submitted to the electors of such district and no increase in taxes shall occur unless a majority of the electors in such district who vote in the election hereinabove provided for vote in favor thereof.

Section 46. Bond Issues

Section 46. (A) Subject to the approval of the State Bond Commission or any successor thereto, the governing body of any levee district may fund the avails of said taxes or other revenues into bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness, the proceeds thereof to be used for the purposes mentioned in this Article or for the funding or payment of any outstanding indebtedness.

(B) Bonds issued under the authority of the foregoing provision shall be sold in accordance with applicable provisions of the Louisiana Revised Statutes relating to the issuance of bonds by levee districts.

Section 48. Cooperation with Federal Government

Section 48. All governing authorities of levee districts which have been, or may be created, are authorized to cooperate with the federal government in the construction and maintenance of the levees in this state, on such terms and conditions as may be provided by the federal authorities and accepted by the levee districts.

Section 49. Compensation for Property Used or Destroyed;

Tax

Section 49. (A) Notwithstanding any other provision of this constitution, lands and improvements thereon hereafter actually used or destroyed for levees or levee drainage purposes shall be paid for as provided by law; and provided further, nothing contained in this Paragraph with respect to compensation for lands and improvements shall apply to batture or to property the control of which is vested in the state or any political subdivision thereof for the purpose of commerce.

(B) If the district has no other funds or resources out of which such payment can be made, it shall levy, on all taxable property situated within the district, a tax sufficient to pay for said property so used or destroyed to be used solely in the district where collected.

(C) Nothing contained in this Section shall prevent the appropriation of said property before payment.

PART IV. PORTS

Section 50. Ports

Section 50. All deep-water port commissions and all deepwater port, harbor, and terminal districts as they are now organized and constituted, including their powers and functions, structure and organization, and territorial jurisdiction, are ratified and confirmed and shall continue to exist, except that:

(A) The legislature may grant additional powers and functions to any such commission or district and may create new port commissions or port, harbor, and terminal districts;

(B) The legislature may consolidate or abolish any such commission or district or may diminish, reduce, or withdraw from any such commission or district any of its powers and functions and may affect the structure and organization, distribution, and redistribution of the powers and functions of any such commission or district, including additions or reductions of its territorial jurisdiction, only by act passed by a favorable vote of at least two-thirds of the elected membership of each house;

(C) The legislature shall make provisions with respect to the membership of the herein provided commissions. Once the membership is established it may be changed only upon a two-thirds vote of the elected members of each house of the legislature.
